ICE CAUSES PLANE CRASH, KILLING 13

Citrus Houses Spending Quarter Million to Prepare for Harvest

SPOT FROSTED FRUIT WITH X-RAYS

New Devices Are to Be Installed in Nearly All Plants

Citrus packing plants in Orange county today launched plans for the Valencia orange season.

Forty-five packing houses will spend about a quarter of a million dollars in new equipment for separating frozen fruit from good fruit.

Most of this huge sum will be expended for fluoroscopes with which to x-ray the fruit which shows evidence of frost damage. In normal years this type of fruit separation is not necessary.

Procedure to be followed in most of the houses is to install water separators, through which all the fruit will be run. Oranges damaged by the frost dry up and become light, floating at the top of the water separator tanks. These oranges which float then will be run through the fluoroscopes, the cost of which is about $2500 per unit. Many will use two fluoroscopes, and some will use as many as four. It is expected that about 15 to 20 per cent of the entire Valencia crop will be run through fluoroscopes.

Practically every packing house in the county will have at least one fluoroscope, the cost of which is about $2500 per unit. Many will use two fluoroscopes, and some will use as many as four. It is expected that about 15 to 20 per cent of the entire Valencia crop will be run through fluoroscopes.

GOOD FRIDAY STILLS ROME

ROME. (AP)—Catholics flocked to the city's 400 churches today to take part in Good Friday services.

Their prayers were particularly fervent as their thoughts turned to Pope Pius XI, who many had believed would not live to observe this Good Friday.

Between noon and 3 p. m., the hours Christ hung on the cross, Rome's activity was hushed. Shops were closed and streets were almost deserted as the churches absorbed a large part of the population.

The great pealing bells were stilled in a silence which will be broken when they ring forth with glad tidings Saturday noon. At that hour the Holy Sacrament will be returned to the main altar of St. Peter's from the Pauline Chapel in joyous observance of the resurrection.

Fifty More Men Will Get Jobs

Crew on the county squirrel control project was boosted by 50 men today, it was announced by Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs.

There now are 80 men working on the project on ranches throughout the county. Poison grain is deposited in holes used by the squirrels, which despoil grain and carry diseases. The work has been going on for three weeks now under a WPA project.

Smudge Pots in Capital!

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Fires of smudge pots warmed the capital's famous Japanese cherry trees this morning because of a sudden drop in temperature.

Workers lighted wood burners beneath the bud-laden branches, scene of the cherry blossom festival which annually draws thousands of visitors.

Medics Block Okech on Health Insurance Bill

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—The California Medical association won one of the most hotly contested skirmishes of the present legislative session today when it temporarily blocked committee approval of the Welsh group health insurance bill.

Supported by Assemblyman Earl Desmond, Sacramento, the physicians prevailed on the committee not to take action on Welsh's measure until an effort is made to have the medical association bill referred to the committee for simultaneous consideration.

ARMY BOOSTS WATER PLAN

Local Program Soon Up For Action By River And Harbor Unit

A crucial point in Orange county's $5,000,000 flood control project was reached today.

Two high U. S. army engineers sped toward Washington today, carrying with them details of the huge water program for presentation to national authorities.

They are Major Theo. Wynman Jr., Southern California divisional army engineer, and Col. John J. Kingman, Southern Pacific Coast chief engineer. Both will go to bat for Orange county's project when they reach Washington.

Lieut. H. Milwit, of the Southern California army engineer's office, confirmed the departure of the two high army officials on their mission for Orange county today. He said Major Wynman and Colonel Kingman will appear before the river and harbor board of engineers on the Orange county project.

Lieutenant Milwit pointed out that the step now being taken is of utmost importance. He said that approval by the river and harbor board, comprised of the highest army engineers next to the chief engineer, is tantamount to approval of the entire program by congress.

Expect Action Soon
Recommendations of the river and harbor board are invariably accepted by the chief engineer, he said, and appropriations for launching work normally are granted soon after the recommendations have been approved. He said Major Wynman and Colonel Kingman left on their mission to Washington last night.

Major Wynman previously had told The Journal that he would leave for Washington when the Orange county flood control project, on which the government expects to spend about $13,000,000, was scheduled to come before the river and harbor board. Because of this statement, it was assumed that he had received word that consideration of the Orange county project is imminent.

Two Poisoned By Fish Meal

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Hilda Caldwell, 24, and Velma Burke, 21, were treated at a hospital today for food poisoning after eating fish at a restaurant.

"We will stage a festival with blossoms or no festival at all," declared Charles J. Columbus, secretary of the fete committee.

The ceremony, commemorating the gift of the trees from Japan, will take place between April 2 and April 8, depending on the time the buds open.

TWO H. B. OIL MEASURES AMENDED

Talbert Stirs Hearing With $300,000 Slush Fund Accusations

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—The Rich-Swing and Olson oil bills today were before the senate again, but in slightly different form than when withdrawn from the senate floor earlier this week.

Senator Swing, San Bernardino, appearing before the oil industries committee, offered amendments removing the 16 2/3 per cent minimum royalty provision from his bill and providing exclusively for slantwise drilling from the uplands, at Huntington Beach.

Change Incomplete
Although Senator Olson, Los Angeles, has not completed his amendments the committee nevertheless sent it with the Rich-Swing measure to the senate without recommendation.

Olson's bill, after it is amended, will call for drilling on the state's tidelands at Huntington Beach. He will not attempt to change the provision calling for 30 per cent minimum royalty.

T. B. Talbert, former mayor of Huntington Beach, enlivened the committee hearing by the declaration that oil companies holding drilling easement rights in the state's tidelands oil field raised $300,000 to complete the recent agreements with the state—the money being expended for organization, legal fees and "high binders, politicians and crooks."

Fails to Elaborate
He did not elaborate upon his statement.

The city of Huntington Beach is seeking a share in the royalty the state is to receive in exchange for which drills into the state's oil pool, and Senator Westover, Santa Ana, has an amendment ready which will provide the city receive 5 per cent of any money the state obtains from its tideland oil pool.

STOLEN CHICKEN 'SQUAWKED'

Joe T. McElmurry, Stanton, found today that he and Superior Judge James L. Allen used to work for the same oil company in Oklahoma, but that didn't help him explain the theft of 20 chickens.

McElmurry pleaded guilty on the chicken theft charge, but then told Judge Allen he had made no thefts in Orange county. He stole chickens in Los Angeles county, he said.

Judge Allen wanted to know how he stole chickens without having them squawk. McElmurry didn't know, but said they didn't squawk. But later he told Judge Allen:

"It sure looks now like they must have."

McElmurry was to undergo more questioning this afternoon.

Rescue Three Boys From Surf

SANTA MONICA. (AP)—Life guards early today rescued three young men from the surf. Robert Harvey, 18; Herbert Lessler, 18, and Steve Johnson, an auto park employee, were pulled from the sea. Police booked Harvey on charges of drunkenness. Lessler and Johnson were trying to rescue Harvey when the life guards came to their assistance.

State Official Is Re-appointed

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Governor Merriam today announced the re-appointment of Mrs. Mabel E. Kinney, Santa Monica, as chief of the bureau of industrial welfare. Her new term will expire Jan. 15, 1941.

New Ambassador

Dr. Hans Heinrich Dieckhoff (above), chief of the American section of the German foreign office, has been named as the Third Reich's next ambassador to the United States. He succeeds Dr. Hans Luther. Dieckhoff previously served in Washington as counselor of embassy and charge d'affaires. (Associated Press Photo)

DEATH TAKES F. L. MAYTAG

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—F. L. Maytag, 80, founder of a nationally-known washing machine company, died early today at Good Samaritan hospital.

Dr. William H. Leake said the manufacturer, whose home was in Newton, Iowa, succumbed to a chronic heart condition.

Maytag was born in Elgin, Ill., and was educated in rural schools. A farmer first, he began his business career as an implement salesman and then became an executive of a lumber concern. He entered manufacturing in 1893, and since 1907 had built washing machines bearing his name.

A philanthropist, he was active as a civic leader until his retirement because of old age several years ago.

Among the largest of his donations was a gift of $250,000 to the Y. M. C. A. of Newton, Ia., in addition to many thousands of dollars to various midwestern colleges. On his 70th birthday he distributed $132,000 to his employees.

From 1902 to 1912 he was a member of the Iowa state senate. He served as mayor of Newton from 1923 to 1925, and in 1925 was made the first director of the Iowa state budget.

Awarded Medal
In 1926 the Home Appliance Merchants of America presented him with a $25,000 gold medal in recognition of outstanding services in originating and manufacturing electrical home appliances.

Wire Reports Willard Smith Blocked S. A. Police Radio

The mysterious "somebody" who blocked Police Chief Floyd Howard's plan for a Santa Ana police radio station was Willard Smith, chairman of the county board of supervisors.

After three days of wondering who filed the protest which temporarily stopped plans for the city police radio, Chief Howard learned his identity today. He received a telegram from the federal communications commission in Washington in reply to a query he had sent when he was informed a protest had been filed.

The protest, according to the telegram, was signed "Willard Smith, chairman of the board of supervisors, Orange county." Supervisors had taken no action on the matter in open meeting, nor had it been discussed by them in public.

EVENT IS TO BE IN BOWL SATURDAY

Journal and KVOE Join In Conducting Fete For Children

Tomorrow's the day!

When the clock rolls around to 10 tomorrow morning, several thousand Orange county kids will give a first-class demonstration of Easter egg hunting as The Journal and KVOE conduct their second annual Easter egg hunt in the Municipal bowl.

Tonight, after boys and girls are in bed, the long-eared Easter bunny will sink into the bowl and hide thousands of prizes for the youngsters to uncover tomorrow morning.

City Councilman Ernest Layton, after the bunny has gone, will make a last-minute checkup to see that everything is in order; police officers will warm up their best smiles ready to assist with the crowd—and the stage will be set.

The thousands of youngsters—expected to make even a larger crowd than the one last year—will be divided into two groups for the hunt. Those from one to seven years of age will be in one group, and those from eight through 12 in another. Which will even things up and make certain that there will be prizes for all.

Prizes? Exactly 10,000 of "bowl" eggs. Enough to feather the nests of several thousand Easter bunnies.

Included in the treasure which the kids will uncover tomorrow morning are 10,000 candy Easter eggs from the Safeway stores, 500 ice cream cups from the Excelsior creamery, a Parker pencil set from the Asher Jewelry company, a polo shirt from Brooks, tickets for 20 Majestic matinee shows, two pairs of roller skates from the Famous department store, a fountain pen, Brownie kodak, two scrap books and a loose leaf notebook from Stein's stationery store, and two cases of R. C. Cola from the Nehi bottling works.

The time is 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The place is the Santa Ana Municipal bowl. Follow the crowd!

BOGUS SWEEPS CHIEF NABBED

BOSTON. (AP)—John P. Cooley, 44, of Longmeadow, described by officials as the operator of a bogus Canadiana sweepstakes, was held in $15,000 bail for the federal grand jury today by U. S. Commissioner Harry N. Guterman. Prosecuting officials, at the time of Cooley's arrest, described the alleged lottery as a $5,000,000 racket.

Cooley pleaded innocent and waived a hearing on charges of using the mails in a scheme to defraud and transporting lottery tickets.

ESPEE MEN TAKE STRIKE VOTE

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—A strike vote was started today among the 8000 union railway member employees of the Southern Pacific railroad because union spokesmen declared the company had violated pay agreements and failed to recognize the brotherhoods in labor disputes.

French went to the home of Charles Chapman, a neighbor of McCracken, where he surrendered to Night Jailor George Kelly.

Harry French was not directly connected with his father in the publishing business. He was an employee of the state board of equalization, is married and has one child.

Local Carburetor Factory Will Give 2300 Men Work

Orange county was promised a new industry today—a factory manufacturing a revolutionary new carburetor, which eventually will employ 2300 men.

Leonard DeMarcellon of Newport Beach said he would start production on his gas-saving carburetor as soon as Federal Air department approval is received for the invention. The department's division of engineers must report before final action is taken, he said.

Awaits Certificate
DeMarcellon said he has definitely decided to locate his plant in Orange county, and is now awaiting only receipt of an approved type certificate from the Federal Air department for use of his carburetor on airplanes before putting the sensational new device on the market.

The average automobile, he said today, secures only about 30 per cent of the potential power from gasoline. The new device breaks up molecules of gasoline by a secret process which produces a dry gas and at the same time measures it in cubic centimeters into the cylinders, the inventor said.

Makes Dry Gas
Introduction of the dry gas into the cylinders results in curtailment of sulphuric acid dilution in the crankcase, the cause of sludge and acidity, DeMarcellon added, thus cutting down automobile repair bills.

In airplane engines the new carburetor will cut down gasoline consumption by at least one-third without loss of power or revolutions per minute, he said.

Two automobiles at present are conducting 10,000-mile cross country runs, testing the new device, the inventor added, pointing out that even before he has placed the revolutionary invention on the market, 600 orders have been received.

EDITOR SLAIN AT ALTURAS

Rival Publisher's Son Is Held; Newspaper Feud Is Blamed

ALTURAS. (AP)—A newspaper feud in this Siskiyou mountain town was blamed today by Sheriff John Sharp for the killing of Claude L. McCracken, 46, editor of the mimeographed Modoc Daily Mail.

McCracken was fatally shot last night as he ate dinner in his home with two young women.

Sheriff Sharp held Harry French, 30, on open charges. French is the son of a Modoc county pioneer, Bard French, publisher of the Alturas Weekly Plain Dealer.

Rivalry Is Cause
"The papers have been battling back and forth on every issue that has come up," the sheriff said. "I think the shooting was due to hard feelings aroused by this rivalry."

McCracken died in a hospital last night, four hours after the shooting. Five bullets from a .22 caliber automatic pistol had pierced his breast and abdomen.

Sharp said McCracken was eating in his kitchen with Miss Donna Corwell, his business partner on the Mail, and a family friend, Miss Evelyn Olin.

Mrs. McCracken was on duty at Modoc General hospital where she is a nurse. She was assigned to attend her dying husband when he was brought in.

District Attorney K. A. Wylie, who said he would file first degree murder charges against French today, described the controversies between the two newspapers as trivial.

Wylie said McCracken told him at the hospital French entered the kitchen without knocking and started shooting. McCracken tried to run to the sink to "get a knife," but had fainted before he reached it.

French went to the home of Charles Chapman, a neighbor of McCracken, where he surrendered to Night Jailor George Kelly.

Harry French was not directly connected with his father in the publishing business. He was an employee of the state board of equalization, is married and has one child.

AIRLINER AT PITTSBURGH WRECKED

All Aboard Meet Death Instantly as Craft Dives Into Hill

PITTSBURGH. (AP)—Officials of the Transcontinental and Western Airlines declared today that ice forming on the control equipment caused the crash of its airliner near Pittsburgh last night with the loss of 13 lives.

The company issued this statement, following an investigation of the crash in the meadowland five miles from the airport where the plane was preparing to land.

The twin-motored skyliner nose-dived into a hillside near the outskirts of Pittsburgh—only minutes away from the smooth runways of Allegheny county's $2,000,000 airport.

The sky was clear for some 2400 feet, there was not much wind, and a sister ship was cruising a few hundred yards above and behind the twin-motored Douglas.

Capt. A. M. Wilkins, winging home the second ship, turned his head to avoid looking at the doomed liner's final 50-foot drop. He estimated the fatal plunge began about 1700 feet up and that Pilot F. Lawrence Bohnet, a veteran of 10 years' service, made two complete left turns with his plane's nose pointed straight down.

All the victims except the pretty blonde hostess, Doris C. Hammons of Elk City, Okla., were battered almost beyond recognition. They were catapulted to the front of the ship.

The dead:
Edward J. Fleming, jr., 22, student, Standard Oil company employee, Kansas City.
C. R. (Dick) Lewers, 22, student, Standard Oil company employee, Kansas City.
Hanan Hashi, Albanian representative of Diamond T Motor Car company, Argo, Ill.
John F. Herman, 45, engineer and inventor, Lincoln, Ill.

JUDGE'S FATE IS IN DOUBT

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The possibility arose today that opponents of the Roosevelt court bill might attempt to block the elevation of Judge Robert Lee Williams of Oklahoma to the federal circuit court.

Senator Burke (D., Neb.) said Williams' letter to Attorney General Cummings saying he would be willing to retire in less than two years when he reaches 70, "raises the question of his qualifications" for the post.

Williams, now a district judge, was nominated by the President yesterday to the tenth circuit court of appeals. The White House gave out his letter.

"I disapprove of the letter entirely," Burke said. "Any judge who would write the kind of letter Williams did raises the question as to his qualifications."

Burke said he was an opponent of the President's request for authority to name additional justices to the supreme court unless justices now over 70 retire.

Traffic Reminder Signs in Place

For the motorist who might forget to remember, the Santa Ana police department's new red-and-white "Remember" signs adorned principal streets in the city today.

Designed as a polite reminder to the motorist, they read, "Remember—25-mile speed limit," "Remember—School zone," and other messages. Approximately 50 of them will be installed.

Yoo-Hoo, Kiddies, Look Here

Tomorrow is the big day at the Municipal bowl, and you're all invited to The Journal's gigantic free Easter Egg hunt. There will be more than 10,000 Easter Eggs hidden in the grass and there are 600 other prizes for lucky boys and girls. Every boy and girl 12 years old and under in Orange county is invited to be the guest of The Journal at its Second Annual Easter Egg Hunt tomorrow. It starts at 10 o'clock. We'll be seeing you!

'36 AVOCADO COST STUDY FINISHED

Wahlberg Tells Factors Necessary to Assure Profit to Grower

Good soil, good trees, uniform yields and reasonable water costs are essential for profitable growing of avocados in Orange county. This statement was made last night by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg when he announced details of the 1936 avocado cost of production study at a meeting of grower cooperators and the farm bureau avocado department in Leon's cafe.

Highlights of Wahlberg's annual summary were as follows:

Returns Show
Average production of all bearing orchards was 2378 pounds per acre as compared with 6110 pounds in 1935. In the class specified as profitable, the average yield was 3282 pounds per acre, and in the unprofitable orchards the low yield was 619 pounds per acre.

Chart Shows Cost
If the grower added 5 per cent as interest on his investment, the total cost of production per acre would average $243.56.

A new chart showed the cost of bringing a young orchard into production. The analysis showed that bringing the orchard up to its tenth year costs $1036.53 per acre, this figure representing all costs exclusive of land costs, and giving credit to such production as was obtained.

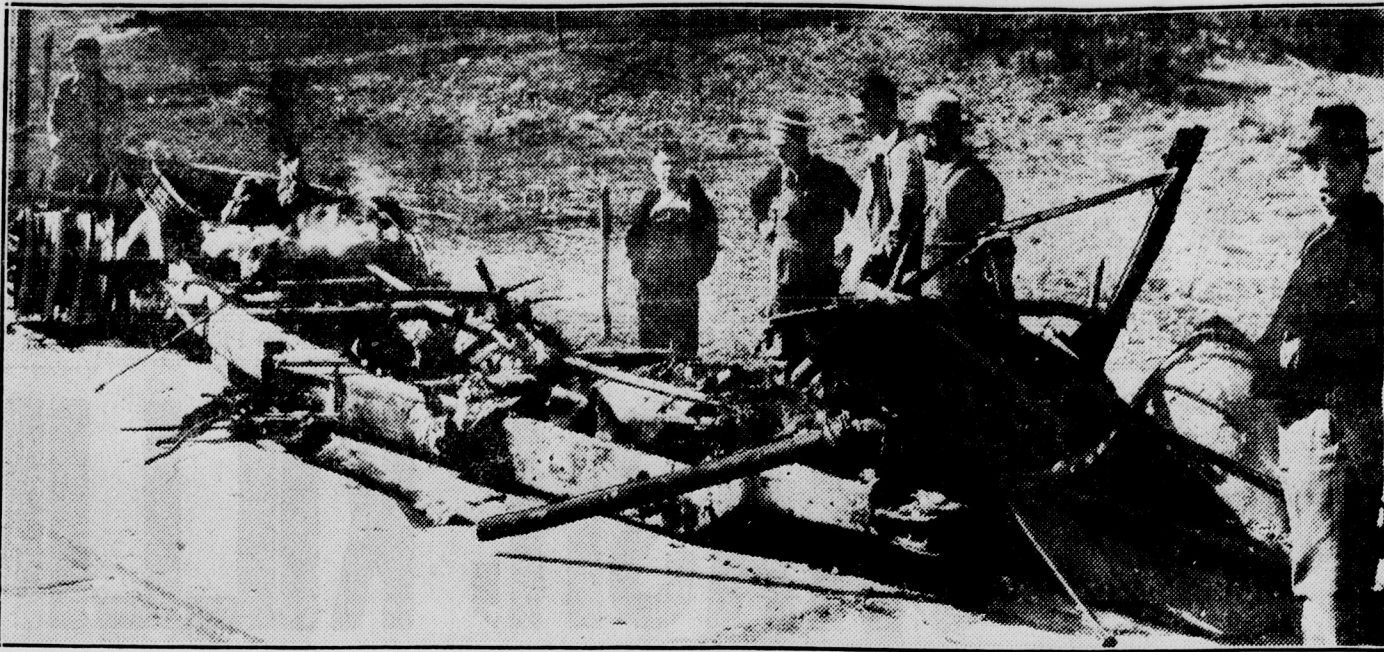

Comparative figures with San Diego county showed avocado land values here worth $1300 per acre, as compared with $664 per acre in San Diego. The average number of trees of local orchards is 75, and in San Diego 113. The average yield here was 2378 pounds per acre, in San Diego 3085 pounds per acre.

Jacob Bohlander Dies Here Today

Jacob Bohlander, who had made his home in Santa Ana for the past 12 years, died here today at the age of 77. He had formerly owned an orange ranch in Colton, and previous to that had pioneered in Chicago. He was the first rancher in West Chicago, and was formerly an active Knight Templar.

He is survived by his wife, Jean Bohlander; a daughter, Mrs. John B. La Due of Chicago; and three sons, Harry C. Bohlander of Los Alamitos, George Arthur Bohlander of Los Angeles, and Wilward J. Bohlander of Los Angeles. Funeral services will be held Monday at 3:30 p. m. from Smith and Tutthill's chapel.

Where 20 Burned to Death in Bus Crash

scopes or electric segregators this season. While but one of the houses in Orange county has received its fluoroscopes, others are expected to arrive here within the next week or so. Manager Carl Young of Tustin Hills association expects to have the two fluoroscopes he has received set up and ready for experimental work in the near future.

In Dark Rooms
Manager Harry Easton of the Placentia Orange County exchange told The Journal today that only the doubtful fruit will be run through the fluoroscopes, each of which will handle about 1000 boxes each eight hours. The fluoroscopes will be installed in dark rooms, so operators can see into the heart of the fruit and determine accurately which are good and bad oranges.

Clarence Skiles, manager of the Orange County Fruit exchange, said houses in his exchange are making preparations now to install the water separators and fluoroscopes. Practically all the houses will use the fluoroscopes, he said. Manager A. H. Kirchman of the Northern Orange County Fruit exchange, reported a similar activity among packing houses in his exchange. He said that some of the houses are putting in as many as four of the fluoroscopes.

Assures Best Fruit
C. H. Lawrence, manager of the Central Orange County Citrus exchange, reported practically all his associations will have fluoroscopes or electric segregators when the season opens. He pointed out that use of the fluoroscopes will assure consumers of the best possible fruit.

The season, which will open the later part of April, will be the first in the history of the orange industry where oranges have been x-rayed to determine frost damage. The system also works well on lemons, it was reported.

PASADENA WINS SAFETY COUNCIL DEBATE TITLE GETS OFFICE

LONG BEACH. (P)—Pasadena Junior college held the men's team championship today in the national Phi Rho Pi debating tournament, participated in by more than 150 junior college students from 12 states.

The Pasadena team of Franklin Patterson and George Hatch defeated Muskogee, Okla., in the finals. Muskogee, represented by Andrew Wilcoxen and Ed Edmondson, tied for second place with Weber College of Ogden, Utah, represented by Pat Quinn and Howard Coray.

Bakersfield, Calif., Junior college won trophies in both men's and women's divisions for scoring most points in debating and oratory.

The women's team debating championship went to Bakersfield, represented by Marie Nichols and Doris Hancock. Bakersfield defeated Glendale Junior college. P. A. Clotti of Virginia, Minn., won the oratory championship among the men, with Gene Dawson of Parsons, Kas., second. In the women's division, Barbara Woodward of Hutchinson, Kas., was first, and Mary Wright of Long Beach, second.

The national tournament concluded a four-day session last night.

Accuse Actor of Attacking Girl

LOS ANGELES. (P)—Police today sought a middle aged man, believed to be an actor of minor roles, who, Mrs. Zillah Wall said, gave her 14-year-old daughter beer to drink, then attacked her in her home while her mother was away.

Capt. F. L. (Larry) Bohnet, Newark, chief pilot.

Howard E. Warwick, East Orange, N. J., co-pilot.

Doris C. Hammons, hostess, Elk City, Okla.

The plane left Newark promptly at 3:15 a. m., stopped at Camden where three passengers left and five got aboard.

In Perfect Condition
In Chicago Jack Frye, TWA president, asserted the ship, its engine and radio were in perfect mechanical condition at the time it left, and that it arrived over the Pittsburgh airport at 6:25 p. m., on schedule.

The crash occurred approximately 6:45 p. m. This would indicate the plane was awaiting permission from the airport to land.

The crash occurred at the edge of a valley about 40 yards wide. First persons to reach the wreckage said they heard no screams or groans, indicating all died instantaneously.

Tried to Land
Pilot Bohnet had been able to level off his ship, safety lay less than 100 yards away.

At the county airport an executive said the plane had attempted to land, but was ordered to descend at a lower altitude because of fog and mist, and the operator could not see the ship at 5000 feet.

Volunteer firemen, first to arrive, found the two all-metal wings hanging like those of a crippled bird from the twisted fuselage, and the tail barely damaged. Several sacks of mail, in the tail, were not badly damaged.

Third Tragedy
The tragedy was the third major air accident within a year in this area.

Last April 7 the "Sun Racer" smashed into a mountainside near Uniontown, killing 11. Last Sept. 5 a Skyways sightseeing plane fell in a mass of flaming debris a few minutes after leaving the airport. Nine of her 10 passengers died in the wreckage.

Line's Statement
"The crash of the plane last night near Pittsburgh was due to the plane passing through localized but very severe icing formations, while descending toward Pittsburgh, where a ceiling of 1200 feet and visibility of five miles prevailed," said the company's statement.

"A heavy deposit of ice formed on the leading edge of the airfoils, which control lateral balance, and caused the plane to go completely out of control."

"All this happened within the space of a few minutes."

No Others Ined
"Officials of the air line, headed by L. C. Fritz, eastern region superintendent, made this known this afternoon, following a preliminary but detailed survey of the wreckage."

"The fact that several other planes flying into Pittsburgh at approximately the time of the accident, encountered no severe icing, substantiates our belief that Pilot F. L. Bohnet ran into localized and exceptionally heavy icing conditions."

"The crash of the plane failed to dislodge the ice formed on the airfoils, and gave us the clew on which we were able to reconstruct the accident."

"All modern transport planes carry de-icing equipment for every part of the plane on which ice formations have been encountered."

"Never before in tests or in scheduled flying has ice formed on the airfoils to an extent that interfered with normal flight."

"However, the unusual ice formation causing this accident indicates that protection against icing must be extended to include altitudes, and TWA is taking immediate steps to develop this additional safeguard."

Couple Poisoned By Toadstools

SEEKS SITE FOR PLANE PLANT

Santa Ana was being considered today as a possible site for location of a new factory for manufacture of airplane motors. S. H. "Buddy" Adkins, formerly of Santa Ana, and well known aviator, has been here since last December looking over possible sites for the factory. It was learned. He has been inspecting sites on the Pacific coast.

Adkins represents the Scott Aircraft Motors company, makers of a two-stroke aircraft motor developed by Leland L. Scott, head of the Kansas city firm, said to be capitalized at about a half-million dollars.

Two locations here have been inspected by Adkins, one near the Martin airport and the other the old Zenith Aircraft company plant near Midway City.

No decision has yet been reached on whether the plant will be located here or elsewhere, although Adkins would like to see it here.

The company has not yet asked for assistance of the chamber of commerce, but Secretary Howard I. Wood said today that the chamber is willing to do all in its power to help locate the factory here.

Flynn Sentenced On Drunk Charge

LOS ANGELES. (P)—Emmett J. Flynn, film director, was sentenced to 50 days in all today by Judge Ben Schienman on charges of being intoxicated. The court then suspended the sentence. Flynn was arrested in front of a movie studio.

Last week he eloped with Margaret Shelby Fillmore, sister of Mary Miles Minter, former screen star, and was arrested in Glendale on a charge of being drunk in an auto.

This week Mrs. Fillmore filed suit for annulment, and a Glendale court issued a bench warrant for Flynn when he failed to appear to answer the charge.

Put Out Fire at Typewriter Shop

Quick action on the part of two service station operators saved Woodward's Typewriter shop, 423 North Sycamore, from serious damage this morning, when they extinguished a fire with foamite and hand extinguishers. Damage was estimated at $150.

C. T. Fox and Carl L. Dean, who are employed at the Standard Oil Company station at Fifth and Broadway, noticed the blaze and went into action. The building was damaged slightly. A calculating machine was damaged.

LEAGUE MAY AIR SPAIN WARFARE

Special Session Will Be Held May 26; Egypt Asks Admittance

GENEVA. (AP)—An extraordinary session of the League of Nations assembly was convened last night for May 26—with the possibility that the Spanish problem might be discussed.

The assembly will be primarily for the purpose of electing Egypt to the league, but the Spanish matter was not debarrd.

LLOYD GEORGE RAPS GOVERNMENT POLICY

LONDON. (AP)—White haired David Lloyd George led an attack on the government in the house of commons today with the cry: "I'd rather have Italy's anger than Italy's contempt!"

He attacked British foreign policy toward Italy's activities in Spain and Ethiopia, and taunted the government for its efforts to avoid a break with Premier Benito Mussolini.

Viscount Cranborne, substituting for his chief, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, let it be known, however, that Great Britain would not protest to the League of Nations over either the presence of Italian soldiers in Spain or the recent Italian executions of Ethiopians in Addis Ababa.

He insisted it was impossible to say, beforehand, what would be done if insurgent General Franco conquered Spain with the aid of Italian fighters.

Arthur Henderson, in commons, assailed Italy for what he called her "use of bombs and bayonets to expound the doctrine of Christianity to a backward nation."

The laborite members of parliament urged the government to support Haile Selassie's appeal to the League of Nations for an investigation of recent Italian "liquidation" of natives hostile to the colonial rule. The news from Addis Ababa, Henderson declared, was received in England with "horror and revulsion."

He said 700 Ethiopians who had been sheltered in the American legation were "butchered like so many cattle" when they left the compound after being given assurances they would be protected.

Sons of Ethiopian Minister Killed

LONDON. (AP)—The Ethiopian legation announced two sons of Dr. W. C. Martin, Ethiopian minister to London, were killed at Addis Ababa during the recent trouble arising from an attempt on the life of the Italian viceroy, Rodolfo Graziani.

Fekade Selassie Herouy, son of Gueta Herouy, Ethiopian foreign minister under Haile Selassie, also was killed, the legation said.

High School Boys Dye Hair and Start New Fashion

ST. LOUIS. (AP)—With platinum blond and hennaed heads held high, 30 male "pioneers of fashion" defied pedagogical disapproval and derision of fellow students yesterday, firm in their conviction "if it's all right for the girls, it's all right for us, too."

Stares and laughter greeted the youths, students of suburban Webster Groves High school, when they appeared with locks dyed in varying shades, ranging from "bricktop" to pink, and golden to platinum blond.

"A foolish prank" was the comment of Principal J. T. Hixson, who said he had found no reason for the latest "extra-curricular" activity, and added that he did not wish to dignify it by inquiring.

"Just for the heck of it," was the explanation of Bill (Red) Heath, a junior, who runs the 50-yard dash and tosses the javelin, while Henry Schulz, senior whose black hair has turned to gold, declared the novelty of the idea appealed to him.

Gould Littlefield, senior, tossed platinum blond locks, rivaling Jean Harlow's as he explained the technique of "rinses" and henna shampoos.

AVIATRIX PLANS NOVEL STUNT

BURBANK. (AP)—Evelyn Hudson, transport pilot, will "snag" five gallons of gasoline on the fly from a moving automobile when she attempts an endurance flight record for light airplanes at Oxnard next Sunday.

The flight will be a feature of dedication ceremonies at the new Ventura County airport there, she announced.

Her ship is a 38-horsepower, two-seater monoplane weighing less than 1000 pounds. Joe Nikrent, of the National Aeronautical association, will time the flight, which will be for 24 hours, or "as long as the engine keeps running," Miss Hudson said.

When her gasoline supply runs low, she explained, she will drop a rope with a hook on the end of it and "snag" a five-gallon can from an automobile driven by Joe Plosser, veteran flying instructor.

a $30 minimum, working hours were fixed at 48 per week with time and a half pay for overtime, and the shoe clerks' union was recognized as a bargaining agent, said Baker.

SAFETY PLAN HITS MEAGER BUDGET FOR TRUCKS ADVISED FOR HOSPITALS

ARTHUR W. LUTZ, president of Smart and Final, wholesale grocery firm here, today outlined means whereby some corporations are promoting traffic safety by instructing their truck drivers to observe all traffic regulations.

He explained how good will may be preserved by truck drivers who practice courtesy on the highways. Lutz expressed his ideas as follows:

Carelessness Scored
"Corporations as a whole spend millions of dollars in advertising their products, and in the development of the public's goodwill, yet many of these corporations fail to realize that such types of expenditures are greatly offset by the careless, discourteous, and in some cases even reckless operation of their trucks on the highways."

"Most corporations take great pride in having well groomed equipment on the highways, and regard their trucks as moving billboards, advertising the company, its products or type of business."

"When such a truck enters an intersection, its driver should be most careful to give passenger cars and pedestrians full right-of-way. Many friends can be made if such a practice is followed; on the other hand, a great deal of public favor can be lost if that truck pushes its way through traffic in such a manner as to create a poor impression in the minds of Mr. and Mrs. John Public."

Train Drivers
"Wide awake corporations are giving this subject much more attention than they have in the past, and are schooling their drivers in the art of catering to the public."

"The congestion of our boulevards is constantly growing, and with that growth accidents are bound to increase."

"Corporations can play an important role in reducing these accidents by exercising more care in the selection of their truck drivers and in schooling them in the art of salesmanship."

"After all, they are salesmen for the company just as much as the sales people in their place of business."

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—California state hospitals and other institutions today are a "disgrace to the state," Assemblyman Patrick J. McMurray, San Francisco assemblyman, declared as Director of Institutions Harry Lutgens accepted items budgeted for them by Governor Merriam.

Lutgens, appearing before the ways and means committee, reported that the sums appropriated in the budget were satisfactory.

"I'm ashamed of the institutions in this state," McMurray declared. "I was on an inspection tour three weeks ago. Most of these institutions have pigs, and the pigs have better quarters than some of the patients."

Wants Increase
"They accepted this budget. It didn't provide for what they need. It's the governor's budget and they were told to cut down and they did. I want to increase the budget for every institution in the state to provide decent quarters and equipment."

Lutgens pointed out that the budget for maintenance had been increased $1,000,000 for this biennium and $2,000,000 added for construction. This would make the construction budget for the next year $6,000,000, he said.

Huge Sum Needed
He agreed with McMurray that it would take in the neighborhood of $17,000,000 to $20,000,000 to finish needed construction work. He admitted that the institutions were overcrowded.

The total increase for construction in state institutions was $6,204,000. This included: Agnew State hospital, $182,990; Camarillo State hospital, $2,765,000; Mendocino State hospital, $30,400; Napa State hospital, $1,016,700; Norwalk State hospital, $18,500; Patton State hospital, $18,000; Stockton State hospital, $98,500; Pacific Colony and State Narcotic hospital, $990,500; Sonoma State home, $1,053,260; Preston School of Industry, $7750; Ventura School for Girls, $7650; Whittier State school, $3750; and Industrial Home for the Adult Blind, $8000.

SENT TO PRISON FOR CRITICISM
BERLIN. (AP)—Because she privately uttered remarks interpreted as against the German government, Frau Theodor Leipart, wife of the former president of the German federation of labor, is serving a three-month prison term.

Frau Leipart was alleged to have refused to contribute to the winter relief fund, saying "you have robbed my husband of his job and his pension."

She was arrested shortly after the remark was alleged to have been made, and sentenced recently.

Diane Determined to Show London Her 'Strip Tease'

LONDON. (AP)—George Black, the English producer who "doesn't want any strip tease dances here," fled into hiding yesterday from Diane Raye, the American dancer who wants to demonstrate undressing to music to British audiences.

"I," said Miss Raye determinedly, "have been looking for Mr. Black all day to get this crazy report about my act being banned straightened out. And I shall go on trying."

"I shall appear on the stage Monday—or there will be fireworks."

"Justice is not being done to English audiences when someone tries to make out they are too prudish to like my act."

Anyway, Miss Raye pointed out, "my act is not vulgarly but art."

It is about that point that Black has decided doubts. Black took a preview look at Diane's Broadway specialty and, with the startled gasp "it's too hot for England," fled.

He had imported Diane from Manhattan for a new show to open Monday without having seen her act.

The argument over "strip-teasing"—something entirely new to London where nudes are posed in tableaux—started even before she landed and Black decided he had better see what it was all about.

While a hot hand pulsed the dragging cadences of a blues number, Diane took off her clothes bit by bit.

Diane, frankly, is more bewildered than hurt by the reflection on her act.

"What are they mad about?" she pleaded demurely. "I wear beads, don't I?"

LOCATES OLD CIVIL WAR PAPER

Propaganda Attack on South Is Shown in Publication

Confederates in the Civil war faced other things besides bullets in the historic struggle. They faced a barrage of propaganda, designed to show them how hopeless was their cause. The Yanks shot bullets at them, but they also fired printed words at them.

Walter Downs, 120 South Flower street, ran across proof of the propaganda program back in Oklahoma. It was an issue of the "Buck and Ball," published by the 11th regiment, Kansas volunteers. It was volume 1, issue No. 1, printed at Cane Hill, Ark., Saturday, Dec. 6, 1862.

Yankee Theory

"Calibre 72 gives the rebels h—!" says the paper, and explains that "Buck and Ball" when applied to musketry means death to rebels; when applied to newspapers the enlightenment of the rebel mind to the reception of the truths of freedom. Take it either way, it's death to treason—the herald of freedom and good government. The rebels appealed from ballots to bullets. So we will give them first 'buck and ball' from the musket and then from the press."

In stirring language, the paper said: "Contenting armies have crossed and recrossed, and where they have passed, nothing has grown. Desolation has followed in their track . . . Scarce a fireside circle that does not mourn one of its number slain in battle. The substance of the country goes to support the armies, while women and children suffer from hunger and cold. And the end is not yet!"

Acts of Pillage

And here's the real meat of the propaganda: "Men of western Arkansas! Most of you went into this rebellion against your own convictions! Will you continue in it to your utter ruin, and that of your country?"

This warning also was contained in the old paper: "The occupation of Cane hill and vicinity by the federal army was followed by acts of pillage disgraceful to the perpetrators and calculated to bring discredit upon the whole army and upon the cause for which the army is fighting. The severest punishment will be inflicted upon the perpetrators of those outrages as soon as they can be detected."

Details of the march of the regiment from Leavenworth to Cane City, beginning Oct. 4, 1862, were recounted in the paper, which also tells of the battle of Prairie Grove.

PLANS PACIFIC 'SEADROME'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It may seem fantastic, but M. E. Heiser, Australian engineer, is here earnestly trying to interest civic and financial leaders in a $30,000,000 "seadrome" to be anchored midway between here and Honolulu for airplane use.

He estimates it would require 10,000 men two years to build his proposed "U" shaped raft, with arms 2000 feet long and 400 wide, rising 117 feet above water level. Seaplanes would land within the "U." The raft would be towed to the mooring point after construction.

New Pact Aimed At Smuggling

WASHINGTON (AP)—Treasury officials reported the French and American customs services had effected a reciprocal agreement designed to curtail smuggling and tariff frauds.

Officials said the agreement also should be beneficial in checking illicit narcotic shipments.

Consumption of Cotton Greater

NEW YORK (AP)—World consumption of all cotton for the half year ended Jan. 31, exclusive of Italy, was estimated by the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners at 14,335,000 bales. This compared with 12,512,000 bales in the like period of the preceding year, excluding Germany.

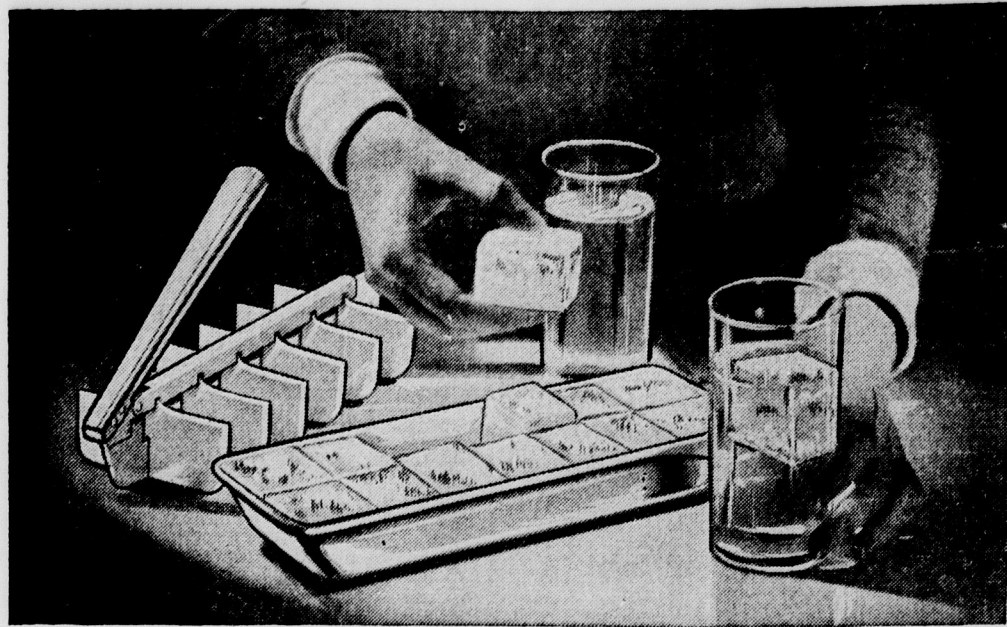

Cops at School Get Chance for Crime Detection

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Fifty policemen from all sections of the nation who came here to attend Northwestern university's traffic institute had a chance today to branch into a new field—crime detection. Instant Cube Release Feature of New Refrigerator

Gone are the days when tugging, chopping, twisting gymnastics are necessary to obtain ice cubes from an automatic refrigerator. Shown above is the sensational new and efficient instant cube release featured exclusively in the 1937 Frigidaire. Developed in the research laboratories of the Frigidaire division of General Motors, the new type ice tray makes available instantly and with no effort on the part of the user from two to a dozen or more cubes, doing away with the necessity for holding trays under the water faucet and losing up to twenty per cent of the ice content in meltage. One grasps the tray firmly with one hand, lifts the lever with a finger of the other and there are the cubes ready for use without fuss or muss.

Karloff Wants to Abandon Horror Roles in Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Boris Karloff, who succeeded Lon Chaney as the screen's most blood-chilling portrayer of horror roles, would like, figuratively, to go in for baby-kissing.

He hopes, the actor said, that he is through scaring folks. The case of Jesse Hawk, Clearwater, Kans., youth who collapsed in a Wichita, Kans., theater last week while viewing Karloff stalk across the screen in his usual terrifying manner, added to his determination to continue his screen reformation.

The manager of the theater informed Karloff about the incident and the screen's public enemy number one sent to 18-year-old Jesse a season's pass to the motion picture house.

"Overs Retribution"

"I feel that I owe you some sort of retribution," Karloff wrote the youth, "and I hope you will enjoy the shows you see with this ticket."

Karloff told of his desire to gain the confidence of young film fans.

Nazis Going in For Eugenics on A Big Scale Now

BERLIN (AP)—Match making by properly qualified Nazi officials soon will be placed on a legal basis in an attempt to secure healthy offspring from sound parent stock.

A training course for the aspirant matchmakers in eugenics and heredity laws will be started April 7 under the auspices of the labor front and the Nazi racial office. A final examination will qualify practitioners.

Only 175 Women In State Prisons

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles County Federation of Women's clubs has learned that of 9288 felons in California prisons, only 175 are women.

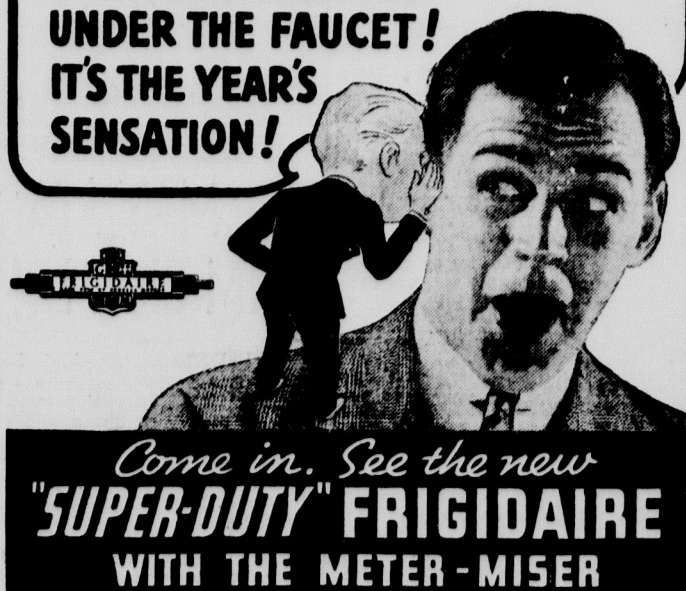

Daniel Beecher, deputy district attorney, supplied the figures. He told the clubs that neither prisons nor paroles are solving the crime problem, although since 1934 there has been a decrease of 2446 in California's prison population.

SUIT RECORD IS GIVEN SENATE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney General Cummings has sent to the senate a bulky, 183-page volume outlining thousands of suits which he said had been filed against Roosevelt administration laws since March 4, 1933.

Cummings' report, which the senate requested, reviewed the court history of 28 statutes in which injunction proceedings were instigated.

The Agricultural Adjustment act took up 79 pages. A total of 1,898 suits were filed in 69 district courts against that act alone, Cummings said.

Rental Jinx Still Hovering Over Wally's London Home

LONDON (AP)—Even the extraordinary coronation demand for exclusive addresses has failed to end the rental "jinx" on the former home of Mrs. Wallis Simpson at 16 Cumberland Terrace, Regents Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbert Stewart, who hold the original lease, have cut the rental to $210 a week—or what have you?—for the mansion Mrs. Simpson planned to use for entertaining during the coronation of Edward VIII who abdicated his throne for her love.

Now the Georgian style residence has become such a drug on the rental market that that no one wants it for the coronation of George VI.

FORECAST FOR OIL USE HIGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—The bureau of mines has recommended a daily average crude oil production of 3,243,000 barrels to meet the estimated demand during April. This forecast was 64,000 barrels higher than for March and 227,000 barrels higher than for April last year.

The bureau estimated the domestic demand for motor fuel in April at 42,700,000 barrels, or 10 per cent above the actual production of April, 1936. Exports of motor fuel for April were estimated at 2,500,000 barrels, which is 200,000 barrels more than the March estimate, but approximately equal to the actual exports for April, 1936.

The bureau's recommended production for California: March, 370,900; April 579,900.

PAYROLLS IN STATE STILL INCREASING

New Purchasing Power Created by Better Factory Wages

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—The rising tide of California factory payrolls flooded the state's business channels with new purchasing power last month, official figures have revealed.

The state division of labor statistics reports weekly payrolls were up 28.9 per cent in February over the 1936 rate—the largest percentage rise in about three years.

More Employed

This rising water-table for general business activity, on further widespread gains, will be floated by the current month's figures as the steel and some allied lines lift pay rates. E. L. Nolan, state labor commissioner, announced.

Commissioner Nolan said his studies of employment at 1598 industrial plants showed:

Workers employed—140,385, a gain of 15.7 per cent over last year.

Weekly payrolls—$3,890,012, a gain of 28.9 per cent.

Earnings Are Up

Average weekly earnings—$27.71, a gain of 11.5 per cent.

This month should produce increases in employment and payrolls with Columbia Steel lifting wages 10 cents an hour to a minimum of 60 cents for about 5500 workers, allied steel lines generally following suit, mining companies reporting various scattered increases, and the fruit industries and some other harvest lines reporting advances affecting around 50,000 workers at peak periods during the year.

TWO FAIR TRADE ACTS FAVORED

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Legislation to write the federal Robinson-Patman act into a state law and to enlarge provisions of the state fair trade practices act were recommended to the legislature for enactment by an assembly committee yesterday.

Assemblyman Peyser, author of the former measure, pushed his bill through the committee with little opposition coming from any quarter except from the objection of Assemblyman Dawson that it placed the burden of proof or innocence on the defendant.

Dawson claimed that it violated all rules of pleading, by forcing the accused to prove himself innocent, instead of making it obligatory upon the complainant to prove the defendant guilty of violating provisions of the act.

Peyser said the bill would prohibit discriminations in prices where the effects would be to hurt competition and provides the injured parties may bring damage suits or enjoin the seller from doing further business.

The second measure, by Assemblyman Boyle, was a compilation of the good features of most of 11 bills on regulation of trade practices that were originally introduced in the lower house.

MAN SLAYS 3, THEN SELF

BOSTON. (AP)—Four persons, including Dr. Charles E. Mackey, prominent Boston politician and school committee member, were shot to death yesterday in what police described as a triple slaying and suicide.

Police said Jeremiah Mackey, 43, special policeman for the metropolitan district commission and brother of the physician, shot the doctor, his chauffeur, Paul Costa, 21; Alice Costa, 19, of Lexington, maid for Dr. Mackey, and then turned the pistol upon himself.

Neighbors said the brother, who had made his home with Dr. Mackey, had been in ill health for several years.

Experts Praise New $50,000 Placentia Elementary Building

Cited as an example of modern, fireproof and earthquake proof construction, the recently-completed elementary building at the Bradford avenue plant in Placentia this month was praised in "Architect and Engineer," national construction publication. The new building, erected at a cost of approximately $50,000, covers an area of 61 by 82 feet and will care for 320 pupils in eight classrooms. It is the first of three structures to be completed under a PWA grant at Placentia. The elementary structure replaces the old school auditorium, burned in October, 1933. Also under construction on the Bradford avenue plot are a new auditorium which will accommodate slightly less than 1000 pupils, and a new gymnasium for high school use.

"Yes, I know. It's terrible, sir," the servant replied in a confidential tone. "But what's your name?"

'CHIEF' IS BACK IN LIMELIGHT

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Woody Hockaday of Wichita, Kan., self-styled "Chief Pow Wow," was taken into custody by Washington detectives yesterday after trying to deliver a stuffed chicken to secretary Perkins as a sit-down strike remedy.

Dressed in a white summer suit and with an Indian feather headdress on top of his head, Hockaday strode into the main lobby of the labor department building with his chicken, and announced his intention of delivering it to the secretary.

Uniformed guards who had been tipped off about his visit ushered him out of the building and let him amuse a crowd of spectators until city detectives took him away.

Hockaday first broke into print in the capital several months ago when he invaded the office of Secretary of War Woodring and scattered a bag full of feathers around the secretary's office in the interests, he said, of world peace.

He announced to the crowd in front of the labor department that while he used feathers to prevent wars he had lately turned on the idea of offering stuffed chickens to end the sit-down strikes.

Farley Predicts Atlantic Airmail Service This Year

ARABEE, La. (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley announced here that regular air mail service to Europe may be inaugurated this year.

He spoke at the dedication of new postoffices here and at Gretna, small towns across the Mississippi river and below New Orleans. "Within the past year we have instituted a transatlantic air mail service between the United States and the Far East," he said, "and a similar service across the Atlantic to Europe will probably be inaugurated during the present year."

Army Hero Is Given a Medal

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The war department awarded the soldier's medal yesterday to Private Harry F. Hadley, attached to the 30th infantry at San Francisco, for heroism in rescuing a child who had been knocked off a bridge by a railroad train in Hawaii. The incident occurred on Oct. 10, 1936, while Hadley was stationed at Oahu, Hawaii.

Remember Pearl White of Early Movies? She's Back in U. S. But Not Hollywood

By EDWARD J. NEIL

NEW YORK. (AP)—Remember the blonde, blue-eyed heroine who used to hang by her fingernails from bridges and steeples and things from one week to the next in the "Perils of Pauline" while the villain cackled his glee and the noble hero rushed to the rescue?

That was Pearl White, first of the lady daredevils of the screen, producer of more cold sweat than all the truant officers in the world.

Well she's back in America for the first time in nine years, plump now and carefree, and the villain no longer pursues her.

Here on Business

She's here on business—"something about bonds and money and stuff like that"—and then she's going back to her two homes in Paris, probably for nine more years.

Rich and complacent, a heroic figure in red silk pajamas and Japanese slippers, she wraps her fingers around a tall bubbly glass as friends crowd around her in her hotel suite.

"I love champagne," she announces. She likes to go to movies now and see someone else prance across the light, but as for more of the same for her—

"Oooh No," she shudders, "not me. I have no ambitions. Why should I? I've got plenty of money."

Her hair is still blonde, but her face is rather full now and she doesn't like to have pictures taken.

"They make me look too fat."

She made her last picture in 1925 in Paris, after she went abroad for the first time with the avowed intent of entering a convent. She stayed a very short time in the convent, and the picture's name was "The Terror."

Hollywood Is "Out"

"And boy," she said, "it was terrible."

She has no curiosity at all about Hollywood, and the glamour girls of the new era with their stand-ins and stunt stars to take all the chances. Pearl did her own swinging from ladders trailed by airplanes, dropping from bridges onto mile-a-minute trains, leaping frantically from week to week in and out of the jaws of the most terrible deaths the masters of the period could devise. Once she broke her back in three places trying a stunt.

"Listen," she insists, "I'm happy now. Why should I go to Hollywood? Do I look crazy?"

CATTLE AND HOG PRICE TO RISE

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The agriculture department has predicted advances in cattle and hog prices.

The bureau of agricultural economics said prices of nearly all grades of slaughter cattle were expected to average higher this year than last.

It said prices for better grades of beef cattle had climbed since last June and this month were "nearly as high as in the spring of 1935."

They buried a fine and good man in Orange Wednesday. Judge A. W. Swayze had perhaps more friends in his town than anyone else, and hundreds sorrowed when death took the long-time justice of the peace.

An illustration of his popularity was at the funeral. Two rather ragged youngsters stood, caps in hand, near the entrance during the entire ceremony. When it was over, others asked the boys why they came to the services. "Why, he was our friend," they answered, almost in unison.

Which is about as good an illustration as any as to what folks thought of their judge.

Incidentally I don't think much of this change in Orange's municipal government whereby Councilman Cal Lester becomes judge and vacates his seat on the council.

Don't get me wrong—it isn't that Cal won't make a very fine justice. I'll miss the shyness, but he'll be a good judge.

Sometimes those bone-shattering exchanges were about the only interesting part of the meeting for me—I hope the mayor can get another sparring partner!

C. W. (Wee Wilyum) Queale, president of Fullerton's junior C. of C., entertains the press lavishly with coca colas.

Called on Wilyum yesterday at his place of business in Anaheim and he introduced me to a number of several new nickle machines. Bill, incidentally, is planning something huge in the way of entertainment for the juniors within a short time. 'S going to be fine, he claims, but we'll wait and see!

John Gregory, police sergeant and Ike Walton leader in Fullerton, became highly enthusiastic yesterday about the outdoor show the Waltonians are planning next month. He's already so excited he doesn't know what to do.

The term "outdoor show," he thinks, confuses some folks who have the idea of some sort of burlesque staged on the front lawn.

The annual show, he explained carefully, really is an exhibit of about everything that's in interest to sportsmen. Fish poles, lines, and all sorts of equipment. Guns of every sort. Camping equipment. Trailers. About everything to give a feller spring fever.

And, in addition, they have lots of interesting exhibitions. Long distance casting, shooting, game races—what is turning, lines, quail and pheasants which will be allowed to grow to maturity in the park—and such things. Last year Patrolman Kenny Foster was to capture a pig on his deep sea fishing tackle, but it ended with the pig doing lots of squealing and all most catching Kenny. So this year they're substituting a casting contest.

It really is a big affair and this year probably will draw lots larger crowds than last, when the entire park was almost jammed with eager spectators.

Don't make any other plans for April 24 and 25!

It certainly is funny about people. Yesterday, we carried a story about a new carburetor which will give drivers 125 miles to the gallon of gasoline. That story was about to get for some folks, and easy for others.

The first tip came from a big city newspaperman. He'd tried to get the story and failed. Frank Dowsett, Newport waterfowler for this department, galloped right in where where the journalists failed and produced a good yarn.

Perhaps we country people don't appreciate metropolitan methods!

Something pops into the usually vacant editorial mind. Remember a recent dinner at Huntington Beach, where the famous movie man, was guest of honor?

How come, I'm wondering, that they served baked ham at the dinner? Was that a compliment or unconscious humor?

What's this "El Toro" club at Newport?

We all know that El Toro is the Javanese title for a gentleman cow, but why have such an organization in our harbor district? This organization is prominently mentioned in a story about the Costa Mesa Lions and their "Necktie club"—which, if I haven't heard incorrectly, is a sort of throat slitting group, as the name would indicate.

Anyway, it seems that these two groups are planning to join for a meeting. I hope there isn't any bloodshed!

Quints Arrive At Laguna's Palatial Pound

LAGUNA BEACH.—Quintuplets in the dog pound was Laguna's latest claim to fame yesterday when five new-born kittens were added to the problems of Humane Officer Fred Walters.

"Mammy," a perennial stray and alley fighter, has become very domestic in her familiar role, but Walters keeps a wary eye on her, expecting her soon to make a dash for wandering freedom.

BOND ELECTION SEEN FOR LAGUNA BEACH SEWER SYSTEM

$29,474 SET AS COST OF PROJECT

Hookup With Disposal Plant Recommended By Engineer Stead

LAGUNA BEACH.—Prospects for repair and construction of additional sewer line came closer yesterday with submitting of a report by Arthur J. Stead, city engineer, to the city council.

Necessity of a bond election became apparent to councilmen to complete the hook-up of existing lines to the disposal plant. Two routes were submitted by Stead, one to cost $29,474 and the other coming to $26,519. This construction, necessary for future facilities, will be considered in detail at the council meeting next Wednesday.

Another improvement in the sewer system which became imminent is the repair of the outfall line. Stead's estimate for this work was $15 per foot, or $4500 for the 300 feet of outfall line. Councilmen indicated this construction could be financed from the general fund, and who is considered next week pending approval from the state board of health.

Another problem confronting the council next week will be the perennial question of bathing suit ordinances. Various organizations including the Business and Professional Women's club have asked the council to adopt an ordinance that can be enforced. The committee will report on ordinances in use in other beach cities and attempt to draw up a similar plan.

ORANGE GROUP VISITS SNOW

ORANGE.—Thirty-two high school students and parents returned Wednesday evening from Camp Idyllwild in the San Bernardino mountains after two and one-half days spent in the snow. Delayed Monday by the rain, they left near noon, and upon reaching the mountains followed a snowplow to the cabins. Additional snow was falling when the party left after noon.

PLAY FEATURES H. B. PROGRAM

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—A one-act play, "The Special Board Meeting," was presented by members of the Woman's club at their regular meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Lena Haston, Mrs. Marion Miller, Mrs. Marion Conrad, Mrs. Ila Dabney and Mrs. Margaret Colvin taking part.

Mrs. Getting of Santa Ana contributed to the program with several readings. At the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. Ila Dabney, the club endorsed legislative bill 1186, pertaining to public schools being open for the use of patrons after school hours.

A luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock by a committee composed of Mrs. Margaret Colvin, Mrs. Willis Warner, Mrs. R. M. Elliott, Mrs. Lena Haston, Mrs. Marion Conrad, Mrs. P. E. Sheehan and Mrs. Cook.

PORT AID MAY GET APPROVAL

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Federal maintenance for the county's $2,000,000 pleasure harbor was one step nearer today with tentative approval of a $15,000 project for that purpose by the rivers and harbors committee in Washington.

The Newport project was one of several California projects tentatively approved by the committee. Total expenditures will be $4,184,000 in California, it was believed. Federal work at Newport will include general maintenance and clearing of channels.

Sunday School Program Slated

WESTMINSTER.—The Sunday school of the Presbyterian church will present a specially arranged Easter program Sunday morning at 9:45 o'clock, which will feature a pageant, "In the Garden."

Barbara Campbell will take the part of Lydia; Frances Hay, Dorcas; Margaret Clinton, Esther and Mrs. L. G. Halfley as Mary. Music by Bill Rose, violinist, will be heard throughout pageant.

Daffodil Festival Queen

Miss Dorothy Lyons, 18, shown here knee deep in daffodils, has been chosen as queen of the annual Puyallup (Wash.) Valley Daffodil festival. Thousands of the blossoms, which carpet the valley in yellow for miles and miles at the height of the season, will be cut for visitors. Miss Lyons is from Sumner, Wash. (Associated Press photo.)

BIRTHDAY FETE SLATED BY GROVE GENERAL AID

GARDEN GROVE.—All members and friends of the General Women's Aid society of the First Methodist church will be feted at an elaborate birthday dinner at a meeting May 27, according to an announcement by the general president, Mrs. J. M. Chilson, at circle meetings held in various homes Wednesday.

Mrs. Edward Chaffee, assisted by Miss Mettie Chaffee, entertained members of Circle No. 1 for an all-day meeting and served a tray luncheon at noon. The group worked on comfort protectors and dish towels. Present were Mesdames Chilson, F. A. Monroe, C. Bowman, I. F. German, W. M. Adland, Paul Parsons, Paul Applebury, William Showalter, G. R. Reymann, E. F. Mills, Wilma Millheiser, Dora Conser and T. C. Natland.

Members of Circle No. 2 were guests of Mrs. Percy Prior for the afternoon, which was given over to making of quilt protectors, pot holders and clothespin bags, with the hostess serving refreshments after the work period.

Re-election of all officers of Circle No. 3 featured the meeting of that group held at the home of Mrs. S. C. Oertly. These are Mrs. H. A. Lake, president; Mrs. J. O. Arkley, vice president; Mrs. Wilbur Harper, secretary, and Mrs. C. N. Frank, treasurer. A dessert course was served as the members arrived at Mrs. Oertly's home in the early afternoon and followed the business session, the time was spent working on quilt blocks. Others present were Mesdames P. M. Magnusson, E. M. Dozier, Helen Barnes, Walter Clark and A. A. Schnitzer.

TWO PROGRAMS TO FEATURE WESTMINSTER SERVICES

WESTMINSTER.—Easter will be observed at the Methodist church Sunday with specially arranged programs, the Rev. J. H. Thompson pastor of the church announced today.

The opening service at 9:45 o'clock will be conducted by the Sunday school department with George Tyler of the kindergarten class giving the Call to Worship; the Primary department will follow with a song and the Beginner's class will give an Easter Joy exercise. A short drama, "In an Easter Garden," will be presented by a cast including Alice Slater, Gwendolyn Hoepfner, Margaret Ray Beem and Laddie Letson.

A quartet composed of John Tucker, trombone, Helen Berger, cello, Ila Jane Franklin, violinist and Laddie Letson, pianist, will play during the service. Baptism of babies and children will follow the Sunday school program.

The morning sermon will be given at 10:45 o'clock, the pastor taking for his topic "The Triumph of Christ." In the evening the local choir will be joined by the choir of the Presbyterian church of Westminster in a presentation of the cantata "Death Unto Life."

PORT AID MAY BUILDING MAY SET RECORD

LAGUNA BEACH.—Building maintenance for the county's $2,000,000 pleasure harbor was one step nearer today with tentative approval of a $15,000 project for that purpose by the rivers and harbors committee in Washington.

The Newport project was one of several California projects tentatively approved by the committee. Total expenditures will be $4,184,000 in California, it was believed. Federal work at Newport will include general maintenance and clearing of channels.

Families Visit In Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE.—Taking advantage of the Easter holidays, Mrs. Fred Winters and son, Donald, Los Angeles, and Mrs. A. G. Osborn and son, Peter, Burbank, have been spending several days with parents of the two women. Mr. and Mrs. P. M. German and their brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Halfley as Mary. Music by Bill Rose, violinist, will be heard throughout pageant.

HARBOR DAY RACES ARE SLATED

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—One of the first of the big celebration days of the summer season on Newport bay will be Harbor day, May 15, first anniversary of the opening of Greater Newport harbor, according to Captain William J. Brown, chairman of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce harbor day committee.

Plans include a race for 45-foot-long Long Beach harbor to Newport bay for the George A. Rogers perpetual trophy. In addition four gold plaques have been added to the list of awards in view of the large entry expected.

Commodore Vesey of the 45-foot association has promised 50 entries for the big event.

KITE CONTEST IS SET AT H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Plans for the annual Huntington Beach kite-flying contest, slated for April 19, were announced today by W. H. Gallienne, chamber of commerce secretary. The chamber will sponsor the event, Gallienne said. Numerous contests will be open to elementary and high school students, with a perpetual trophy to be awarded the elementary class obtaining the highest number of points in the contest. The wide beach east of the municipal pier will be the scene of the affair, Gallienne announced.

Harvey Van Meter, WPA recreational director, is in charge of preliminary arrangements. Official classification for kites will include tallness, kites with tails, box kites and novelty kites, all of which must be made by the individual entering the contest.

GROVE EASTER RITES TOLD

GARDEN GROVE.—Churches in the West Orange county church council will join for an Easter sunrise service at the First Methodist church in Garden Grove at 5:45 Sunday morning.

The program as announced by Dr. Charles F. Seitter pastor of the host church, will include an opening prayer by the Rev. W. J. Seitter, pastor of the Garden Grove Baptist church; a solo by Mrs. J. W. Thompson of Wintersburg; responsive reading by Dr. George Greer, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church; the sermon, "Dawn," by the Rev. C. N. Jones, pastor of the Midway community church; and a benediction by the Rev. J. W. Thompson, pastor of the Wintersburg Methodist church.

Laguna Cafe Has New Proprietor

LAGUNA BEACH.—Announcing establishment of a new restaurant business, Claude D. Bronner has purchased the Pepper Tree cafe from Carl Metz, owner of several other business ventures. Bronner is a pioneer restaurateur in Laguna, having founded the White House cafe, and at present runs a cafe on Forest avenue.

The business will change hands April 1 and comprises the lease and fixtures including an outdoor patio opposite Hotel Laguna on Coast boulevard.

Stanton Card Club Meets

STANTON.—Members of the cooperative card club met Friday evening at commissary hall for their regular 500 party. Playing were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vipond, Mr. and Mrs. S. Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Howard, Lee Benson, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Farr, Mr. and Mrs. Connie Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Remick, Los Alamitos, Mr. and Mrs. Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Remick were awarded prizes for high score.

La Habrans to Hear Strathman

LA HABRA.—"Labor Agitators and What We May Expect in Orange County" will be the topic of a talk by S. H. Strathman before members of the La Habra Farm center here Monday evening.

The meeting, slated for the Washington school, also will be featured by appearance of the Farm bureau chorus of 40 voices. A pot-luck dinner and reports by committee chairman also are planned. R. R. Launer, president, announced.

ATTEND REUNION

COSTA MESA.—Mrs. Lena Heaton and daughters, Shirley, Juanita and Donna Leigh and son, Carl Hawkins, drove to El Toro this week for a family reunion at the home of Mrs. Heaton's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Trickey.

MODEST MAIDENS

By Don Flowers

"Okay, if you wanna make it do another summer—where'll I start cutting?"

COP INVENTS NEW CRIME

NEWPORT - BALBOA.—"Resisting an officer" long has been a charge covering a multitude of civilian sins, but it took a Newport police officer to think up a new one—one made to order for this spring vacation here.

He was at the end of his patience in attempts to patch up difficulties between landlady and tenants at a Balboa beach place, according to his report to the station. Nobody wanted to be satisfied now, it seemed.

"If they don't come to terms soon, I'm going to arrest the bunch of them and let them settle it in jail," he threatened. "But how can you?" the sober station sergeant wanted to know. "What charge can you make against them?"

"Aggravating an officer," howled the harassed patrolman, treating himself to the first grin he had time for that day.

Auxiliary at Newport Meets

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—At the regular meeting of the Legion auxiliary Monday, report was made on the success of the Legion birthday ball last week.

Theodore Robins, one of the early commanders of the post, reviewed charter members and presented Commander Ray Smith, Anaheim, who discussed the history of the Legion. A number of local civic leaders present were introduced by Russell Norbeck, Isabel Ganahl and Florence Anderson acted as hostesses, Mabel Cummings, Katherine Summers and Edith Downing winning prizes.

Del Mar Home Scene of Party

CORONA DEL MAR.—Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Willett entertained a party of 28 friends at dinner and a social evening Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Willett recently purchased a new home on Pacific drive, where they will spend their week-ends.

CHAPTER V

As Martha Halliday drove steadily southward, she was so intent on her thoughts that she scarcely noticed that the sky had become overcast and that a storm was brewing.

It was now late afternoon but, within an hour, she thought, she should be across the State line and on the last lap of her journey to Aunt Genevieve's. As soon as she reached there, she would phone her father. There was no point in calling him sooner, for he would not discover her absence until he came home that evening.

She would tell him that she had definitely made up her mind that she could not marry Nick. It would startle him, but she could not help it. He could make any announcement to the press that he wanted to. Perhaps, for the time being, he might say that the wedding had been postponed on account of illness. A sudden announcement that it had been permanently called off would cause a furor of gossip.

The rain began falling almost before she realized it—scattered drops which swiftly increased to a heavy downpour. The road grew slippery, and Martha had to slow down. This annoyed her, for she wanted to reach her destination as quickly as possible.

Darkness soon fell. Her clothes became drenched, and she shivered with cold as the wind whipped about her. She would have to stop at the next filling station or garage she passed and get some one to help her put up the top of the car.

However, the county through which she was passing seemed to be very sparsely settled, and she

PREPARE FOR DEEP TEST AT BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Drilling of three new wells on the Copeland lease of 45 acres by the Union Oil company has caused considerable speculation among oil operators in the Huntington Beach oil field. One derrick is up and foundations are in and sumps are being dug on the other two. Where the derrick has been erected the company has set four huge boilers. The Copeland lease is in the heart of the oil field near Westminster avenue and Garfield area. The impression is general here that Union is planning to test the sands at lower depth than any well has yet gone in that area of the field. The Copeland lease is ideally located, according to oil men, for a deep test.

The Copeland lease has been only sparsely drilled by the Union. It was one of the early leases in the field and has been one of the good producing areas.

G. G. GROUP HAS EASTER FETE

GARDEN GROVE.—Deviating from their usual study of women of the Bible, members of the Bible Study section of the Woman's Civic club devoted Tuesday's meeting at the home of Mrs. S. C. Oertly to study of the Easter lesson. Mrs. Lewis Gall, section leader, told the Easter story and led the discussion.

For the next meeting, April 6, members decided to go in a body to attend the Bible lecture to be given at Berean hall in Santa Ana. A dessert course was served at the close of the lesson hour.

Club guests were Mrs. E. R. Schneider, Mrs. Conrad Schrott and Mrs. Wilma Millheiser. Members present were Mrs. P. S. Virgin, Mrs. W. O. Broadly, Mrs. E. E. Nichols, Mrs. G. R. Reymann, Mrs. W. M. Adland, Mrs. Charles R. George and Mrs. Edward Chaffee.

Missionary Group Meets Here Today

The missionary society of the African Methodist Episcopal church had an enjoyable meeting today at the home of Mrs. Lulu Walker, 1109 West Fourth street.

A program consisted of a saxophone solo by Harry Adams, a piano solo by Miss Anna Ma Burks, a paper on missions read by Mrs. C. Austin, a short address by the Rev. Corneille Austin, and a talk by D. Wallace.

Mrs. Sadie Wilson was program chairman, and assisted the hostess in serving a refreshment course.

VISITS FRIENDS

COSTA MESA.—L. E. Sine of 1939 Anaheim avenue spent three days this week in Escondido, visiting at the home of friends.

FUGITIVE BRIDE

By RUTH LOUISE AYRES

The newspapers are full of the approaching marriage of Martha Halliday and Peter Nick.

She drew up before a dingy luncheon, on the windows of which were streaked white-chalk announcements of the date to be had within. Climbing out of the car and splashing through the mud, she reached the door and entered.

A group of men were inside. They stared at her as she walked to the counter.

"Hot dog and coffee," she said. The man behind the counter, thin and friendly looking, nodded. "A good night for ducks," he said.

Martha smiled. "I'll say—and I'm in an open car."

"You bet? You mean you ain't got no top to your car?"

"I've got one but I couldn't put it up by myself."

"Say, we'll take care of it. Plenty of gents doing nothing around here that can get it up for you." He turned. "Hey, you fellows, how 'bout giving this young lady a hand?"

"Sure," several voices answered at once. "Thank you," said Martha, as two or three men started for the door.

"Going far?" the counter man asked, as he placed the hot dog and coffee before Martha.

"Well—it won't be so very much farther. About 15 miles after I pass the State line."

She was going much farther than that, but she thought it best not to be too frank in talking with strangers she met along the road. "Fifteen miles, eh? I'll bet you're going to Oakville."

Oakville? Martha had forgotten she would pass through that famed resort, but she seized the suggestion.

"Yes," she said. "That's where I'm headed."

"You'll have one bad stretch of road," the counter man informed her. "Just about three miles before you get there, they got a detour where they're building the new highway. Take it easy, because they say the bumps is pretty bad."

"Thanks for warning me."

"Yep—and don't pick up any hitch hikers. That detour leads right through the lonely back country."

Just then, the volunteers returned from raising the car top.

"It's all okay," one said, "and it's good we got it up. The rain has started coming down in torrents."

"Thank you all so much," Martha said.

"She's going to Oakville," the counter man announced. "I just warned her about the bad stretch."

One young man, leather-jacketed, eyed her curiously.

"Been traveling all day?" he drawled.

"All afternoon," said Martha. "Then maybe you heard the news along the way."

"No—I didn't hear any news. What happened?"

The leather-jacketed man came closer to her.

"Maybe you better wait here until the weather clears up a bit. It ain't safe to be on the road tonight."

"What's the trouble?" asked Martha, suddenly apprehensive.

A State trooper had been shot to death along the highway, the man told her, and his murderers were at large. A State trooper by the name of Jimmy Flynn. Shot and left dead in the thickets just off the main highway. Just the other side of Lenfield. Early in the afternoon, it happened.

Martha stared at the man. Lenfield. Lenfield. Yes, that was the town she had driven through after the State trooper had stopped her for speeding. She remembered his strange behavior—how he had suddenly dashed off when he had seen that gray car. Could that be the trooper who had been killed, and could the gray car have had anything to do with it? A shudder ran through her.

She threw off the thought and, ignoring the suggestion that she had better tarry at the luncheon that gray car. Could that be the trooper who had been killed, and could the gray car have had anything to do with it? A shudder ran through her.

MURDER CASE SOLUTION TOLD

Scientific Detection to Be Wilkie's Topic at 8 on KVOE

"Science as Applied to Crime Detection" is the theme of tonight's "In the Criminal" broadcast from KVOE at 8 o'clock by Captain Don Wilkie, noted authority on crime.

"Nine out of ten crimes solve themselves," he said, "because they are man-made and man is human. Nine out of ten times the human element leaves a tangible clue that is easily followed."

His true-to-fact story tonight will tell of the solving of a murder case in Paris which, to the uninitiated, left but a vague clue as to the whereabouts of the killer.

Married By Telephone

H. D. Sundstrom and his bride, Miss Frances Yerkes, are shown here as they were married in Honolulu in the first transpacific radio-phone wedding. The ceremony was performed by the bridegroom's father, the Rev. C. H. Sundstrom, who was at home in Pasadena. (Associated Press photo.)

ORATORIO TO BE HEARD ON KVOE

As its Good Friday offering to the western audience, the Mutual-Don Lee Broadcasting system will broadcast "The Seven Last Words of Christ" by Du Bois, with the Los Angeles civic chorus of 350 and Ted Bliss, narrator, participating.

Originating in the studios of the Los Angeles Elks temple, this important oratorio will be broadcast from KVOE and other stations of the network from 10:30 to 11:30 tonight.

Modulations From KVOE

EXPENSIVE CHOPS

"Mutton Chops Worth More Than Mansions" is the title of tonight's "Lectures and Oddities" broadcast at 9:15, dramatizing an incident that actually happened in France during the days of the revolution.

AUDIENCE VOTES

The radio audience of O. R. Haan's "Opportunity Night" show, Friday nights 8:30 to 9:30, is invited to vote for their favorite radio personalities. The winner gets a free trip to New York, expenses paid, plus an audition on a national network amateur hour.

"HI YO, SILVER"

With the familiar cry of "Hi Yo, Silver!" the Lone Star Ranger, masked rider of the western plains, rides through another thrilling story of the Old West on KVOE and other stations of the Mutual-Don Lee Broadcasting system from 7:30 to 8:30 tonight.

In this, the concluding episode of the 3-part story about Cactus Pete, the wandering minstrel friend of "The Lone Ranger" is liberated from a charge of murder and finds his lost sister.

U. S. IMPRESSIONS

A girl from England, another from Syria and a third from Japan will join in an informal discussion of "Foreign Women's Impressions of U. S. A." during the "International House Forum" to be broadcast from KVOE and other stations of the nationwide network of the Mutual-Don Lee Broadcasting system tomorrow morning at 11:30. The participants are Grace Leybourne, English Commonwealth Fund fellow; Eugenie Aboucheid of Syria, and Mary Sarah Fujii of Japan, all students at the University of Chicago.

Handicap Fails To Halt Career

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Several weeks ago pretty Clover Kerr, 20, was employed in a studio, tinting photographic portraits.

One morning in an automobile crash, she was so terribly hurt that surgeons had to amputate her legs and an arm.

Today Miss Kerr was back at home after a siege in the hospital. Her old job was wiped out by the accident. Yet—she smiled.

"I would rather write children's stories than anything else in the world," she said.

'Drums' Series Completed Tonight

All the present troubles of the Lawrence family come to an end in the latest installment of "Drums" tonight at 6:45, KVOE.

This final episode of the third "Drums" sequence finds William Farnum and other members of the Lawrence family overcoming the last of their troubles in India, but the... and they lived happily ever after" angle is missing, for it will only take them until broadcast time next Monday, March 29, to get into a fresh assortment of difficulties.

MacLean Explains Strange Actions

Why did David MacLean go into hiding?

What did he know about the mysterious disappearance of the music-box?

These questions are answered in the current episode of the popular saga of early California days, "Cassandra," on KVOE and the Mutual-Don Lee Broadcasting system from 5:30 to 5:45 this evening, when David makes a complete explanation of his strange actions to Don Carlos.

'MAYTIME' IS AT WEST COAST

Topping even their triumphs in "Naughty Marietta" and "Rose Marie," Eddy came to the West Coast theater screen tonight in "Maytime," lavish adaptation of the Rita Johnson Young opera which was one of the memorable hits of the New York stage.

Directed by Robert Z. Leonard and with a brilliant supporting cast headed by John Barrymore, the new Metro Goldwyn musical opens as one of the outstanding sensations of the new movie season.

The famous song hit of the original play, "Sweetheart, Will You Remember?" was retained for the film version with the remainder of the music divided between the sentimental and operatic.

The story opens in 1905 with Miss MacDonald appearing in old lady make-up for the first time, trying to solve the romantic problems of Lynne Chavert and Tony Brown by telling the girl of her own life so she can choose between love and a career.

The story then goes back to 1865 and, briefly, throws Miss MacDonald, as a prima donna, and Eddy, as a young singing student, together in a collision of the past. MacDonald already has promised to marry Barrymore who has been her benefactor and guiding hand to success. Then the years pass and they again meet when he sings opposite her in grand opera. This time their love cannot be denied and they are about to go away together when Barrymore kills Eddy. In an epilogue, the two lovers see the lesson in the story and the story ends with a "Smiling Through" finish.

The supporting cast includes Horace Heidt, Russell Hicks, Charles Judels and Guy Bates Post.

SEEK STAR FOR FILMING BOOK

NEW YORK, (AP)—In all of Hollywood, George Cukor, the motion picture director, announced, he doubts if he could find an actress who fits his conception of Scarlett O'Hara, heroine of "Gone With the Wind," the best seller novel shortly to be produced in the movies.

"I want a girl who is charged with electricity and possessed of the devil," Cukor said on his arrival recently from Europe, "and none of the Hollywood actresses fit in with my idea of the role." Cukor went to Atlanta to confer with Margaret Mitchell, author of the novel, and study locations for the film.

BOYS' BAND TO START HERE

Formation of a unit of the Crusaders Boys Military Bands here was indicated today as Harley T. Bennett, Santa Barbara, commander of the national organization, announced that the Blu-Note Music company of Santa Ana has been appointed local sponsor.

The Crusaders is a non-political, non-sectarian movement for boys, with organizations in three states. The original unit in Pueblo, Colo., organized in 1926, now has more than 300 members.

Comedian Meets Disillusionment

Lee Dixon, dancing and singing comedian who recently was drafted from Broadway night clubs for the screen, has had his first disillusionment in the movies. Playing the part of a song writer in "Ready, Willing and Able," the Ruby Keeler starring picture now playing at the Broadway theater, Dixon was in a dither over a fight scene he had to do with the heavy, Addison Richards. While he danced and sang and played a number of other scenes at the studio, he was practicing at home for the fist fight that was to come. Finally the big day arrived, and Dixon showed up, prepared to put over a sock.

"There is a slight change in the script," director Ray Enright told the comedian just before the scene was shot. "Richards is crippled up and can't take a punch, and besides we have decided that it would be a lot funnier to have you announce that you are going to mess up his features and then have him flatten you."

"I came too suddenly for Lee to protest until after finishing the shot."

The large cast of "Ready, Willing and Able" includes, besides the co-stars, Allen Jenkins, Louise Fazenda, Carol Hughes, Wini Shaw and Ross Alexander.

Virginia Bruce and Kent Taylor are co-starring in the companion picture on the double bill, "When Love Is Young."

I COVER THE CAPITOL

By SENATOR HARRY C. WESTOVER

The following is one of a series of weekly articles written by Orange county's senator, Harry C. Westover, covering activities of the state legislature. Opinions and comment expressed in this column are not necessarily those of The Journal.—Editor's note.

As prophesied in the "Senagrams" some weeks ago, the revenue bond bills went through the senate last week without any serious opposition. During the debate an attempt was made to require a two-thirds vote rather than a majority vote for all new improvements. However, the members of the senate voted down the amendments and proceeded to pass the revenue bills.

The senate was not satisfied with passing one revenue bill but passed two. The Garrison bill, S. B. 200, went through the senate without a negative vote; the Nelson bill, S. B. 888, had four negative votes registered against it.

From the senate the bill now goes to the assembly, and during the interim Assemblyman Clyde Watson predicted that there were enough votes in the assembly to favor of revenue bonds to put such a message over in the face of the governor's veto.

A revenue bond measure was vetoed during the 1935 session by the governor. Because of lack of time, no attempt was made to put the measure through over the governor's veto. Proponents of this year's bond measures this year started in plenty of time so that in the event of a veto by the governor, there will be time to try to override the governor's veto.

If the attitude in the legislature doesn't change, the revenue bond measure can be carried over the governor's veto if the governor sees fit to veto either one of the measures.

Senate bill No. 111, Fletcher, passed the senate last week and is of interest to residents in the Laguna Beach art colony. The bill provides that where works of art are not sold that they can only be assessed at the cash value of the materials constituting it.

We have not heard very much criticism in Orange county relative to the assessment of works of art. Our assessors usually have been of the opinion that until the works are sold there is a question of the value. However, in San Diego county the county assessor assessed works of art at the supposed market value prior to the time they were first sold.

One of the controversial matters before the senate during the past week has been the Tom Mooney issue. The legislation providing for a pardon for Tom Mooney initiated in the assembly and was passed by that body by a large vote. In the senate only five votes were registered for the Mooney pardon. The senate received opinions from the attorney general and from the legislative counsel that the legislature did not have the right to grant a pardon for Tom Mooney. Many members of the legislature voted against the pardon upon the theory that the legislature did not have the right to grant a pardon, and the vote against the resolution does not express the true sentiment as to the feeling whether Mooney was innocent or guilty or whether he obtained a fair trial.

During the past week an attempt was made by the Democratic assembly to replace Fred Wood on the state personnel board. He is supposed to have served on the board until the legislature selects one for his place. The assembly, without consulting the senate, selected a candidate for the position. The senate refused to concur in the selection, with the consequence that the move to oust Fred Wood at this time failed. However, there is sentiment that the position held by Fred Wood should be filled by an appointee of the legislature, and it is possible that later on in the session the assembly and senate will get together upon a candidate. This is considered a rather important job, and members of the conservative senate are interested in appointing some outstanding man to this position.

During the past week a good many Orange county residents have called upon the members of the legislature from Orange county. Supervisor Harry Riley and Willard Smith were in Sacramento attending the meeting of the State Association of Supervisors. Harry Welch and Lew Wallace of Newport Beach were in Sacramento relative to a bill concerning the management and control of Newport harbor. County Attorney Bill Menton also came to Sacramento to help put the measure through. Captain Hillyard, county surveyor, and former Road Engineer Nat Neff were visitors in Sacramento. Harry Welch, manager of the Fullerton office of the Southern California Edison company, was in Sacramento when the legislature was debating revenue bonds.

"Making Good Boys Better"

Here Are the Objectives of This Nation-Wide Boys' Organization

The greatest need of the world today is for a generation of all around developed men; men who are leaders in the ideals and standards of high character. Too little time and thought are given to the development of this caliber of manhood from the Boy of today. Good character is the Prime Motive of the Crusaders. It is the fundamental objective of the Phillips Crusaders to FOSTER and MAINTAIN straight forward and clean character training which will be the means of anchoring the ideals of better manhood into the lives of the boys with whom it comes in contact.

MEMBERSHIP IS OPEN TO ANY BOY BETWEEN THE AGES OF EIGHT AND FOURTEEN—WHO CAN FURNISH SATISFACTORY CHARACTER REFERENCE!

TEN REASONS WHY YOUR BOY SHOULD BE A CRUSADER...

- 1—The Crusader Program offers a constructive use for leisure time.
- 2—It starts the boy in musical training at the right age.
- 3—It answers the "gang instinct" with a definite program.
- 4—It develops leadership by applying interesting responsibilities.
- 5—It overcomes timidity and backwardness in a natural way.
- 6—It promotes respect for authority.
- 7—It sets a goal for the "young climber."
- 8—It creates a desire for good companionship.
- 9—It cooperates with the home, church and school to bring out the best that is in the boy.
- 10—IT STRENGTHENS CHARACTER.

—THE STUDY OF MUSIC—

The study of music is considered by modern educators to be one of the best Mind Trainers of all cultural subjects. It is not the aim of this organization to attempt to produce finished musicians but rather to give the boy a foundation on the instrument he wishes to play in order that he may derive the benefit of the musical activities in Junior High School, High School and College, and that he will find an appreciation in the work of others.

MILITARY TRAINING—

Military training in the Crusaders is purely a means of discipline, and mental and physical development.

In the various stages of Military training a Crusader learns how to obey the lawful orders of those in authority over him. By showing his willingness to obey others he is gradually given responsibilities which develop his own leadership.

RAPS STATE'S INSPECTORS AT BORDER

Sacramento Secretary of Chamber Tells of Discourtesy

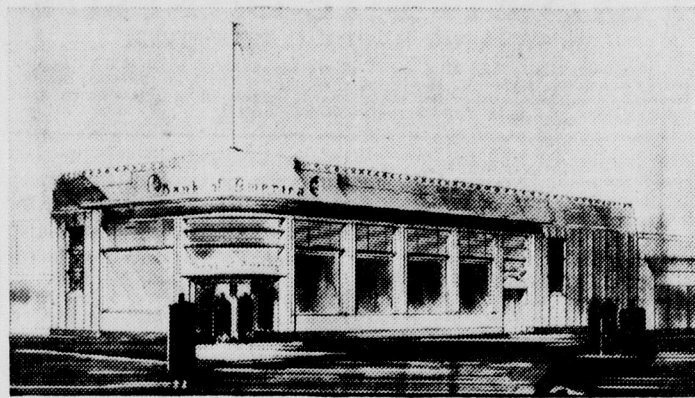

SACRAMENTO. (AP)—Arthur Dudley, secretary-manager of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce, today criticized the general attitude of the state department of agriculture's border patrol inspectors in handling automobile tourists entering California.

He declared that not only through personal observation but through complaints reaching him from tourists he is satisfied that many of the inspectors are lacking in courtesy.

"I find no fault with the system but merely with some of the individuals," Dudley said. "The inspection of automobiles and luggage as a protection to California's citrus and agricultural industry is necessary. The inspectors must see that the Mediterranean fruit fly and the alfalfa weevil do not enter the state."

"But they could maintain a courteous attitude in stopping motorists and inspecting the contents of the automobiles. Instead of explaining to the tourist the reason for the inspection, the border officers merely shove a written explanation into the hand of the motorist with the curt statement 'read this.' The inspection is immediately begun and at its conclusion the tourist must replace his effects which are strewn around on the seat of the car."

Several American universities now give four-year courses to train young men in the technical and legal phases of police work.

ORAL ATTACK PUIS HOUSE IN UPROAR

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Democratic leaders forced the house into sudden adjournment late yesterday to stop an attack on Representative Sabath (Dem., Ill.) by his colleague, Representative Church (Rep., Ill.).

The row precipitated a scene of wild confusion. Church charged that a law firm with which Sabath was connected received $6,400 in fees for serving a house committee investigating real estate bondholders' protective committee. Sabath headed the committee.

To stop proceedings after the controversy apparently had gotten out of control, Representative Rayburn (Dem., Tex.), the majority leader, moved adjournment after a consultation with Speaker Barchess.

The session ended with Sabath shouting, "My God, I'd like to answer these contemptible—"

The Sabath committee carried on its investigation of bondholders' protective committees last session and the rules committee has approved a resolution to continue the inquiry through the present congress.

Klamm Suggests Ham for Easter

To bring a new thrill to Easter Sunday dinner, George Klamm suggests "Flavorite" hams, prepared by his own secret process at the Broadway market in the Grand Central Market.

Klamm introduced "Flavorite" hams to Orange county about a year ago. The process was brought from Germany, where the method of sweet pickling meats was developed.

By the pickling process, meat is not only given a distinctive flavor, but is tenderized. The same process is used to pickle fresh beef tongues.

Oil and oil products are the principal exports in operation.

Dog Understands But One Language, And It's Chinese

ORANGE, N. J. (AP)—Fu, a mongrel collie, didn't move when a desk sergeant told him to "get out" of police headquarters.

So the sergeant called his owner, Tom Sing, a laundryman. Sing put the animal through his paces to show he understood only one language—Chinese.

6000 Bottles to Test Currents

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Six thousand wine bottles, containing papers and return postal cards, will be floated at sea as far out as 175 miles during the next three months to determine offshore currents. It is a move by the state to get information on drift of sardine spawn.

MRS. DYER HOME

CORONA DEL MAR. — Mr. David B. Dyer, who has been staying with his mother and father in Los Angeles during their recent serious illness, is home for a few days. She reports that her mother is showing some improvement but is still not beyond the danger point.

TALENT NIGHT IDEA SPREADS

In an effort to allow all entertainers in Orange county to participate in the regular Friday "Opportunity night" being held at Walker's theater, sponsored by O. R. Haan, local Chrysler and Plymouth dealer, and broadcast over KVOC at 2:30 direct from the stage of the theater, announcement was today made by Harold Simpson, master of ceremonies, that elimination shows will be held at the Brea theater in Brea each Saturday night and at the Ritz theater in Balboa each Thursday, starting immediately.

The winner of each night's performance at these theaters, in addition to receiving the cash award, will be brought to Santa Ana to appear on the Friday night show at Walker's theater and be given an opportunity to participate in the final elimination which will have as grand prize a trip to New York and return with all expenses paid, and an audition with a national network program sponsor from which a lifetime position may result.

More than 150 entertainers already have appeared on the stage of Walker's theater and a new system of balloting last week was inaugurated which permits two winners to be selected by the audience. The first is the cash award presented to the winner who, in the opinion of the audience, gives the best stage presentation. The other first place winner is determined by ballots which are supplied to all patrons of the theater, and a vote is taken as to who has the best radio personality, this being compiled with votes sent in by radio listeners after the broadcast.

All those desiring to enter into this contest may apply at any one of the three theaters where application blanks may be obtained. The time is growing short before the finals start when the grand prize winner will be selected by a group of well known judges in all branches of the entertainment field.

Police Get Back Arms of Signal

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—The police department has received stolen and go arms of a traffic signal, missing since Saturday night. A brief note, directing the finder to notify police, added: "Here's your nasty old sign. I woke up with the thing in my bed on Sunday morning."

Traffic Ridge Test Planned

POMONA. (AP)—A foot-high asphaltic ridge will be constructed on the dangerous Kellogg Hill grade of the Holt-Garvey highway west of here as a test to replace the no-crossover painted double lines on the four-lane road.

Boost Incomes Of Fishermen

SAN PEDRO. (AP)—Incomes of canner workers and fishermen will be boosted April 1 for a five-month period under agreements announced here.

Canneries will pay employees an additional 5 cents an hour. Prices for fish will be increased, ranging from $3 a ton for mackerel to $15 for yellowtail.

The new scale is Spanish mackerel, $16; American mackerel, $21; yellowtail, $70; bonita, $75; skipjack, $100; bluefin, $110; yellowfin, $10, and albacore, $200.

Four Seeking Stubbs' Seat

VENTURA. (AP)—Four candidates have filed petitions with the county clerk here to be on the May 4 ballot for congressman in the 10th California district.

They are Sanford D. Butts, Ventura supervisor; Alfred J. Elliott, Tulare supervisor; Harry Hopkins, Taft, former state highway commission chairman, and Al Sessions, Bakersfield newspaper editor.

The congressional seat was left vacant by the recent death of Representative Henry E. Stubbs.

Prisoner Cuts Wrist in Cell

VENTURA. (AP)—Dr. Jasper J. Mayer, who Sheriff Howard Durrey said slashed both wrists in his jail cell, received medical attention today.

Mayer, extradited from Texas, was convicted recently of grand theft and sentenced to 20 years in Folsom prison. He was accused of defrauding Mrs. Annie Bateman, Ojai widow, of $17,000.

Encyclical to Be Out Tomorrow

VATICAN CITY. (AP)—The Vatican announced today the papal encyclical on Mexico would be published in Italian and Spanish on Saturday, although it will carry an Easter Sunday date.

The encyclical was said to be unlikely to touch on controversial subjects and would be instead a direct appeal to the people of Mexico to return to full practice of the Catholic faith.

$5000 Worth of Live Foxes Stolen

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Ten silver foxes, each tattooed with the initials of owner, Carrie R. Schmick, were missing from their Los Angeles pens today.

Mrs. Schmick, who values the animals at $5000, said the identifying tattoo marks were in the right ear.

The Housewife... "Research Professor of Economy"

She's not a Ph.D. or an LL.D. She hasn't a diploma or a cap and gown. Her research is not done in the laboratory or the library. As a matter of fact, her findings are made, usually, in busses and in the suburban commuters.

She reads the advertisements in The Journal with care and consideration. They form her research data. By means of them she makes her purchases so that she well deserves the title of "Research Professor of Economy." She discovers item after item, as the year rolls on, combining high quality with low.

It is clear to you at once that you . . . and all who make and keep a home . . . have the same opportunity. With the help of Journal advertising you, too, can graduate from the school of indiscriminate buying into the faculty of fastidious purchases!

FINANCES OF QUINTS ARE REVEALED

TORONTO. (AP)—Lollipops, cod liver oil, cold cream, corn syrup, hair ribbons, absorbent cotton, aluminum dishes, doll clothing, cookies, news photos, motion pictures.

Of such came the financial kingdom of the Dionne quintuplets. Their indorsement or participation in those and perhaps a dozen other products has built the $765,000 fortune they now hold or will hold in bonds and bank accounts, it was disclosed in an accounting of their guardianship.

A balance sheet on the finances of the famous wards of the king, made public yesterday in the Ontario legislature, showed that 24 contracts had brought in $861,000 against expenditures of $96,000.

Actual cash in hand was set at $574,000, but there is $287,000 due from manufacturers who received the quint's indorsements.

The balance sheet covered the guardianship by Welfare Minister David Croll, Dr. Allan Roy Dafee, Judge J. A. Vallin of North Bay and Olivia Damm, their father, which went into effect July 26, 1934, two months after they were born.

Dr. Dafee was paid $200 a month from May, 1935, to Jan. 31, last, besides $537.17 in expenses. Their parents received $100 a month as well as a $1000 present on the quint's second birthday. The balance sheet covered transactions up to Jan. 31, this year.

TWO INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

A railroad crossing accident and a boulevard stop crash today had sent two persons to hospitals.

Leon Edgar Taylor, 213 East Pomona street, was in St. Joseph's hospital under treatment for head injuries incurred early this morning when his auto struck a freight car at West Fourth street and Western avenue. Police took him to the hospital for treatment.

Benedict Mares, 49, El Modena, was in the county hospital following a crash near Tustin last night with a car driven by William G. Staples, route 2, Santa Ana. Mares' car had stopped at a boulevard stop sign and was struck by Staples' car in the intersection, Mares said.

DEATH ENDS MAD DOG MENACE

Death probably has ended the menace of a mad dog which bit five persons and escaped at Seal Beach, Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer, said today.

The dog escaped early this week, and may have bitten other persons or infected other dogs. Despite a search by officers and health officials, the dog has not been found.

Dr. Sutherland renewed his warning to Seal Beach residents that if they have been bitten recently by any dog, they should submit to anti-rabies treatment.

Owners of dogs should keep them confined for 90 days and under observation for symptoms of rabies, the health officer said.

Worcester Death Called Accident

Traffic death of Leroy Worcester of Bellflower, who died Monday night as the result of an accident in Newport Saturday evening, was termed accidental by a coroner's jury yesterday afternoon.

Frank A. struck of Newport, driver of the car which hit Worcester, was exonerated by the jury at an inquest in the Dixon mortuary at Costa Mesa.

Funeral services for the victim were conducted this morning. Burial was to be at the military home in Cawtelle.

Charge Suspended Sentence Violated

Charged with violating a suspended sentence on liquor charges, Loring B. Rogers, 32, 1127 West Chestnut street, was held in the county jail today without bond pending hearing before Justice Kenneth Morrison.

Rogers, who was free under a suspended sentence on drunk charges, was arrested by Orange police last night assertedly in an intoxicated condition.

New Electric Device Kicks Frozen Fruit Off Belt

Electricity, which points a finger of scorn at defective oranges and then literally kicks them away from edible fruit, has been included in the latest invention to aid citrus growers and packers, by Harold C. Pierce of Anaheim, it was learned today.

Pierce, who has invented three other devices to aid packers, already has sold several of his latest type detector of frozen or otherwise damaged fruit to packing houses, it was announced. The machine is devised to measure electrical resistance of fruit passing along a conveyor belt.

Damaged fruit shows a different resistance than perfect, and is automatically kicked from the belt.

The only hand operation in the new device is setting a small indicator to select the minimum standard of fruit to pass the machine. Either direct electricity from power lines or batteries may be used, Pierce has announced.

Other inventions by the Anaheim man include a self-energizing box stacker; the Pierce hydraulic car squeeze for use in car loading and the Pierce pump clutch, also widely used in the citrus industry.

"Tell him to drink soapy water," McWilliams replied. "Old, dirty dishwasher will fix 'im up."

The McWilliams, to explain the remedy more fully to the caller, picked up the telephone. He rattled a series of instructions into the mouthpiece. A pause—then: "Oh, you haven't got a case of it, huh? Just painting your kitchen, and wanting to be sure? Oh, sure, you're welcome."

Lutz, then, with Sergt. J. F. McWilliams, first aid expert.

His $250,000 action against the 20th Century-Fox Corporation and a chain of motion picture theaters was based on a 25-word "gag" in the film, which he would assess at $10,000 a word.

The gag, uttered by Fred Allen, sandpaper-voiced radio comedian who played the role of "stooge" for a jazz orchestra leader running for governor (Dick Powell) was quoted in Meyers' complaint as follows:

"Up in Washington they elected a jazz band leader lieutenant governor, and if people will vote for a jazz band leader, they'll vote for anybody."

Those 25 words, Meyers' complaint set forth, "exposed him to ridicule," "deprived him of the confidence, respect and good will of the people" and "irreparably injured his future."

Meyers has retired from active jazz band leading, saying he was "leaving that business to the creditors—they get it all anyway."

F. D. R. LEAVING SOUTH TODAY

WARM SPRINGS, Ga. (AP)—Tanned and rested from two weeks of "roughing it" in the rural retreat, President Roosevelt ordered his special train made ready today for the return trip to Washington.

He was to leave late this afternoon via Atlanta where Gov. E. D. Rivers arranged to meet the train for a brief greeting.

Reaching the White House before noon tomorrow, he will plunge almost immediately into official affairs and later see Democratic leaders of senate and house.

After the Easter week-end, during which he will attend church with his family and watch the egg-rolling from the south portico of the White House, he will start work on his message to congress.

The President spent the last full day of his vacation here by driving his own six-year-old open car nearly 50 miles over rough clay roads to inspect his Pine Mountain farm, a Rural Settlement project and the Civilian Conservation Corps camp at Chisley, Ga.

Changes in a proposed landscaping and sprinkler system in the high school grounds were given formal approval at a special meeting Wednesday afternoon. Board members, without a quorum present, had given informal approval Monday night to changes which will cut $1500 or more from the cost.

Board Will Award Court Contracts

Santa Ana board of education will hold a special meeting Thursday night to open bids for construction of 12 tennis courts at the high school, it was announced today.

Wilkie's Radio Time to Change

"In the Crimelight," Capt. Don Wilkie's radio series broadcast from KVOE Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights, will be heard at 7 p. m. beginning Monday, it was announced today by Wallace Wiggins, KVOE program manager.

Hold Services for William Anderson

Funeral services were to be held in San Diego today for William Craig Anderson, 71, retired Anaheim jeweler, who died there Wednesday.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Harrison, Redlands.

FILM GAG LEADS TO HUGE SUIT

SEATTLE. (AP)—Washington's happy-go-lucky Lt. Gov. Victor Aloysius Meyers cut short a no-mad vacation in California today and headed his auto and trailer north to prosecute a suit against the film producers of "Thanks a Million" for a quarter of that amount.

His $250,000 action against the 20th Century-Fox Corporation and a chain of motion picture theaters was based on a 25-word "gag" in the film, which he would assess at $10,000 a word.

The gag, uttered by Fred Allen, sandpaper-voiced radio comedian who played the role of "stooge" for a jazz orchestra leader running for governor (Dick Powell) was quoted in Meyers' complaint as follows:

BATTLING OVER STATE TREE

OKLAHOMA CITY. (AP)—Club women disputed today whether Judas Iscariot hanged himself from Oklahoma's variety of redbud tree.

The reason: the state legislature recently passed an act naming the redbud the state's official tree. The bill awaits Gov. E. W. Marland's signature.

Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson of Tulsa, national president of the Federation of Women's Clubs, telegraphed the governor objecting to the choice. She declared the redbud is the tree from which the disciple who betrayed Christ, hanged himself. Therefore, said Mrs. Lawson, such a tree would not be a proper symbol for Oklahoma.

Club leaders who boasted the tree were quick to reply.

"In the first place," said Mrs. Virgil Browne, president of the University Forum, "the redbud is the tree from which the disciple who betrayed Christ, hanged himself. Therefore, said Mrs. Lawson, such a tree would not be a proper symbol for Oklahoma."

CITRUS PRICE ADVANCE IS EXPECTED

Orange Supply Will Be Smaller, Says U. S. Bureau Forecast

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The agricultural economics bureau predicted today citrus prices would advance this spring.

The supply of oranges is slightly smaller than usual, the bureau said, adding that "at least the usual seasonal rise" can be expected in prices of California navel and Florida fruit. California valencias, it said, will start the season at a high level, and probably will rise sharply.

Early predictions were for an exceptionally large orange production, the bureau explained, but the California freeze cut the total winter and spring crop to about 35,000,000 boxes.

The season's large production of grapefruit has kept prices down so far, but the bureau predicted improvement for the rest of the season. Much of the grapefruit has been canned, it said, and marketings have been unusually heavy. The grapefruit available now for shipment, therefore, the report said, is but little more than a year ago.

It said the price of lemons, with the smallest crop since 1924, is relatively high already, and probably will make a further seasonal advance.

The bureau said the strawberry crop in early states was 21 per cent greater than in 1936, with a resultant depression of prices. The improvement in consumer purchasing power, it added, probably will not be enough to bring the spring to offset the large production.

S. F. SHIP TIEUP IS AT AN END

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—Crews of longshoremen went to work along the waterfronts here and in Oakland today after a half-day ship tieup because of a labor dispute.

About 30 vessels, including the East coast freighter Knoxville City in Oakland, were being worked. Longshore leaders and waterfront employers' representatives conferred late yesterday after the employers severed relations with the local unit of the International Longshoremen's Association because stevedores had refused to pass seamen's pickets around the Knoxville City.

The half-day rupture virtually halted activity along the waterfront, recalling the stagnation that resulted last fall and winter from a 88-day maritime strike settled February 4.

A joint statement issued by Almon E. Roth, president of the Waterfront Employers Association, and Harry Bridges, head of the coast units of the International Longshoremen's Association, said the stevedores had given "assurances" no further stoppages would result from disputes outside agreements which ended the strike.

Starving Woman Found to Have $6520 in Cash

BURWELL, Neb. (AP)—Police reported today they had found $6520 hidden on the 1041-acre farm owned by Mrs. E. Whitesell, 90, for whom a guardian was appointed after a physician reported she was endangering her health by starvation. The physician said her diet consisted of apples, grown on the farm, and bread. The aged woman customarily walked four miles to purchase bread.

Produce Handlers Strike in Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A strike of produce handlers paralyzed wholesale business in fresh fruits and vegetables here today.

Samuel Lecata, district organizer for the wholesale market workers union, said produce handlers were demanding a 10 to 20 per cent wage increase, an eight-hour day and special wage scales for overtime work.

Mite of Baby Gets First Milk

OLEAN, N. Y. (AP)—John Ronald Fox, aged one week and weighing one and three-quarters pounds, was taken off his diluted whisky diet today and given his first milk.

Assistance League Will Endow Hospital Bed

The Assistance league of Santa Ana, a probationary unit of the Assistance league of Southern California, started work in earnest today on its program of help for persons in need.

It was announced by Mrs. C. Mortimer Plum, publicity chairman, that the league has decided to endow a children's bed at the St. Joseph hospital as a permanent project.

Endowment of the bed will fill a long-felt need, it was believed, and in order to raise funds for the work it may be necessary to hold special events from time to time, for which public support will be asked.

It was emphasized that the league will not handle cases eligible for county aid.

The hospital bed for children will be charge of Mrs. John Ball, chairman of the hospitalization committee. The cooperation of doctors who have cases in need will be sought. In order to affiliate with the Southern California league, it is necessary for the local league to have a project entirely supported by the Santa Ana group.

The Southern California organization has a membership of 1000, and was founded in 1920. The object of the league is to help those in need to help themselves. The motto of the organization is "All for Service—Service for All."

NAB WRITER OF BUNNY INSULTED BY EXPERTS

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Mrs. Lydia Swenson, 43, of Glendale, was held today on suspicion of extortion in connection with a letter which demanded $200 from Almee Semple McPherson.

Detective Lieutenant Robert F. Underwood said Mrs. Swenson admitted writing the note because "I needed $200 to pay down on a new car."

It was one of two received yesterday by the evangelist and warned "You are in great danger of the black hand." The note was signed "Mrs. L. Akers," but carried Mrs. Swenson's address.

The second letter sent to Mrs. McPherson was signed "A. M. Foote," apparently written by a weird schemer who has been sought by investigators since Tuesday.

Notes bearing this signature and asking $20,000 to avert a threat of harm were received this week by Ann May Wong, Chinese actress, and Mrs. David O. Selznick, wife of the film producer.

SEATTLE, (AP)—Right to his face the Easter bunny was called no good and a dummy today. And Easter only two days away!

"He can't even lay eggs," said Dr. Gus Knudson, superintendent of the zoological gardens.

"He can't even multiply, much less add or subtract," said Dr. Stevenson Smith, noted University of Washington child psychologist. "I wish he would subtract," commented Dr. Knudson, who with Dr. Smith was ready to stake his professional reputation on the conclusion that rabbits don't lay eggs.

Dr. Knudson said there were 15 rabbits at his zoo, all named Peter, and that not one of them had ever laid an egg. However, he said, keepers were keeping a pretty close watch on them at this time of the year anyway.

Park Grandstand Gets Approval

Presidential approval of a project to erect a new grandstand in the Orange city park was received by Dan Mulhern, chief of the WPA construction division, today.

The project will employ an average of 100 men, and will cost the government $19,208 and the city, as sponsor, $2862. It will be started when funds are allocated for the work.

Another project received here today was for allocation of funds on a general repair program in the city of Brea. The project will employ 22 men at a cost of $6409 to the government and $1941 to the sponsor.

ACTRESS SUES

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Charging breach of contract, screen actress, Constance Bennett, has filed suit for $65,000 against Gaumont-British Pictures Corp., Ltd., alleging it failed to make the second of two films she said she signed to play in.

RETAIL SALES BOOSTED BY EASTER

NEW YORK, (AP)—The final surge of Easter shopping carried retail sales to a new high for the year this week, Dun & Bradstreet said today in the weekly review.

Other divisions of business were less unanimous in trend. Wholesale markets were less active with attention centered chiefly on making immediate shipments of last-minute rush orders, and industrial operations were hampered by the spread of unsettled labor difficulties, the agency reported.

"Final preparations for the gay Easter parade provided such a strong propellant that consumer buying rose above unfavorable weather and other retardants," the review said. "The call for women's dresses, suits, coats, shoes and fur scarfs gathered force steadily, while sales of clothes for youngsters rose to a seven-year high for the period."

"Improvement was strong in men's suits, topcoats, hats, and furnishings. The uptrend continued in furniture, housewares and electrical appliances."

The agency estimated retail distribution for the country as a whole ranged from 4 to 10 per cent ahead of the preceding week and averaged 12 to 30 per cent over a year ago for the country as a whole.

Billboard Bill To Be Amended

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—Over the opposition of the California roadside council, the senate committee on governmental efficiency today sent to the senate a bill amending the outdoor advertising act.

The council objected to one section which it declared would permit the erection of billboards in what are normally restricted districts.

The section provided that if a county zoned any area for any certain kind of business that billboards must be permitted in the zoned areas.

The committee tabled a measure by Senator Hollister, Gaviota, which would have permitted the state nursery to sell trees at cost to owners of private lands.

Legislature Takes Recess

SACRAMENTO, (AP)—Meeting but briefly today, the legislature ran through its file of bills up for second reading, dodged all controversial issues and adjourned for the week at noon in observance of Good Friday.

Floors of both houses were crowded with the families of members and their guests.

Not even the usual committee activity was evident, most of the regular committee meetings were cancelled.

GREEN SHEET AD MAN DROPPED

A shakeup in the force and management of the Santa Ana Independent, local weekly newspaper, was made known this morning when John Akerman, former advertising manager, appeared before the state labor commissioner with complaints against the firm.

Akerman said he had been discharged after a meeting of directors of the publishing company last week.

He asked judgment for commissions on advertising contracts for the balance of the year, and also for his labor on Thursday nights when the paper is printed.

Labor Commissioner Leo VanderLans directed Akerman and Walter Adkinson, treasurer of the company, to decide on definite claims and to return. He added that the company will be held to a contract granting Akerman 25 per cent commission. Akerman said the company cut his commission over his protest.

PILOT ESCAPES DEATH

BRAWLEY, (AP)—Duane Wallace, Wichita pilot, today repaired his cross-country airplane after a narrow brush with death at Brawley airport. As he attempted a landing the ship struck high tension wires.

EXPRESS CHIEF DIES

NEW YORK, (AP)—William M. Barrett, banker and until a month ago president of the Adams Express company, died of a heart attack last night at his home. He was 78.

YAUQUIS HOLD CEREMONIES OF EASTER

Resurrection Rite Is Being Portrayed By Arizona Indians

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Doleful wails of black-clad mourners mingled with derisive howls of "evil spirits" today in the little Yaqui villages of Arizona and northern Sonora, Mexico, as the tribesmen, holding their fantastic Easter ceremonies, re-enacted the Crucifixion of Christ.

Pilate, representing the soldiers of Pilate, their faces covered with gaudy masks and their bodies painted, danced and screamed hideously about the Cristo's bier.

Nearby sat the faithful, mourning the death of Christ, their faces streaked with tears.

Trod Way of Cross
The tribesmen portraying the evil forces, who last night dragged the Cristo from a rude Garden of Gethsemane, tormented the weeping women.

The Pilatos and the Fariseos reached the peak of their wickedness as a procession of the faithful, headed by two warriors and guarded by the Pascaleros dancers, trod the Via Crucis (Way of the Cross) visiting the 14 stations, each represented by a crude cross of cactus wood.

As the procession passed, a masked flutist and a drummer playing mournfully, the Pilatos and the Fariseos darted in and out, battling with the Pascaleros.

Dance of Death
When the procession returned from the Cristo's bier, atop a nearby knoll, the Pascaleros began their weird dance of death which will continue without halt until Easter dawn.

The frenzied dancers will sweep about the ramada to the beat of tom-toms and gourd rattles until they drop from exhaustion.

For two days the followers of the Cristo have withstood the torment and derision of his foes, but tomorrow the forces of good will triumph over those of evil.

An effigy of Judas will be destroyed and scattered to the winds by the triumphant Pascaleros, whose joy will increase as the morning of the resurrection approaches.

Dates Back 400 Years
The tribesmen's enactment of the Easter story dates back 400 years, nearly a century before the Passion Play of Oberammergau.

With the biblical story of the Christ's crucifixion and resurrection, told them by Catholic padres who spread the faith throughout Mexico, the Indians have interwoven their own pagan rites.

This may be the last time the Easter story of the Yaquis is enacted here, for the tribesmen, political exiles from Mexico, have been granted permission to return to their native land.

'ROSE PADRE' TO GIVE UP WORK

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Rev. Father George J. Schuster, widely known as the "Padre of the Roses," announced he would abandon his famous gardens here, where he has developed a black rose, edible rose fruit, roses with fragrant foliage and other plant wonders. He said financial difficulties had forced him to this decision.

Nazi Denies Arms Plot With Brazil

BERLIN (AP)—Gustav Schlottter, who was a special envoy to Brazil of the reich ministry of economics has denied having proposed that Brazil store raw materials in convenient European spots for Germany in the event of war.

(Reports from Rio de Janeiro said Schlottter had tried unsuccessfully to induce Brazil to create such reserves of coffee, cocoa beans, meats, cotton and hides.)

"That is absolute nonsense," the envoy declared.

Passengers Rescued From Burning Ship

Eight passengers, four of them women, were rescued from the burning British freighter Silverlarch by the U. S. S. Louisville 100 miles from Honolulu. The cruiser's launch is shown in this picture, made by a passenger, nearing the freight. On the deck are passengers wearing life preservers. No flames from the blaze in the hold are visible. The Silverlarch made port at Honolulu safely. (Associated Press Photo)

TALK CONTEST PLANS ARE FORMED

Diversity of subjects characterized the Thursday evening meeting of El Camino Toastmasters club with A. O. Hatfield presiding. Discussion of the high school public speaking contest, the first elimination contest to be held April 22, was the chief matter of business. Pupils from Huntington Beach High school who have been selected as contestants will try out before the club for places in the district contest. A scholarship is the prize for the successful speaker of the International Toastmasters club.

Hatfield presented as speakers Dr. C. J. Raley, who spoke on "Mind," William Fernandez, who told something of the history of money troubles; W. H. "Ted" Blanding, with the story of Easter and the flowers now to be seen in Southern California; Robert Hookaday, telling of the inroads being made by termites; Ernest S. Wooster, whose topic was the preparations being made by the West to receive greater immigration from the Middle West, and Paul Alberts, the latter depicting the communistic life of the pilgrim fathers during their first seven years at Plymouth.

Wooster and Alberts tied for first place, Dr. Raley being given third. Critics were Nolan Doss, George Cruickshank, Joe Danner, Dr. Merrill W. Hollingsworth, William Gray and Braden Finch. General critic was Glenn Tibball. Ralph Smalley made a brief talk on how a criticism might be given. W. F. Croddy presided in the absence of Ferris Scott. Guest of the evening was Hubert Gohres.

Builders Are to Chart Policies

The Orange County Builders exchange will meet tonight with its newly elected secretary-manager, George Bassett to discuss policies and map out a program for the coming year. The special meeting was called by George Loung, president, and will be a dinner affair at 6:30 p. m. in Danner's cafe.

Bassett is scheduled to outline a suggested program and plans for increasing membership. There also will be discussion of means to increase service of the exchange to members and to prospective home builders.

Refinery Blast Burns Two Men

GREELEY, Colo. (AP)—One unit of a small gasoline refinery exploded before dawn today, critically burning the only two workers in attendance, and jarring the city two miles away. The unit burned to the ground.

Greeley police said Gard Coleman, one of the men told them the explosion came when he was unable to release the pressure on a distilling unit where he was refining crude oil.

To Probe Sugar Rate Schedules

WASHINGTON (AP)—The interstate commerce commission will investigate proposed schedules filed by three western railroads—Sacramento Northern, Southern Pacific and Western Pacific. The railroads would reduce rates on interstate transportation of sugar in carload lots.

Urges New Land System in Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Kazuhei Ikuta, a member of the Seiyukai, one of Japan's major political parties, has urged parliament to adopt the "German land system" because it represents the spirit of Japan's family system, combining land and blood.

Southland Citrus Industry Owes Its Life to Ladybug

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California owes its present multimillion dollar citrus industry to the ladybug, if you want to take the word of the federal writers' project members, now compiling a Los Angeles county history.

Fifty years ago, the federal workers have learned, citrus plants became so badly infected with a scale that experts agreed that the industry would die out in California.

Learning that the blight was introduced by trees other than citrus, imported from Australia, the department of commerce sent there to find a possible parasite that might be an enemy to the scale.

A scarlet and black insect—none other than the common ladybug—was found and brought to a citrus grove here. The scales vanished like magic. There were no black stumps of trees, burned in futile efforts to halt the disease, and thence began the steady growth of the industry.

Animal Training Causes Bad Dreams, Says Mrs. Beatty

NEW YORK (AP)—The trouble with a wild animal trainer's career, said Mrs. Harriet Beatty today, is that, even when you have the lions and the tigers under control, they still chase you in your dreams.

And such horrible dreams, she said, "Nightmares really. You moan and you toss and you sit up and shout, the other night, she recalled. 'I dreamed an elephant was biting off my arm.'"

Mrs. Beatty is blonde and 28, a native of Chicago and reared in Winnipeg. She is 5 feet tall and weighs 102 pounds.

She got her first taste of animal training three years ago when she married Clyde Beatty.

"You see, I had always liked animals, and after our marriage I began working in the cage with Clyde," she said. "One day I was in the cage with him when suddenly he walked out, leaving me alone. I was terribly frightened, but there were reporters there watching, and I went through the work, pretending not to be afraid."

She thinks strength and patience are important. "I haven't either," she said. "Clyde is strong and can work for hours, making an animal do things over and over until my head whirled. But I feel like throwing everything up in a little while."

Mrs. Beatty doesn't advise any girl to take up wild animal training as a career. It's too nerve-racking.

"I find myself sitting still sometimes and suddenly I begin to forget. My hands work, my mind is uneasy. I tremble. And Clyde is simply terrible sometimes. I wake in the night and I hear his bed shaking and quivering as he tosses. And suddenly he sits up straight in the bed, still asleep, and I know he's probably having a terrible dream."

350 Sent to Work On Valley Farms

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Approximately 350 persons were removed from relief rolls today to provide farm labor in the Imperial valley. Within the next two weeks a thousand more are expected to be dropped as the farm season progresses northward. The reduction followed a series of conferences between State Relief Administrator Harold Pomeroy and agricultural interests at El Centro.

Markets Closed For Good Friday

NEW YORK (AP)—All leading commodity and securities markets throughout the world were closed today in observance of Good Friday. All American markets, except the New York coffee and sugar and the cocoa exchanges, will function Saturday as usual.

All Canadian except the Winnipeg grain exchange, and European markets, will remain closed until Tuesday.

FORECASTERS IN DOUBT ABOUT WEATHER FOR EASTER SUNDAY HERE

SKIES TO BE CLEAR FOR SATURDAY

Storm Reported Brewing In North But Course Is Doubtful

The weather man today still has folks guessing about what kind of climate he's going to give Orange county for Easter. In fact, the weather man himself doesn't know. About all he will say today is that weather will be fair tomorrow.

That leaves an element of uncertainty for Sunday. Weather maps today showed another storm brewing in the north. Government meteorologists say the storm is still too distant to predict what course it will take.

However, plans are going forward in a large number of communities for Easter sunrise services outdoors, and it is expected that the uncertainty about the weather will make no change in those plans.

Many folks are planning weekend trips to the desert or to the Bakersfield area to see wild flowers.

Perhaps by tomorrow the weather man will have something definite to say about Sunday.

Red Cross Gives First Aid Awards

Advanced first aid certificates for a class recently completed by Delbert Lewis have been received from the American National Red Cross by the Orange chapter, it was announced yesterday by Alfred Higgins, chairman of the chapter.

Those who will receive the certificates are Clarence Bandie, Melvin E. Bohner, Garland W. Coltrane, Harold Dotson, Ernest Eckhoff, Walter R. Frick, Joe Hinricks, Alfred A. Hahn, Jr., Carl E. Krueger, Adolph William Prelumke, Oscar Lieffers, and Jack Newton.

Red Cross arm chevrons, worn only by uniformed first aiders after they have completed both the standard and advanced courses, have been received by Garland W. Coltrane and Carl E. Krueger, members of the Orange police force.

State's New CCC Quota Is 2985

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Of the 111,909 men to be enrolled immediately for the Civilian Conservation Corps program, California's quota has been set at 2985, it was disclosed today by Robert Fehner, director.

CRAIG RETURNS TO JAIL CELL

VENTURA. (AP)—Gavin W. Craig, former appellate justice, has returned to the Ventura county jail to finish serving a one-year federal sentence for conspiring to obstruct justice in the Italo Petroleum corporation case in Los Angeles.

Craig was brought here from the county jail at Sacramento where he was taken to face a legislative ouster hearing. Before the hearing started he resigned.

Ex-War Nurse, 105, Dies in Blaze

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Flames and smoke did what age could not do to Mother Minerva Hartman, 105-year-old veteran of three wars. They killed her last night as she slept in her three-room home on stills.

Day after day for years Mother Hartman has kept Old Glory flying from the flagpole at her home. She was a nurse in three wars, the Civil war, north front Indian war and the Spanish-American war.

She was born in Canton, Ohio, June 26, 1932, she had said, but aside from that little is known of her past.

Foreign Nation Orders Planes Worth $3,500,000

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A Southern California airplane company has contracted to fill a $3,500,000 order for 40 light bombing planes to be delivered this year to a foreign government.

The Vultee corporation in suburban Downey, which has built fighting planes for Soviet Russia and the Chinese nationalist government, said the latest order called for all-metal, low-winged ships with a cruising range of 2700 miles. The ships will carry three-man crews, six machine guns and will have space and equipment to handle a half ton of T N T bombs.

Vultee officials said the terms of the contract provided the name of the buying nation was to be kept secret, but that the planes would not be delivered to Russia or China.

Washing Machine Thief Sought

A tall, slender man with a washing machine was wanted by police today, following a report from Mrs. Bart Jackson, 201 Orange avenue, that someone had taken the machine from her back porch.

Neighbors recalled seeing a suspicious man near the Jackson home.

FORUM TOPIC IS SOCIAL DISEASE

Dr. Walter Brown Will Tell of Campaign to Curb Malady

Social diseases will be the subject for discussion at the Monday night meeting of the Orange County Forums at the high school auditorium. Dr. Walter H. Brown, professor of hygiene at Stanford university will be in charge.

Declaring that the discussion of venereal diseases can no longer be ignored because of the ancient taboo against talking about anything related to sex, a conspiracy of silence that has wrought inestimable damage, Dr. Brown states that the declaration of war on this great human plague by Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon-general of the U. S. public health service, is a challenge to our social intelligence.

"If we are to accept this challenge, we must regard the discussion of facts concerning this widespread social evil, ranking now as a major social problem, openly and honestly," says Dr. Brown.

"Too little is authoritatively known by the general public regarding the spread and danger of social diseases and more knowledge based on facts must be made public. The old tendency to regard them as sins and not as diseases must be eradicated, the biological viewpoint being more important than the moral," Dr. Brown says.

The public is urged to hear Dr. Brown, who is well known for his work with the American Red Cross over a period of many years as well as for his activities as director of child health in the state of Ohio and elsewhere. The meeting is free and begins at 7:30 p. m.

Refiner Awaits Gold Act Hearing

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Harry E. Beatty, ore refiner, was at liberty on $5000 bond today, pending hearing on whether he is to be returned to Sacramento to face charges of violating the gold reserve act of 1934. Secret service agents arrested him, charging he conspired to acquire gold bullion from unlicensed dealers.

Driver Is Held After Accident

Tom Morrissey, Jr., 20, Beverly Hills, was held in the Newport Beach jail today for investigation following what police termed "almost" a hit and run accident there last night.

Young Morrissey, they reported, crashed into a car parked at the curb in Newport. He fled from the scene, but later returned to the police station on his own initiative. Two girls with him, Freda Sawtelle, Anaheim, and Mary Buehler, Arcadia, were not held, police said.

The parked car is owned by Louie Meyer, publisher of the Oakland Leader and brother of Sam Meyer, publisher of the Newport News.

Fillmore Court Battle Shifts

Scene of the court battle of Mrs. Margaret Fillmore, sister of Mary Miles Minter, to recover $48,750 from her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Selby, had shifted today from Orange county superior court to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Fillmore, who recently eloped to Yuma, Ariz., and married Emmett J. Flynn, movie director, alleges her mother took money from a safety deposit box Aug. 5, 1936, the day Mrs. Fillmore was arrested on a complaint filed by her mother, charging insanity. The insanity complaint was dismissed but Mrs. Fillmore contends her mother failed to return the money.

Now Mrs. Fillmore has brought suit to annul her marriage to Flynn.

EASTER WILL BE GREETED BY MUSIC

Trumpets Are to Herald Sunrise Sunday at Melrose Abbey

Heralding the sunrise Easter morning, a trumpet quartet will play "March Triumphal" as the opening number of the sunrise service to be held at Melrose abbey in the chapel. With the final fanfare of trumpets the vested choir of Trinity Episcopal church of Orange will sing the processional hymn "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today."

As the processional hymn ends the Rev. Henry F. Sotley will mount the chancel to tell the ever-potent Easter story. The beauty of the story will be enhanced by the anthem "Oh Morn of Beauty," sung by the Trinity choir. The glory of Easter will be expressed in the baritone solo "Arise, Shine for Thy Light Is Come," sung by Richard Gregg.

The trumpet quartet, comprising Leland Auer, Otto Luttrell, Harold Lutes and Onie Saunders, will play "Glory to the Morn" and will be followed by Miss Myra Armstrong, director of Trinity choir, singing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth." Charles Armstrong will lead in the bass recitation of "Moses Lifted Up the Serpent."

The second anthem, "God So Loved the World," by Strainer, will be sung by the choir as a prelude to the baritone solo "Open the Gates of the Temple," to be sung by Marvin Everett. "Vespers on the Nile" will be played by the trumpet quartet and the choir, with Ethel Armstrong as soloist, will sing "Angels Roll the Rock Away" as the closing anthem.

Miss Margaret Bauer, organist, will assist the choir in presenting the program.

While the service is scheduled to start at 5:35 p. m., doors to the chapel will be opened at 5:30 to permit visitors to be seated before opening organ prelude "Lake at Evening" to be played by Miss Bauer.

Santa Ana Community Players Preparing for Annual One-Act Play Tourney

Two Nights In April Chosen

New Rulings and New Awards Announced by Sponsors

Once again, as a climax to another successful season of dramatic productions, the armored knight, who has come to be the symbol of the event, sounds his trumpet to signal the approach of the annual Southern California tournament of one-act plays, at which Santa Ana Community Players will play host on the evenings of April 23 and 24 in the Ebell clubhouse.

This year's performance will be the eleventh tourney in as many years, and, as in the past, will draw player groups from all parts of the Southland to compete for cash and cup awards.

In acting the host to other Southern California community players' groups, the Santa Ana organization considers this annual tournament the most important event on its yearly calendar, although it does not enter the competitions.

To date, with still almost a month to go, four groups have sent in their formal entries. These are the Pasadena Drama Guild, which will present "Evening Dress Indispensable," by Roland Pertwee; The Gold Hill Players of Monrovia, giving "Portrait of an Artist's Wife," by Roland Hartley; the Burbank Theater Guild, producing "The Bishop's Candlesticks," by Norman McKinnel; and the Riverside Community Players, who will give "The Locked Chest," by Masefield.

Schools Barred
In the past, one of the chief awards offered was the silver rotating cup donated by Mrs. Emma Otis, the first to offer an award for the tournament. The cup is now the permanent property of the Touchstone Drama Workshop of U. S. C., who won it three times in succession, and who, by a new rule barring schools and colleges, will no longer be eligible to compete.

This year, Mrs. Otis is donating $25 for expenses of the tournament. A Lorenz is giving first and second prize cups to accompany the prizes of $50 and $25, the former the Charles Riggs Memorial cash award donated by Mrs. Charles Riggs. The only rotating cup is the Cummings cup given for the best comedy.

Havrah Hubbard, dramatic critic of San Diego, is to be spokesman for the judges. Oliver Hinsdell, Paramount producer, will be present at least one night, it is announced, and promises to have talent scouts covering each performance.

Rules Announced
Rules and regulations governing the tournament are announced as follows by the Santa Ana sponsoring organization:
All applications shall be on the form supplied and shall be subject to approval by the Tournament Committee.

Three independent adjudicators will be appointed whose decision and award shall be final.
Colleges and schools are barred from competition.
Contestants shall be bona fide adult members of a regular non-professional Little Theater group or Community Players or-

SHADOW LACE GOES TO DINNER

Sheer black shadow lace, feminine as perfume, makes a distinctive dinner frock displayed in the pageant at the Miami Lace Ball. Vionnet designed it with a little rolled collar, long bishop sleeves and a full skirt hemmed in horsehair braid to make it swirl. The clips are sparkling rhinestones.

MRS. TURNER IS HOSTESS TO BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. O. F. Turner, 1523 West Ninth street, was hostess to her card club Thursday evening in her home. When the guests arrived they were seated at once at a lovely table decorated in yellow and orchid, where they enjoyed a dessert course.

The hostess used a bowl of callendulas, orchid candles, and tiny yellow chicks and Easter placecards at each place to carry out the season's motif.

Members present were Mrs. D. E. Liggett, Mrs. Frank Latham, Mrs. Ray Wolven, Mrs. C. E. Hayes, Mrs. Don Mozley, Mrs. Jesse Elliott, and a guest substitute, Mrs. J. F. Jacoby.

Half Hour Limit
The time limit for each play shall be 30 minutes. There shall be no change of scene. The curtain may be dropped to denote passing of time.
Plays shall be presented without scenery. Curtains will be furnished, but entrants may supplement curtains at their option with scenery.
Manuscripts of any original plays shall accompany entry application, and shall be submitted for the approval of the Tournament Committee.
A fee of $10 must accompany each application, as a guarantee for scheduled appearance and performance.

FRIENDS GIVE WELCOME TO MARY SCHROCK

Holiday homecomings have inspired a number of gayeties this week among the younger college set, one party last evening, at the G. W. Bassett home, 211 East Tenth street, honoring Miss Mary Schrock, home from the College of the Pacific at Stockton for Easter week.

Miss Frances Bassett, daughter of the home, presided as a charming hostess at the affair, choosing an Easter color motif of green and yellow for her decorations.

The friends played court whist during the evening, and at the close enjoyed a refreshment course, also in the Easter theme. Invited to honor Miss Schrock, who is the daughter of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Schrock, were the Misses Jean Mulhar, Bernadine Helberg, Margery Button, Mary Zaiser, Beulah Perkey, Betty Goode, Ruth Dunlap, Marjorie Van Horn, Betty Hill, all of Santa Ana; and Mrs. William Heeger of Fullerton, formerly Miss Katherine McDermott of this city.

The play selected, a substitute play conforming to the rules, shall be presented, and shall be entitled to compete. Deposit will be returned to performers, ($50.00.)

Points of judging will be based upon the following: Characterization and interpretation, 30; tempo, 20; direction, 20; voice and diction, 20; make up and costume, 10; total points, 100. Each group will be responsible for the making up of its players.
Awards: Best comedy—Cummings cup (rotating).
First prize—Riggs Memorial cup and a cash prize of $50 will be awarded to the group securing most points.
Second prize—The Santa Ana

Sixteen Are Honored at Luncheon

Recalling a happy event of last fall, the celebration of her golden wedding anniversary, Mrs. E. L. Morrison presided over a lovely Easter luncheon yesterday in her home at 116 South Birch street to honor the past presidents of the First Presbyterian Ladies Aid society, who assisted her on that important day.

The luncheon was a return courtesy to those ladies who aided her in hostess duties at the reception, an expression of the hostess' gratitude for their part in making the anniversary a memorable one for her and Mr. Morrison.

Mrs. Morrison, herself, is a past president of the society in her church. Her guests yesterday included Mrs. R. J. Blee, the first president of that group, and all of the succeeding ones with the exception of Mrs. J. R. Moore, who is very ill in the hospital.

Setting a large dining room table and two smaller tables in the living room for the luncheon, the hostess chose Belle of Portugal roses for the center decorations. Sweet peas and other spring flowers were arranged through the rooms in artistic bouquets.

In addition to the past presidents' group, Mrs. Morrison also invited her sister, Mrs. G. A. Rowell, who was an important member of the reception group, and Mrs. F. E. Dearth, who shares an Easter Sunday birthday with her hostess. These birthday anniversaries and that of Mrs. G. B. Darnell, another guest who is celebrating today, were also honored at the luncheon.

Guests of Mrs. Morrison yesterday were Mrs. Blee, Mrs. J. R. Medlock, Mrs. O. H. Forgy, Mrs. Mary Heathman, Mrs. R. J. Goodwin, Mrs. C. S. Kendall, Mrs. C. H. Bair, Mrs. S. A. Jones, Mrs. C. A. Back, Mrs. G. B. Darnell, Mrs. W. W. Anderson, Mrs. Cynthia Davis, Mrs. A. J. Beckman, Mrs. Dearth, and Mrs. Rowell.

The guests brought steamer letters for one of their number, Mrs. S. A. Jones, who is sailing soon for the Orient.

KITCHEN SHOWER GIVEN WHITNEYS

A surprise kitchen shower, featuring canned goods, was held Tuesday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whitney of 1802 Spurgeon street, after a routine business meeting of the senior young people's Christian Endeavor society of the Church of the Brethren.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitney had invited the group, of which he is president, to meet there at their new home, and they were greatly surprised when later in the evening the members of another church group, the young people's society, appeared, and a box of groceries was presented to them to stock up their cupboards.

At the business meeting Theron B. Cooney was elected to the presidency. Other officers are Ellsworth Teter, vice-president; Mrs. Paul Baker, secretary-treasurer; Ellsworth Teter, prayer meeting chairman; Mrs. Ellsworth Teter, lookout chairman; Mrs. Nellie Jordan, social chairman; and Harry Whitney, missionary chairman.

Others present were the Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Landis, Paul Baker, Mrs. Ray Cooney, Jean Jordan, Donald Baker, Albert Hoover, Harold Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Stover, Les Baker, Milton Mitchell, Mrs. Lucille Jordan, Mrs. Paul Teter, Alfreda Forsberg, Kathryn Cooney, and Mrs. Garold Teter.

A cup and a cash prize of $25 will be awarded to the group placed second.

First honor for best individual lady performer, book award and certificate of merit.

First honor for best individual man performer, book award and certificate of merit.

The Cummings cup shall become the permanent property of any group winning three successive tournaments, or three tournaments in five years. The trophy otherwise shall be returned to Tournament Committee within 11 months of date of contest.

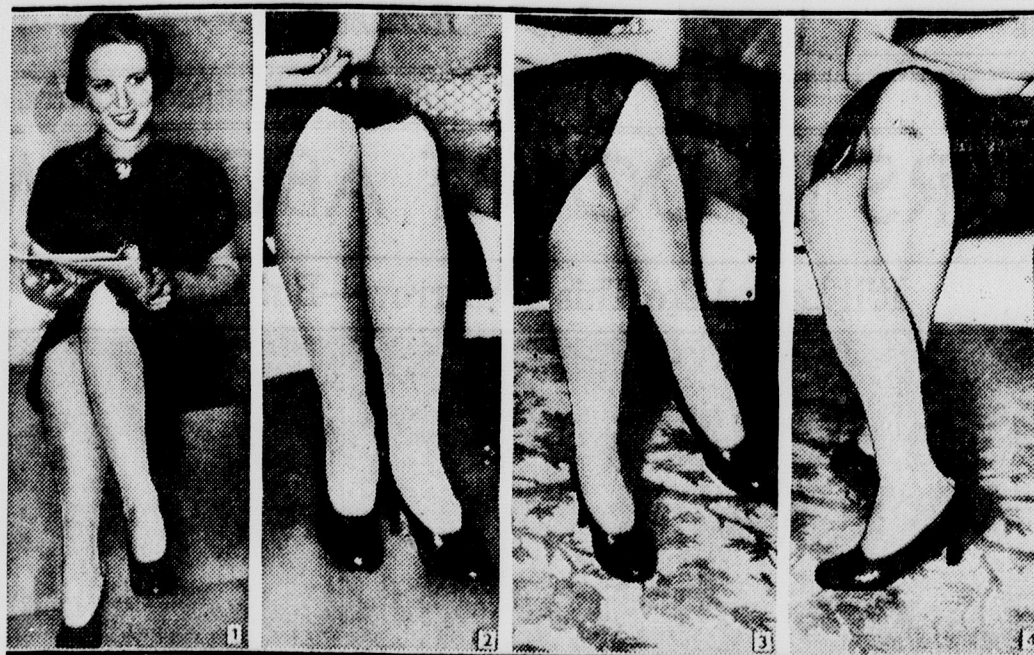

Contestants shall pay their own traveling expenses, and any royalty charges that may be incurred. Restricted use of certain favorite plays is necessary in order to avoid repetition; therefore the following plays are barred from competition:
"The Valiant," "Spirals," M. L. Nelson; "The Minuet," "El Cristo," "What Never Dies."

Interpretation of non-professional: The committee regulates that no professional actor shall compete. By a "professional actor" is meant—a person who makes acting his vocation and earns his living in that manner. This does not exclude ex-professionals, who for two years prior to contest have not been professionally employed.

Santa Ana player groups will not compete in the tournament.

HOW—AND HOW NOT—TO SIT DOWN

These tips to sit-downers have nothing to do with strikes. With shorter skirts back, Buffalo, N. Y., models are rehearsing the art of graceful sitting. Here are four views on the subject. (1) Margaret Mann demonstrates the most graceful method of managing shorter skirts. (2) This is correct, but not as comfortable as the first. (3) Not bad, but the angle is unflattering. TWO BIRTHDAYS MARKED AT DINNER

Mrs. Paul Carnahan entertained at a birthday dinner early this week in her home at 501 East Walnut street, honoring the birthday anniversaries of her husband and of their son's wife, Mrs. Harold Carnahan.

The hostess centered her table with a bowl of sweet peas, from which rose, among the flowers, slender tapers in the same pastel colors. A delicious turkey dinner concluded with a birthday cake with lighted pink candles, which was placed before Mrs. Carnahan at the serving of the dessert course. Both guests of honor shared in blowing out the candles as they made birthday wishes, and the cake was then cut and served to the guests.

The three daughters of the Paul Carnahans participated in the gathering. Mrs. D. J. Matlocks, who was accompanied by Mr. Matlocks and their daughter, Marilyn Jane, from their home in Beverly Hills; Mrs. Pauline Haley of Los Angeles; and Mrs. Helen McCollum of the home and her daughter, Carol Jeanne. Completing the family group were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carnahan and their children, Bruce and Sharon Gay, and the hostess and the other honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carnahan.

TRI-QUAD CLUB HAS EASTER PARTY

Mrs. Kenneth Hill of Anaheim was hostess Wednesday evening to the Tri-Quad club, the members gathering in her home for several hours of bridge and a salad course at the conclusion.

After scores had been added and prizes presented to Mrs. Frances Levy high and Mrs. Grace Anderson, second, the hostess spread her tables with dainty luncheons, centering each with an Easter basket of colored eggs. Places were marked by little baskets of flowers, serving as individual favors for the guests.

Enjoying the evening were the Mesdames Robert Lufberry, Kay Pangle, Joseph May, and Frances Lucy, the Misses Edna May Heim, Grace Anderson, Jeannette Jorgensen, Rose and Helen Allen, and Margaret Young, and the hostess, members of the club, and one guest, Miss Hum Kendall, sister of Mrs. Pangle.

SEWING SECTION HAS MEETING

The sewing club that is a section of the Veterans of Foreign Wars had a pleasant meeting this week with Mrs. Lena Hansen, 320 East Pomona street. After a covered dish luncheon, the members sewed on dresser scarves for the veterans' hospital.

Members present were Mrs. Stewart, president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Juanita Cozad, Mrs. Anna McCleary, Mrs. Fannie Armstrong, Mrs. Anna Sullivan, Mrs. Lurline Clayton, Mrs. Louise Hubbard, and Mrs. Vera Pope.

SITTING DOWN IS CURE FOR WORRY

NEW YORK. (AP)—Beatrice Lille said today that if people stayed seated more, instead of running around in circles, they wouldn't worry so much.

"Just sit in your own home and relax when you're worried," was the stage star's recommendation. "Or—better still—lie down on a hard floor. I love any role in which I have a chair."

The one thing that bars Miss Lille from being an A-1 "sit-downer" is that she doesn't strike. She is not one to worry over economics—or anything else, for that matter.

The slender, brunette comedian, mother of a tall young son, is now playing in "The Show Is On," which has about five scenes in which she sits or lies down.

Her idea of luxury is to sit on a comfortable divan on a stage, be funny at the same time and get a laugh.

In addition to relaxation, on a chair or hard floor, Miss Lille recommended, for getting over a fit of the blues:

"Change your environment. Travel a bit, if you only go to the next county.
See new people. Give a party. Buy a new hat—preferably one with a red-bird on it, or something else surprising, so people on the street turn and gasp with amazement."

Pierian Club Two Years Old

The end of two full years, in which the Pierian club members have steadily grown more prolific and more accomplished in their literary output, was celebrated at the monthly meeting of the club yesterday.

Because it was in a way a birthday anniversary, the hostess, Mrs. George Bond, had decorated a lovely cake upon which blazed two candles, and this was brought in at the conclusion of a turkey luncheon. The pastel pink and yellow and green tones of the icing were repeated in the bouquets of spring flowers which lent color and fragrance to her rooms.

A surprise feature was the showing of dainty handkerchiefs upon Mrs. Bond, who is president of the club.

The customary program, to which nearly every member contributes some bit of verse or prose, was unusually delightful. Mrs. Earl Ladd read a sketch entitled "My First Easter Bunny," after the general topic of the day, "Pets," had been introduced in a poem of the same title by Mrs. Colleen Clark.

All other contributions were in poetic form, and included "Blackie," by Mrs. J. D. Watkins; "Our Own Pet Dog Duke," by Mrs. Jennie Crawford; "The Crank," by Mrs. Robert Church; "Foster Mother," by Mrs. Hugh Gerrard; "Our Pets," by Mrs. Henry Guthrie; and a group of four, "My Pal," "My Mountain Friend," "Our Nick," and "No Little Dog," by Mrs. Bond, the hostess.

Mrs. Rose Haveley was a guest of the day, and Mrs. Charles Nalle completed the club's roster. Mrs. Jacob Bolander was unable to be present.

FORMER SANTA ANAS ARE HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newcomb of Los Angeles, Mrs. Austin, were hosts at dinner on Wednesday evening, entertaining in honor of Mrs. Allen Wallace and son, John, of Burlingame, former Santa Anas who are visiting at the J. K. Evans home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans and Mrs. W. H. Wright were guests at the dinner, and Mr. and Mrs. Newcomb and their son, Robert, completed the circle at the table.

Bridal Party Honored At Dinner

Bringing to a close the series of pre-nuptial courtesies which have continued almost up to the wedding date, Mr. and Mrs. Leon W. Lauderbach and their bride-elect daughter, Miss Marjorie Lauderbach, entertained members of the latter's bridal party, and others assisting in preparations for the ceremony, at a lovely dinner party last night in their home on Spurgeon street.

In keeping with the theme, flowers and all appointments were in bridal white, blossoms in low bowls centering the card tables at which places were laid for 21. The guests included the Rev. Mr. O. Scott McFarland, who will officiate at the ceremony tomorrow afternoon at the First Presbyterian church; Whitford Hall, who will be the soloist, and Mrs. Hall; Alan Reilly, organist; the maid of honor, Miss Alberta Greene, and bridesmaids, Misses Mary Lou McFarland, and Roberta Tuthill; the four ushers, Leon Lauderbach, Jr., brother of the bride, and Harold Youel of Santa Ana and Robert Schaefer and Albert Chaney of Corona; Miss Maxine Stickel and Mrs. Louella Greene, who are assisting; Miss Sylvia Ranney, who will be the flower girl, and her mother, Mrs. Kenneth Ranney; Miss Lauderbach and her fiancé, Walter Blair of Corona; the bride's mother and brother, Mrs. George Blair and Gene, also of Corona, and the host and hostess, Mrs. McFarland, also invited, was ill and unable to be present.

The bridal pair took this opportunity to present gifts to those who will attend them at the altar tomorrow, marking their places at the tables with the daintily wrapped packages.

FOUR ENTERTAIN MAGNOLIA GROUP

Magnolia circle members found tables appointed in their new colors of blue and gold when they met for luncheon yesterday at the home of Mrs. Charles Tibbets, at 2135 North Main street, with Mrs. W. C. Dunlap, Mrs. Bert Hulm, and Mrs. Rosa Hall as co-hostesses. Blue candles and yellow marigolds carried out the color motif.

After luncheon, Mrs. James Blackwell presided over a business session, at which 21 members answered roll call. Guests included Mrs. Lenore Fletcher, the district deputy from Long Beach; Mrs. Mary Sewell, and Mrs. Lucille Stoker.

Mrs. Milton Crawford conducted a hilarious guessing game, the prizes going to the Mesdames Mammie Zimmerman, Charles Tibbets, Malden McKee, Anna Nelson, and Henry Kimball.

The next meeting will be in April at the home of Mrs. J. C. Smith.

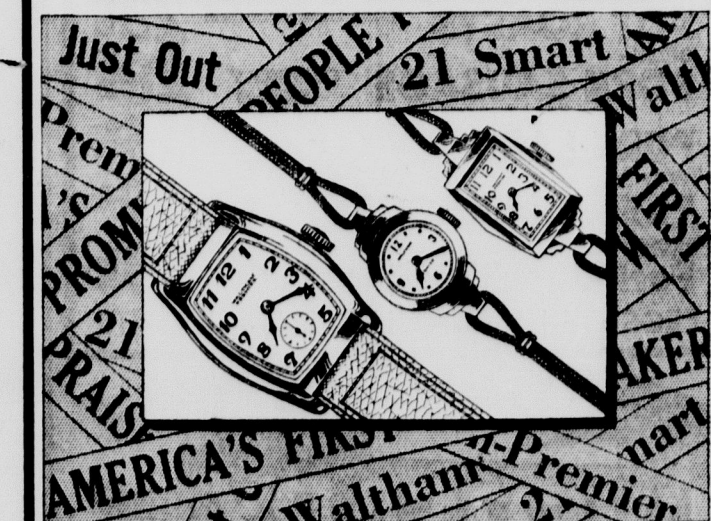

CLUB MEMBERS TO BE FETED

Fifty-Fifty club's regular dance on April third at the Villa Riviera will be in the form of a bon voyage dinner dance for two members, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Redington of Los Angeles.

The Friday Afternoon

By DONALD BUTTON

Huntington Library is, as they say, truly loveliest in early spring. Walk down paths of fragrant white azaleas, pause beside a fountain banked in heather or stoop (if a guard isn't watching) to examine brilliant cyclamen.

Walk with reverence to John Russell Pope's white marble temple for the Huntingtons that's set among eucalyptus, oak and the flowerings of spring.

Imagine tea upon the terrace and stringed instruments softly playing. Pace through rose-covered arbors.

Linger beside the water-lilies in the Japanese garden, or wander among the maze of palms upon the east lawn.

Then, and only then, go in to see those exquisite drawings of William Blake they're recurrently showing in a second floor gallery. The gardens have made a mood for them. Try it!

The effect of one room, wherein hang Reynolds' "Mrs. Siddons," Gainsborough's "Blue Boy" and Lawrence's "Pinky," is practically beyond comprehension. And yet that's the way they're offered.

Add a Constable, a Raeburn or a Romney, as they are, and it becomes a treasure house of the English masters. I think everyone should put that room on his "must" list.

Over in the library is a very fascinating showing of contemporary cartoons, of which Isabel Simerland Johnson says "—these offer a running comment on American life today—grim, caustic, humorous—which Johnson again points out, the editorialists they were destined to accompany.

You'll be attracted, regardless of political affiliation, to Shoemaker's "The Music Goes Round and Round," Ding Darling's "Wanted—A Little More Control."

Gluyas Williams' "The Bridge Prize" is caustic and penetrating comment on his contemporaries, whilst Mickey Mouse, Minnie and Donald Duck (my favorite Disney) perform in gay fashion one of Walt Disney's best.

Historical cartoons, including the work of Thomas Nast, called "our best recruiting sergeant" by Abraham Lincoln, offset and authenticate the present day work.

Have I made it sufficiently inviting?

Contemporary photography also intrigues me. With cameras becoming scientific instruments, complete equipment available, it has become a fascinating hobby.

When that photography goes beyond a nucleus of focus, card and composition, and tells a story—that is really something!

Beginning Tuesday at the local library, there will be the story of Padua Hills in pictures.

There are the types of players—from strong, resolute Juan March to lovely Sarita Matias. There is Carlos Tarin and Anita de la Rosas.

There are scenes from the plays, and pictures of the theater.

It is the story of Padua as words could never tell it. I think you'll want to see it.

Coming to Santa Ana at the same time similar material is at the Los Angeles public library, the exhibit is all the more interesting, emphasizes the esteem held for our library's influence.

We in Santa Ana have been fortunate in having opportunity for watching the development of Jean Goodwin and Arthur Ames' Willard night school sketching and painting class.

I found the pre-Christmas show at Alquist's very worth-while, think it compares most favorably with the current, similar show at Laguna.

Hung this week at Alquist (on North Main) are the most recent works of that same group. It is, as I have said, a very excellent opportunity. Make the most of it!

One of the difficulties in columnizing, and yet very necessary in a news way, is previewing.

Shows to have a real interest hang about two weeks, and real interest in them must come the week prior to showing. Hence previewing.

I had sections of the current Martinez show at Scripps unrolled and shown me before they were hung, that I might get some conception of the man's work to pass on.

Quite overpowering, and still very delightful, then, was my opportunity to see the completed exhibition last week.

Heads three and four feet across did not seem out of size, for they are marked by a mastery of design regardless of scale.

Nuns march in procession across a cartoon (the sketch, in this case, for a mural); men's heads and hands are upon another. It gets you!

Most interesting to me was a flower painting that should be in every flower painter's seeing curriculum. The swing of the design, the strong light, the glassiness of the glass container—well, they're simply "tops."

I'm on the Miller band wagon when it comes to Alfredo Ramos Martinez!

Keep Cookies On Shelf For Kiddies

By JUDITH WILSON

Have you been neglecting your cookie jar since Christmas? Shame on you, if you have. You have been overlooking an easy dessert that the whole family loves, and that will bring both vitamins (in cereal form) and happiness to your children. Just try this simple recipe.

Grapenut Cookies

Sift and measure 2½ cups cake flour, add 1 teaspoon soda and ½ teaspoon salt and sift again. Cream ½ cup butter or other shortening and add 1 cup light brown sugar, creaming until fluffy. Add 1 egg, well-beaten, ½ cup grapefruit, 1 teaspoon vanilla and ¼ cup sour milk alternately with the flour mixture. Chill the dough until firm, roll a small amount at a time on a well-floured board and cut with a floured cutter. Place on a greased baking sheet. Mix together ½ cup sugar and 1 tablespoon cinnamon and sprinkle over the tops of the cookies. Bake in a hot oven 6 minutes. This makes about 8 dozen cookies.

NAMES PLACED ON STATE CLUB BALLOT

Nominees for offices in the California Federation of Women's clubs were announced today, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Bakersfield, two weeks in advance of the annual convention to be held in that city from April 6 to 8.

Mrs. Henry J. Brandt, president of the Bakersfield Woman's club, hostess group for the convention, announced nominees as follows:

For president, Mrs. Charles Kierluff, Madera, and Mrs. I. H. Teilmann, Selma; for vice president, Mrs. C. F. Kenworth, Hanford, and Mrs. J. A. Silver, Dos Palos; for secretary, Mrs. J. C. Johannesen, Shafter, and Mrs. D. E. Wellman, Modesto; for treasurer, Mrs. Jerome Frisbee, Lindsay; for auditor, Mrs. C. A. Makin, Los Banos, and Mrs. J. U. Gartin, Modesto.

For trustees, Mrs. J. C. Bradbury, Ceres, and Mrs. Louise May Eisensohn, Exeter.

HONORS FRIEND AT SHOWER

Mrs. Glann Feldner of 1312 West La Veta street was a recent hostess when she complimented Mrs. Charles Snyder of Santa Ana at a party.

Mrs. Snyder was completely surprised when she reached the Feldner home for a personal call to find a group of her friends gathered there amid a profusion of peach blossoms and pussy willows. A small umbrella covered in pink crepe paper lay on a table, and from its spokes fell a shower of daintily wrapped layette gifts.

Hearts were played during the evening, with prizes going to Miss Maria Johnson and Mrs. Iva Biele, and a supper served at a pink and blue table ended the pleasant affair.

Guests of Mrs. Feldner were Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. Iva Biele, Mrs. Georgia Blinner, Mrs. Esther Rinnells, Mrs. Eleanor McCullom, Mrs. Zella Alexander, Mrs. Dorothy Rohan, Mrs. F. M. McFarren, Mrs. Edythe McWhorter, Mrs. E. Snyder, Mrs. A. Dorman, Mrs. Harold K. Pollock, Miss Marion Johnson, and Miss Grace Brooks.

CLUB DINNER POSTPONED

Santa Ana Woman's club announces postponement of the evening dinner planned for March 31 in the Veterans' clubhouse, changing it to a later date on account of sickness.

Cleanliness Demands Extra Care

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Bath brushes, sponges, big cakes of freshly lathering soap and plenty of warm water are first aids to cleanliness—the kind of cleanliness that insures a smooth, clear, unblemished skin and a rosy complexion.

But your daily bath, even with their help, is not sufficient to make you as immaculately dainty as you must be to be truly lovely and charming. You must pay strict attention to all of the little details that insure good grooming.

Use a good liquid non-perspirant twice weekly, being careful to follow the manufacturer's directions. This will not only free you from the danger of offending, but will prolong the life of your best frocks. As an additional precaution, using a powder or paste deodorant daily.

Keep your hair clean, shining and fragrant. Have a good hair brush and use it daily—10 or 15 minutes brushing is not too much if you can find the time. Brush your hair up from the temples and forehead, up vigorously from the back of your neck until your hair stands out wildly over your entire head. Be sure that the bristles of your brush penetrate to the scalp at the beginning of every stroke.

EASTER TABLES SET FOR CLUB MEMBERS

Martha Washington club members found their places at pretty Easter tables when they met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Sarah House, 320 Orange avenue, for a 1 o'clock luncheon.

Mrs. House was assisted by her sister, Mrs. A. Wildersall of Long Beach, in her hostess duties, arranging an especially delightful day for her guests, who included the Mesdames Stella Henderson, Inez Baker, Ruth Zabel, Mamie Zimmerman, Elizabeth Jernigan, Bess McDonald, Millie West, Pauline Decker, Mae Curtis, and Hattie Peters. The next meeting, on April 14, is to be at the home of Mrs. Henderson.

Home Service Always Room for a Rock Garden

Don't let any part of your plot go to waste this year. Make a lovely little rock garden. Right now is the time to start. The ground's right for you to build your slope, to set rocks firmly. Prepare for your plants by adding sand and leaf-mold to your good garden loam. To keep the effect natural and woodland, pick rocks that are weather-beaten, varied in size.

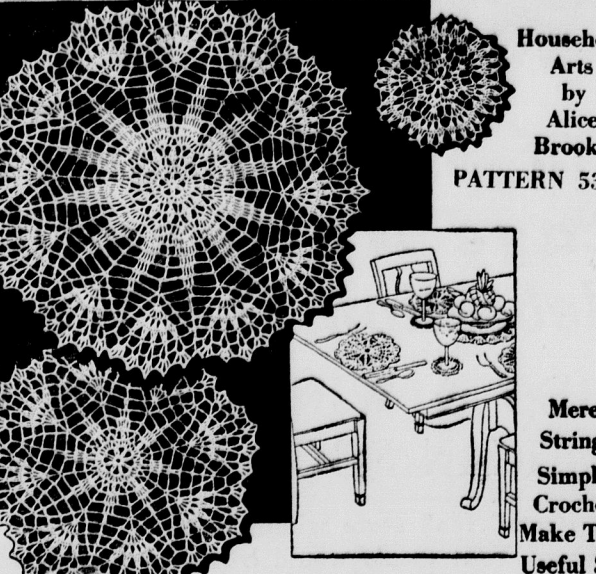

Leave room, when you plant, for mosses to spread. For flowering plants to trail. For sunny spots choose stonecrop and golden mosses. Alpine poppies, saxifrage. For shady corners, ferns and white mosses are best; so are primroses, violets.

If you can add a tiny lily pool, charming! A tub of water set in the earth will do.

Our 32-page booklet gives simple directions for rock gardens, tips on inexpensive plants. How to make lily pools—container, natural and cement lined.

Send 10 cents for your copy of How to Make Rock Gardens and Lily Pools to The Journal, Home Service department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Doilies Give Table Dainty Touch

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

PATTERN 5372

Mere String Simple Crochet Make This Useful Set

Breakfast, luncheon, dinner—all welcome a table-setting of airy lace doilies. Begin now on a matched set, and you'll have them ready for informal "warm weather" entertaining. The three useful sizes (5, 11 and 15 inches in diameter) are easy to crochet, and unbleached, white or colored string may be used. These cobwebby doilies (excellent as gifts or fair donations) look very perky when stiffly starched. In pattern 5372 you will find complete instructions for making the doilies shown; an illustration of them and of the stitches used; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Santa Ana Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif. Be sure to write plainly your name, address and pattern number.

MARY STODDARD

Is Gossiping Husband Lacking in Respect for Wife and Family?

By MARY STODDARD

Within the past few weeks we published here a letter from "Ann" who begged for advice. She declared she was married to an inveterate gossip who respected not the slightest detail of family life of any sort. She said she was virtually desperate because she felt so mortified to have her neighbors know every little thing that was going on, often before she herself was aware of it.

Here is a reply that gives her some advice:

Dear Miss Stoddard: May I say a few words to "Ann"? I agree with her all of the way. To think that a husband could be so "catty." If a wife could have any privacy at all, she should when she is married.

I would show your letter that you wrote to Miss Stoddard to him and wait a few days until the readers have time to give their opinions. Show him all of these. That would explain just what you would want to tell him that you haven't seemed able to get across.

A man running to the neighbors with every bit of news should go out and get a job as a reporter. A man who could and does tell the secrets of personal family business, relate quarrels and things of the same sort is not deserving of a good wife and family of children.

As an observer it would seem that your husband has little respect for you or he would at least be careful of his conversation. When a husband falls so low as to lose his respect for his wife over his "catty" talk with the neighbors, that is "news." I'm all for you and all I can say is more power to you in your effort to cure him of his loose tongue. POLLY.

RED & WHITE STORES "SWEET SIXTEEN" TODAY

Thousands of Small Business Owners Stage Nationwide Birthday Celebration This Week

GROWTH OF RED & WHITE PLAN IS EPOCH OF AMERICAN FOOD INDUSTRY

March, 1937—Suppose every retail food store within reaching distance of your home should close tomorrow. Your meals would become hodge-podge offerings from remnants in your refrigerator and a few canned items in the pantry. Within twenty-four hours many families would be hungry. In a week or so the community would face starvation. The corner grocery "has become a necessary part in your daily living habit." Literally, you cannot live without them.

Supplying you food is the livelihood of nearly 9,000,000 men and women. Almost 30% of all American families depend wholly or in part on income from their working in the food business. The food industry of the United States is by far the largest and conceded the most important of all industries.

SEE BRIGHT FUTURE FOR INDEPENDENTS

Denver Man Optimistic Over Outlook for Small Business

DENVER, Colo., March, 1937.—Speaking before the Retail Grocers Convention here in the Brown Palace Hotel, Harry A. Marr, one of the most widely known wholesale grocers in the midwest, said today:

"The Red & White cooperative plan is purely the American way of conducting business. It gives every merchant the same tools as the largest chains—mass buying, mass selling and mass advertising. Yet each member of the organization completely owns his own store. He alone controls his destiny. This type of organization is growing by leaps and bounds.

"Cooperative groups are yet in their infancy," he continued. "I look forward to the day when nearly all business will be conducted on a co-operative basis."

Mr. Marr has spent his entire lifetime in the grocery business. He started his first store in Tulsa, Okla. Later he took Horace Greeley's advice, "went west," and set up in the wholesale grocery business in Denver.

Concluding, Mr. Marr was irked by stores that plead for consumers' goodwill under the guise of eliminating waste. "Too many of them underpay their employees and fire the delivery men. Over a million and one-half delivery men alone were put out of work by this type of organization," he said in pointing out the fallacy of the system that Until about twenty years ago all or nearly all was considered peaceful in the food industry. The business was well settled in the hands of independent merchants. Then suddenly a new form of merchandising foods appeared. Admittedly it was efficient and effective. This new form, called by some the "chain store," rapidly took over almost 40% of the food distribution business in America.

Independent grocers fell right and left before the onslaught of this new type of organization. The outlook for the future of the small business men was indeed bleak.

AIDED GROWTH

A. M. Slocum

As the result, Mr. Slocum started the second Red & White Unit in Minneapolis, Minn. From a small beginning it has grown to a group of independent merchants whose strength dominates that market.

Mr. Slocum added many far-reaching points to the Red & White idea. One of the most important is the Retailers' Advisory Board. Each unit is governed locally by this group, composed of six retail members elected at regular weekly retailers' meetings.

"We miss the courage and inspiration supplied by Mr. Slocum," said S. M. Flickinger in tribute to his friend. Mr. Slocum died September, 1935. Without him Red & White could not have become what it is today.

destroys work for men. "Do we exist for work or does work exist for us?" he asked.

FOOD ROMANCE MAKES WORK A PLEASURE

Merchandise Man Travels Far and Wide to Inspect Canned Goods

"Of course, a stay-at-home would think food buying is work," laughed Leo J. Bushey, who is national food buyer for the Red & White Food Stores of America.

"But I am sure that more adventuresome fellows would find great pleasure, for example, in inspecting Florida grapefruit one day and then boarding an airplane for Southern California to look over their best apricots, pears and peaches the next day."

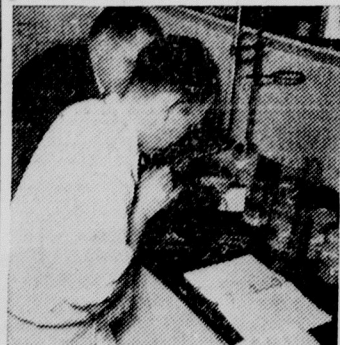

Leo Bushey and R&W experts inspecting Washington berries.

"The world is our garden patch," he continued. "We buy our spices from the East Indies, tea from China, coffee from Brazil and salmon from Alaska. These and many more items constantly swell our volume of foreign trade."

Leo Bushey and R&W experts in a Midwest soup plant.

"The free exchange of money and merchandise is a most important means of cementing nations together on a harmonious basis," he pointed out.

New Plan Perfects Food Distributing System

Chicago, Ill., March, 1937—The technique of growing, transporting and distributing millions of tons of food daily to feed Mr. and Mrs. America was until recently one of the most wasteful systems in the entire business picture. Like Topsy in Uncle Tom's Cabin, it "just grew" up. The 7,000,000 farmers, 125,000 fishermen, 40,000 manufacturers, 50,000 wholesalers and 500,000 retail stores, were all at once busy buying and selling from each other, trying to get the cheapest prices. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were wasted annually by each wholesale grocer trying to sell every retail store in his territory.

Right there is where the Red & White system entered and organized the food distribution picture on an efficient basis. Members of that organization reasoned that a small group of food packers, wholesalers and retailers should be able to do business with each other at a small volume of profit and eliminate the hundreds of thousands of dollars' waste incurred in the old "selling" system.

ADVISES MEN TO WORK FOR THEMSELVES

CENTER OSSIPPI, N. H., March, 1937.—Special—The sentiment among the Center Ossippi business men was preponderantly in favor of owning and operating your own business, according to a survey made among a group of men experienced in all types of store operation.

"Explain it how you will," grinned Scott Welsh, one of the town's leading retailers, "there's a thrill of being in business for yourself. Before long you invariably find the independent business men becoming active backers of civic affairs. They take a great interest in promoting improvement in community life."

The mental changes one undergoes after joining an organization like Red & White were mighty important, thought Henry Carns, Otto Vogel and J. R. Harrison. All are in the grocery business here. The strict discipline of the other type of business make terrific inroads on a man's character and ideals, they said.

They admitted that sometimes they work a little longer, but the work seems more pleasant. "I guess it's because everyone knows it's for themselves," concluded Harvey Cambridge.

F. D. R. FACING PROBLEM OF SIT-DOWNS

Many Other Important
Situations Due for Consideration

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The question of whether the government can do anything about sitdown strikes topped today a stack of public problems awaiting President Roosevelt's return from Georgia.

The President will call congressional leaders to his office soon after he reaches the capital tomorrow. Aides said he would discuss with them the labor situation as well as other major questions.

Some sentiment for government action against sitdown strikes developed in floor speeches of senators and representatives this week.

Relief Big Problem

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) said he hoped the President would make some statement on the subject. Administration leaders pointed out, however, there appeared to be little federal officials could do unless a state asked for assistance. Relief will be among the first legislative matters to occupy Mr. Roosevelt. Congressmen are waiting for his answer to the question: How much is needed for relief in the next fiscal year?

The President has been studying the relief problem at his Georgia cottage, working on a message he expects to transmit to congress on April 10.

One administration objective which has not yet been written into suggested legislation is fixing wage and hour standards. The report of a committee which surveyed the defunct National Recovery administration for the President was sent to congress without comment.

Wages Hours Next
Several proposals for federal establishment of minimum wages and maximum working hours have been made, but none has been given the stamp of administration approval.

Most of Mr. Roosevelt's other legislative aims for this session have been included in messages he has sent to congress—recommendations for farm tenancy aids, crop insurance, the "ever-normal" granary, reorganization of federal administrative machinery, and reorganization of the courts.

Before going to Warm Springs, the President said he expected to make several changes in diplomatic posts on his return. Among the vacancies is the position of minister to Denmark, formerly held by Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rhode.

Girl Gets 90 Days For Auto Death

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Celle Juanita Barker, 26, of Indianapolis must serve 90 days in jail for negligent homicide in connection with the death of Marcella Tullis in an automobile accident at Pomona.

Judge Dudley Valentine sentenced her to a year in jail, then suspended all but 90 days of it. After she was convicted of the charge, Miss Barker, a secretary, fled to San Francisco, but her lawyer brought her back. She was injured in the accident and is still on crutches. Witnesses said Miss Barker and Miss Tullis were quarreling when their auto crashed into a truck.

Three Types of Crime Increase

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Crime reports sent to the justice department from 74 cities show a marked increase in negligent manslaughter, rape and assault with intent to kill during 1935.

Negligent manslaughter cases totaled 1021, rape 1682, and aggravated assaults 11,667. There were fewer murders in the 74 cities and fewer cases of robbery, burglary and auto thefts.

Programs Arrive For Coronation

NEW YORK, (AP)—Fifty thousand copies of the official souvenir program for the coronation of King George VI have arrived for sale in the United States, but the public won't see them until April 23, the world release date. They contain many pictures of the British royal family but none of the Duke of Windsor, George's predecessor.

Union Pacific Buys L. A. Site

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—At an estimated cash price of $1,000,000, the Union Pacific railroad has acquired the southeast corner of Sixth and Olive streets here for its downtown offices.

Arms Race Boosts Prices in Japan

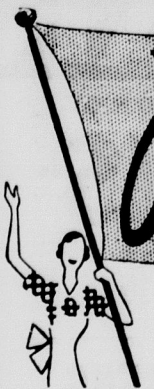

TOKYO, (AP)—Finance Minister Toyotaro Yuki has blamed American and British armament expansion for scarcity of raw materials and consequent sharp price increases in Japan.

MONOPLANE INVENTOR DIES
CANTON, O., (AP)—William H. Martin, 82, who held patents on the monoplane principle used in modern flying, died yesterday. Martin developed a successful monoplane through glider models in the same period of the Wright biplanes.

Townsend News, Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

(Opinions and comment expressed in this column are not necessarily those of The Journal.—Editor's note.)

Santa Ana club No. 11 is meeting at 7:30 this evening in the Franklin school, 1512 West Fourth street, with Grant Henderson in charge.

Supervisor Steele Finley addressed Santa Ana Townsend club No. 3 in Townsend hall on West Fourth street last evening. Dr. U. G. Littell presided and introduced the speaker. Public officials who, after the manner of Steele Finley, give evidence of their loyalty to their pre-election friends grow in public favor. Finley is still willing to be identified with the Townsend movement.

Santa Ana club No. 5 is planning a pot-luck dinner affair to be held from 6 to 7:15 o'clock Tuesday evening in the social hall of the Richland Methodist church, South, Parton street and Richland avenue. District Manager J. H. Walsh will address the business meeting which will follow the dinner.

Herbert F. Kenny, district board member, is the speaker at Santa Ana club No. 7 meeting tonight in the Orange Avenue church, McFadden and Orange avenues. Peter Benthien, president, extends an invitation to the public to attend. The time is 7:30 o'clock.

R. E. Marks, president, will preside over the Santa Ana club No. 10 meeting in Santa Ana Townsend theater building, 218 East Fourth street, at 7:30 tonight. The public will be welcome.

Mrs. L. R. Thwing, former president of the Brea club, still continues her strenuous activities in behalf of the Townsend plan. Of late she has been circulating Townsend petition blanks for the signatures of voters asking the present congress to enact the Townsend plan into law. Up to yesterday she had secured 241 signatures on the petitions. More than 500 signatures on the petitions have been secured in Brea territory by members of the Brea club to date.

The Brea club is meeting tonight at 7:30 at 115 South Pomona street with Ezra E. Law, president, in the chair. W. C. Churchill, vice-president of this club, has been seriously ill for more than two weeks, but was reported slightly improved yesterday. Edwin Thornberg is secretary and treasurer of the club. A new meeting place will have to be secured after tonight as a grocery has rented the one now being used.

Californians Considered for Cincinnati Job

CINCINNATI (AP).—Two Californians, Robert Flack, city manager of San Diego, and Oscar Carr, California Works Progress administrator, are among 29 nominees being considered as possible appointees as city manager here. C. A. Dykstra, present manager, has resigned to become president of the University of Wisconsin.

Courtney Given Term in Folsom

LOS ANGELES (AP).—Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke yesterday sentenced "Dapper" Dan Courtney, former promoter, to one to 10 years in Folsom penitentiary for escaping officers after his conviction on second degree robbery charges in 1932.

He ordered the sentence to run concurrently with a sentence of five years to life imprisonment on the robbery charge. Courtney was recently returned here after serving a term in Sing Sing.

Diary Tells How Brothers Met Agonizing Death From Cold, Starvation in Wilds

HAVRE, St. Pierre, Que. (Canadian Press).—A sudden diary told today the agonizing story of slow death from cold and starvation by two youthful brothers, lost in the wilderness of northern Quebec last August.

Death, gripping them ever tighter for days, prevented Willie Collin, 23, and his brother, Edgar, 20, from completing the scrawled record of privation, hunger, illness and pain.

Their bodies, almost skeletons, were found by trappers in an old shack where, apparently, they camped to wait out a summer storm. Willie, the diary showed, cut his leg and was unable to walk.

Trapped by Snow

Meanwhile, as their meager provisions dwindled, new storms buried the bushlands and they were trapped by the heavy snow.

Word of their death, apparently late in January, finally reached here and an official, sent to investigate, found the diary near their bodies.

"My very dear parents," read a scribbled farewell by one of the brothers in the last days of their painful starvation, "before I become too weak to write any more, I want to tell you that the date

CORN, WHEAT ACREAGE TO BE LARGER

U. S. Reports Planting Intended By Farmers As of March 1

WASHINGTON (AP).—The agriculture department has reported farmers' intentions on March 1 indicated a 2.2 per cent larger acreage of corn and a 8.6 per cent larger acreage of spring wheat for harvest this year as compared with last year.

The indicated corn acreage is 84,540,000, compared with 82,829,000 last year when 1,524,203,000 bushels were produced, and 103,341,000 acres, the 1928-32 average, when average production was 2,553,424,000 bushels.

Spring wheat is 20,918,000 acres, compared with 11,212,000 last year when production was 107,448,000 bushels, and 20,424,000 acres, the 1928-32 average, when average production was 241,312,000 bushels.

Included in spring wheat is: Durum wheat, 2,724,000 acres. Last year 1,559,000 acres and 8,227,000 bushels. Average 1928-32, was 4,805,000 acres and 54,020,000 bushels.

Other spring wheat, 18,194,000 acres. Last year 9,653,000 acres and 99,221,000 bushels. Average 1928-32, was 15,610,000 acres and 187,292,000 bushels.

DISEASE FIGHT IS OUTLINED

Venereal disease can be stamped out with a three-way program. First, find and control individual cases of infection. Second, control commercial prostitution. And third, educate the public, young and old.

This was the message brought to Lions club members today by Dr. Walter H. Brown, professor of hygiene at Stanford university, in a talk on "How Much Is a Human Life Worth?"

Dr. Brown traced the development of the fight against disease and the resultant increase in the life span and health of the individual. In 1901, he said, the average life expectancy in the United States was 48 years. By 1925, it was 58. He stressed personal hygiene as one of the best methods of keeping disease down, and made a plea for frankness in the control of syphilis and gonorrhea.

"How long are we going to keep sticking our heads in the sand instead of facing this problem squarely?" he asked.

SHIP FIRM ASKS LIBEL LIMIT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP).—The Luckenbach Steamship company has applied to the federal court for limitation of liability, in connection with the collision of the Italian motorship Feltre in the Columbia river Feb. 17.

Owners of the Feltre have brought suit for $950,000 damages and have libeled the Edward Luckenbach. The steamship company asked for an appraisal of their libeled ship in order to limit the amount which might be claimed as damages, denied responsibility for the accident and asked for release of the vessel.

This Hen Works Hard for Easter

WILDER, Idaho (AP).—Mrs. Lee Nichols' Rhode Island Red hen wants to be sure there are enough eggs to go around this Easter.

When Mrs. Nichols went to her hen house, she discovered an egg four inches long and seven and a half inches in circumference. Inside were two more eggs—one without shell, the other with one of ordinary size and thickness.

Diary Tells How Brothers Met Agonizing Death From Cold, Starvation in Wilds

that is not entered in my book will show we could move no longer, neither one nor the other. Before losing consciousness, I will write more, for what else can we do? Our souls are in the hands of God."

A pathetic note from Edgar on Jan. 26 told how Willie died the night before.

How Willie Died

"Jan. 26—My dear parents and friends, it is Edgar whose sad duty it is to tell you that the good Blessed Virgin came from heaven last night to take away my dear brother, Willie, about 11 o'clock.

"Dear God, I don't know what to do with myself. I can't sleep now. I have eaten only once in three days. I can hardly cut wood because I'm just able to lift the axe. Oh God, maybe in a few days the Blessed Virgin will come for me, too. Do not fear for us, dear parents. We have gone through too much not to be saved.

"I wish you good night now. I no longer can see the date on the page. Whatever date is missing from this notebook will be the day good Saint Anne came for me. I'm saying my rosary. I cry and sigh, and am trembling with cold EDGAR."

That was the last he wrote.

SOVIET PLANS NORTH POLE AIR BASE

Official Off on Secret Trip to Launch 'Roof of World' Route

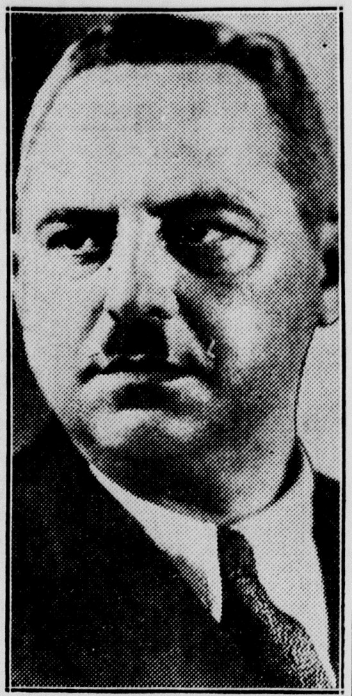

MOSCOW, (AP)—O. J. Schmidt, director of the Soviet northern sea route, has left Moscow amid strict secrecy, it was learned, to go to Archangel and take charge of a polar air project believed to include a plan for an air base at the North Pole.

Such a plan has been under discussion since the summer of 1935, when Sigismund Levaneffsky, Soviet flier, was forced to turn back from a projected flight from Moscow to San Francisco, across "the roof of the world."

Several noted Soviet aviators recently reported it was feasible to land at the pole and establish a midway base between Moscow and San Francisco for future flights.

Levaneffsky, himself, returned three years ago from several months of study in the United States which, some believed, was connected with some such project.

Calls Church Truce

Hans Kerl, Reichminister for German church affairs, called a truce in the conflict between the government and rebellious Protestants as the first result of the condemnatory encyclical of Pope Pius.

Kerl's decree returned all Evangelical church affairs to the status they held prior to Hitler's recent order for a general synodical election. (Associated Press photo.)

TRAVEL SURVEY PLAN HELD UP

Plans for a WPA survey of transportation facilities in Orange county must be revised, the county planning commission was told Wednesday afternoon.

Fred P. Jayne, supervisor of professional and technical projects, told the board that WPA cannot supply persons to do personal interviewing as provided in the county plan, but can aid with studies, collecting documentary information, preparing maps and similar activities.

Orange county's project, being drawn up by experts in the San Francisco WPA office, is intended to pave the way for quicker, better transportation between points in the county and with Los Angeles.

Sponsored by chambers of commerce and other civic bodies, the plan anticipates development of the south coast area as a home district for business and professional men of Los Angeles, as well as better trade facilities between inland cities.

Suit Over Dairy Business Settled

Indicating that their differences have been settled out of court, Excelsior Creamery company yesterday dropped its injunction suit against Robert T. Heywood, former deliveryman in the San Clemente area.

The suit charged that Heywood had started a competing dairy delivery service and was soliciting Excelsior's customers. It also asked $5000 damages.

Dismissal of the suit also removes a preliminary injunction barring Heywood from soliciting business from his former customers.

Martha Meade SUGGESTS:

Well-Known Radio Food Counselor

THINGS TO KNOW ABOUT YOUR KITCHEN TECHNIQUE. There are many descriptive terms used in cooking which puzzle the beginner. It is almost as essential to understand these terms and methods as it is to have the proper cooking utensils with which to prepare the food.

One of the most abused terms in cooking is the word "to cream." Where it is stated that this means to mix sugar and shortening together until fluffy, most cooks stop entirely too soon! There are three definite stages that the creaming process must go through.

Step No. 1—The shortening and sugar ball up, clinging to the spoon or whip rather than the bowl, and the mixture is still grainy.

Step No. 2—The mixture begins to get fluffy and white and to cling to the sides of the bowl again and it is less grainy.

Step No. 3—The mixture actually increases in volume about one-third, is soft and fluffy like whipped cream, and the sugar grains have been entirely absorbed.

Adding eggs to mixtures requires a special technique because of the low temperature at which eggs coagulate. The most successful method consists of adding a small amount of the hot liquid to the well beaten eggs first and then pouring the lukewarm mixture into the hot liquid, stirring constantly. In this way the thickening process is assured of being smooth.

To scald milk means to place the milk in a double boiler with cold or lukewarm water underneath and to heat until the water boils. At this point the milk in the top part will be heated through and "scalded."

To slightly beat an egg means to beat the whole egg with a fork, whip or egg beater only until the yolk and white are mixed together enough so that they will blend easily with other ingredients.

Blending mixtures. A well beaten egg is beaten with a whip or egg beater until it foams on top and is thoroughly mixed throughout.

To beat mixtures means to mix them with a spoon or flat whip until they are entirely absorbed in each other.

To saute means to fry in shallow fat.

To make a meringue means to add sugar gradually to beaten egg white, beating all the time until it is shiny and will hold up in peaks when the beater is pulled from it.

To marinate means to soak in French dressing so that the flavor will penetrate.

Garden Secrets

By Willis Cadwallader of Blanding Nurseries

Although the deciduous tree has a nude appearance in the winter, it is nevertheless valuable as a shade tree. At the time of the year when shade is needed it is thickly leafed, and in the winter, because of its habit of shedding its leaves through colder weather, it stands ready to filter rays of light through its projecting branches.

Its nature of growth, too, makes it useful for growth. Growing without the trunk extending on up into the tree, it acquires the necessary spread for a desirable shade tree.

Shade Trees. Among the most popular of the shade trees are the sycamores. The California sycamore (platanus racemosa) and the European sycamore (platanus orientalis) are the ones in common usage. These trees like plenty of water and yet endure a great deal of drought. They are also one of the kinds of trees that will withstand the hard usage of city and factory district life.

The umbrella tree (melia azadirach unbraculiformis) grows to a height of about 30 feet, with a spread in accordance and closely resembles an inverted umbrella in its perfect shading.

The silver maple (acer dasycarpum) becomes a large tree, reaching 60 feet in height, and is one of the few shade trees in California that displays the autumn coloring of the East.

A splendid tree for the hot, dry, southwestern country is the hackberry (celitis occidentalis). It grows as tall as 80 feet and has a large, widespread head of light green foliage. It is well recommended for Imperial valley and Arizona.

For a tree that will thrive in an alkaline condition, the Arizona ash (fraxinus velutina) is recommended. This tree reaches a height of 30 feet and is quite a rapid grower. The black locust (robinia pseudacacia) also likes those conditions.

Mulberry trees have always been considered a dirty tree, but one variety, the Kingan fruitless, lacks this drawback. It grows to about 30 feet, and grows quite rapidly. If one wishes a shade tree for the chicken-run, however, the fruiting types of the mulberry are the best as they make good chicken feed.

Elms also make very fine shade trees, the American elm (americana) growing to be large and quite dense. It may even reach 100 feet in height. The Chinese elm (ulmus pumila) is not as large or dense, but is a very rapid grower.

Other western shade trees that grow to considerable heights are the catalpas, birches, poplars, guntrees, and many of the flowering types of trees.

Dr. Henry G. Bennett, president of Oklahoma A. and M. college, has been mentioned as a candidate for the Oklahoma governorship.

41 POOR GIVEN KING'S COINS

LONDON, (AP)—Forty-one poor elderly folk were given the first coins bearing the likeness of King George VI in "Maundy money" yesterday during England's picturesque annual ceremony.

Britain's new monarch, however, did not appear at the services, held in St. Paul's cathedral. The royal family was represented instead by Princesses Helena Victoria and Marie Louise.

An allowance was given the group in addition to the coins especially struck for the Maundy Thursday service, but the amount was not disclosed.

In former days the King of England washed the feet of as many persons as he was years old in the Maundy Thursday ceremonies.

ISLAND GETS NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

SANTA BARBARA, (AP)—San Miguel island's two-pupil school has a new building today. Ten by 12 by 6 1/2 feet in dimensions, the tiny structure was transported across the channel in four sections on a fishing boat, and erected by its captain, U. S. Stevens, and members of the Herbert Lester family, sole inhabitants of the most westerly of the Santa Barbara channel islands.

Two girls, 5 and 7 years of age, the only pupils of the school, are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lester, in charge of a sheep herd on the lonely island.

The little school house was set up in the shelter of a high sand-dune and near a monument recently erected by Portuguese people of the Pacific coast in memory of Juan Rodriguez, who discovered the channel islands in 1542.

Karnegay, a junior, ranks among the upper 10 per cent in scholastics. (Associated Press photo.)

5 MARITIME SELECTIONS BLOCKED

Senator Black Fights Board Personnel Confirmation

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Senator Black (D-Ala.) blocked confirmation of five appointments to the maritime commission late yesterday by demanding that the senate send the nominations back to the commerce committee for "further consideration."

Chairman Copeland (D-NY) of the committee agreed to take back the names which he had reported to the floor without a dissenting vote a few minutes earlier.

Black said off the floor that he would seek "full and open hearings."

Senators Bone (D-Wash) and Nye (R-ND) said after a brief conference with Black that labor leaders had objected to some of the appointees on grounds that they had "adopted a consistently anti-union attitude, particularly in the recent Pacific coast maritime strikes."

HOUSE CONFIRMS KENNEDY ELIGIBILITY

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The house adopted a senate resolution late yesterday declaring Joseph B. Kennedy eligible for appointment to the maritime commission. Kennedy already has been confirmed by the senate.

Representative Bland (D-Va) explained that under terms of the maritime act Kennedy was thought to be ineligible because of a small financial interest in a shipping concern.

PADEREWSKI IMPROVES

MORGES, Switzerland, (AP)—Ignace Jan Paderewski, famed concert pianist, was reported "making normal progress" today against an attack of bronchitis. Friends of the former premier of Poland said his condition was "re-assuring."

Candidate

PRIZE MEAT ON HOOF COSTLY

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—What show officials termed a new world record price was paid yesterday when the grand champion lamb of Don Bullington was auctioned for $10.25 a pound at the Interstate Junior Livestock Show.

Bullington's exhibit, a Southdown Junior, weighed 80 pounds. Bullington is from San Luis Obispo.

Show officials said yesterday's market price for lambs was 13 cents a pound.

The grand champion pen of lambs, Southdown juniors, exhibited by Robert Finlay, 4-H Club member from Yolo county, sold for 60 cents a pound.

Previously the grand champion baby beef, an 845-pound Hereford exhibited by 13-year-old Jimmy Walker of Sonoma county, Calif., brought 10 times the market price. The prize winning animal, first in the ring, sold for $1 a pound.

BOY CONFESSES HE SLEW MAN

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—A 14-year-old boy told police late yesterday he shot to death a man who, his mother had previously told officers, was a victim of her pistol.

Detective Lieutenants Thad Brown and Leroy Sanderson said the boy, Richard Jackie Hidalgo, came to them and said he had been hiding under his house for six hours after he killed John F. Ariaz, 38, a barber, who, said the youth, was attempting to force his attentions on Mrs. Marie Hidalgo, 32.

Previously Mrs. Hidalgo, the mother of four children, had been taken into custody and had told the officers: "I shot him because I loved him."

Police said the shooting occurred Wednesday night during a drinking party.

SEAMEN'S CARD BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON, (AP)—President Roosevelt signed a bill yesterday permitting seamen to quit carrying "continuous discharge" books, if they so desire.

The measure amended the Copeland safety-at-sea act, making it mandatory for seamen to carry the books containing a record of their employment.

Under the new law, seamen can choose between the discharge books or identification certificates bearing their signatures, photographs, fingerprints and similar data, but no reference to service or ability.

Some maritime union leaders objected to the discharge books on the ground they could be used to blacklist seamen, who had strike records.

Huge Paper Firm Merger Complete

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—The Crown Zellerbach-Crown Willamette $100,000,000 merger became effective today, the San Francisco Stock Exchange announced.

Official papers were filed this morning with secretaries of state of Nevada and Delaware, in which the respective firms were incorporated. Trading in the new securities representing the merger will begin on the stock exchange March 27.

Death Ends Keene Court Battles

Controversy over guardianship of Arthur D. Keene appeared at an end yesterday when his son, Barton Keene, of Ontario, asked for letters of administration in Keene's estate. Keene died March 23.

Mrs. Florence Keene, his former wife, who has been battling for a year in superior court to gain custody of Keene, an incompetent, was not named as an heir. The estate is valued at $1100.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

HERE'S crunchy goodness—ready to eat—and oh, so appetizing!

Kellogg's Corn Flakes—crisp, golden flakes of corn, always oven-fresh and flavor-perfect; Kellogg's Rice Krispies—tempting rice bubbles that snap, crackle and pop in milk or cream; and Kellogg's PEP 30% Bran Flakes—tasted flakes of whole wheat with enough bran to be mildly laxative.

After your family has tasted these delicious cereals, you'll want to go to your grocer and put in a big supply. You'll find you get many generous servings for only a few cents. And Kellogg's are so convenient—so easy to serve! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Two Delicious Forms of Shredded Whole Wheat

—both Kellogg's

Ask your grocer for Kellogg's Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit and Kellogg's Whole Wheat Krumbs.

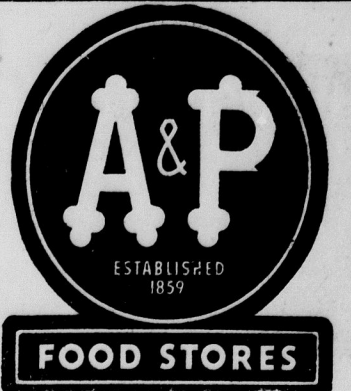

Try them—and see whether your family prefers whole wheat shredded and flavored, or in biscuit form, with the natural flavor of the toasted wheat.

Both come in window packages that let you see before you buy.

MYSTERY OF BODE'S LAW

For 165 years the explanation of why Bode's Law works has defied the world's greatest astronomers and mathematicians. So uncannily accurate is the formula that it actually led to the discovery of the solar system's asteroids, a discovery which was necessary to prove the formula!

Relative distances of the planets from the sun are as follows: Mercury—3.9; Venus—7.2; Earth—10; Mars—15.2; Asteroids—27.4; Jupiter—52.9; Saturn—95.4; Uranus—192; Neptune—300. Bode's Law gives the positions with an amazingly slight variation as Mercury—4; Venus—7; Earth—10; Mars—16; Asteroids—28; Jupiter—52; Saturn—100; Uranus—196; Neptune—388.

The formula is a simple one. Under a row of 4's, one for each planet, including the asteroids, write in a geometrical series beginning with 3 and increasing by the ratio of 2, placing the 3 under the second 4. By addition the last quoted series of figures in the above paragraph will be arrived at.

Judge Stump

Dear Judge:
Did you ever see a good cold winter that wasn't, according to somebody or other, "the worst winter this country's ever seen"? WEATHERMAN.

Old Uncle Sycamore Stump still thinks the winter of 1889 in Iowa was worst. He says it was so cold that when the groundhog came out on Feb. 2, his shadow froze on the snow. And the groundhog died of cold and exhaustion trying to pull it back into the hole behind him. STUMP.

THE GAY THIRTIES

By HANK BARROW

HELLO UNCLE JIM—DAD'S EXPECTING YOU—HE'S UPSTAIRS—I WANT YOU TO MEET MR. SIMMS

GLAD TO KNOW YOU, YOUNG MAN—YOU'RE PROBABLY JUST THE PERSON I WANT TO SEE IF THAT'S YOUR CAR PARKED THE WRONG WAY OUT IN FRONT OF THE HOUSE—PRESENT THIS TICKET IN TRAFFIC COURT AT TEN IN THE MORNING

INTRODUCTION TO THE LAW 3-26

FRITZI RITZ

NOW DON'T FORGET LIKE THE LAST TIME!

A BOX OF STARCH AND A JAR OF MUSTARD!

A BOX OF STARCH AND A JAR OF MUSTARD!

HELLO NANCY! OH HELLO HERMAN!

JOE PALOOKA

HOW IS MR. WALSH'S IZZER ANY IMPROVEMENT TODAY DOCTOR?

A MOST REMARKABLE THING HAS HAPPENED. COME WITH ME.

HE IS SPEAKING FOR THE FIRST TIME. MAYBE YOU CAN HELP US DECIPHER WHAT HE SAYS.

OH-HHHH--THAT'S WONDERFUL!! OH GOLLY--

KNOBBY--IT'S ME--JOE. ARE YOUSE AWRIGHT?

B-BUT HE DON'T SAY A WORD.

HE DID TO US, AS I WAS GIVING THE NURSE MONEY FOR SUPPLIES HE DISTINCTLY SAID "DING DING."

DICKIE DARE

DOWN BELOW, DAN HAS STRUGGLED TO HIS FEET

HE IS POINTING UP TOWARDS THE SURFACE!

AS DICKIE LOOKS UPWARD, THE TERRIBLE TRUTH BECOMES CLEAR! THE SHADY FORM OF THE BOAT'S BOTTOM IS MOVING AWAY!!

LITTLE MARY MIXUP

WELL, I GUESS I CAN'T BUY IT--BUT I ALWAYS DID WANT TO SEE THE INSIDE OF ONE

YOU'RE NOT GOING TO BUY OUR TRAILER?

NO--CAN'T DO IT--SAY--MY OLD LADY AIN'T NEVER SEEN A TRAILER--

WOULD YOU MIND DRIVIN' UP TO OUR HOUSE--SO SHE CAN--?

GOSH! THEY'VE GONE!

OAKY DOAKS

WELL, I GUESS I CAN'T BUY IT--BUT I ALWAYS DID WANT TO SEE THE INSIDE OF ONE

YOUR HIGNESS, THERE IS A PHONE CALL FOR OAKY DOAKS

OAKY DOAKS IS NOT HERE

BUT-- BUT I AM HERE

HELLO! HELLO! IS THIS ELISABETH'S PALACE? WELL LET ME SPEAK TO OAKY DOAKS--WHAT? SURE HE'S THERE

OF COURSE YOU ARE HERE--YOU WILL BE HERE A LONG, LONG TIME, MY DARLING!

UNLESS YOU TRY TO RUN AWAY, AND THEN YOU WILL HAVE YOUR HANDSOME HEAD CHOPPED OFF!

THE ADVENTURES OF PATSY

WHAT REMINDS YOU OF WHAT, MISS LAINE?

THAT YOU WON'T BE ABLE TO SIGN A CONTRACT WITHOUT YOUR UNCLE PHIL!

YES, THAT'S RIGHT, PATSY--YOU'RE A MINOR, YOU SEE, AND YOU MUST HAVE YOUR LEGAL GUARDIAN...

JIMMINIES! I'D FORGOTTEN ABOUT UNCLE PHIL! NOW I CAN GO BACK TO HIM--AN-- WILL HE BE TICKLED?

COME, WE'VE GOT TO FIND HIM RIGHT AWAY! HILBERT, PLEASE CALL MY CAR IMMEDIATELY!

SCORCHY SMITH

THE ABSOLUTE CEILING TEST--

SCORCHY LOOKS LIKE A MAN FROM MARS IN THAT OUTFIT--

YES--IT'S ELECTRICALLY HEATED, AND IT HAS AN OXYGEN MASK--WHEN HE GETS ABOVE 20,000 FEET HE NEEDS OXYGEN--

ABSOLUTE CEILING--THAT MEANS AS HIGH AS THE PLANE WILL GO--

SPEED TESTS--

AT EVERY 1000 FOOT LEVEL SCORCHY DETERMINES THE AIRSPEED OF THE SHIP--SINCE THAT PLANE IS HIGHLY SUPERCHARGED, THE FASTEST SPEED WILL BE AT AN ALTITUDE ABOVE 10,000 FEET--

THE WAY HE PASSES US, IT LOOKS LIKE WE ARE GOING BACKWARDS!!

"CAP" STUBBS AND TIPPIE

WELL, I DON'T HAFTA TAKE ANY MORE MUSIC LESSONS!

MOM AN' GRAN'MA SAY THEY WAS NEVER SO EMBARRASSED IN ALL THEIR LIVES WHEN TH' PIANO STOOL CAME OUT FROM UNDER ME, AN' I WENT ON TH' FLOOR--

AN' POP SAYS HE DOUBTS IF I COULD EVER GIVE AS SENSATIONAL PERFORMANCE AGAIN ANYHOW, AN' SIDES--MISS WINGLE SAID I RUINED TH' WHOLE RECITAL, AN' SHE WOULDN'T GIMME ANOTHER LESSON FOR A MILLION DOLLARS!

Sit-Down Strike and the Public

VOLUNTARY evacuation of the Chrysler plants by those 6000 sit-down strikers is one of the most hopeful bits of news that has emerged from the welter of labor warfare in recent weeks.

It is perhaps even a better sign than the decision of President Roosevelt to call a conference about the problem at Warm Springs, Ga., next week, because it indicates that labor leaders themselves realize that the sit-down is likely to boomerang against the legitimate union movement.

In the past few weeks, the American public has been quite tolerant as an increasing number of workers resorted to this illegal economic weapon.

This tolerance has been due to several things—general sympathy with labor's broad objectives; recognition of the sit-down strike as less destructive of life than certain other forms of strike; and a hope that the sit-down is a temporary phase that would pass as more and more employers accept collective bargaining and the new unions grow in experience and wisdom.

There was real danger, however, that the continual abuse of property rights through sit-downs and the threats of sympathy strikes in Detroit would bring a swift and bitter public reaction.

Harsh strategy on the part of labor generally tends to fail. Witness the San Francisco strike several years ago where the whole state revolted and the general strike failed.

There is ample reason to believe that a similar situation might have come to pass in Detroit.

The public is dead set, we believe, against spread of the sit-down strike, and it is apparent that industrial paralysis would result.

And the Gallup survey indicates that 67 per cent of the people favor state laws prohibiting and regulating all strikes.

As the matter stands now, the struggle between employers and unions is costing both a pretty penny and is damaging the public besides.

It is time to seek greater cooperation between capital and labor—instead of pouring gasoline on the fire.

Intelligent employers will get the viewpoint of labor and put the relationship between themselves and their men on an orderly basis.

Intelligent labor leaders will frown on sit-down, sympathetic and general strikes. They will live up to the laws and their compacts.

We call attention to the sensible railroad mediation system which has kept peace for the past 10 years in an industry employing 1,000,000 men.

If this setup can keep peace in the railroads, it can do the same for other industries, provided its principles are accepted by workers and employers.

Strikes can't be stopped by "passing a law," of course. But they can be materially lessened by providing machinery for mediation between organized industry and organized workers.

Such a system cannot be established without popular support. Abandonment of sit-down strikes and other outlawed methods by labor will do a lot to win this popular support.

Tell the kiddies not to forget The Journal's big free Easter Egg hunt at the Santa Ana Bowl tomorrow morning.

A Third Term for F. D. R.?

HAS President Roosevelt renounced a third term? Some folks who recall Cal Coolidge's cryptic statement, "I do not choose to run," are beginning to disagree as to exactly what the President meant when he said at the March 4 victory dinner: "My great ambition on January 20, 1941, is to turn over the desk and chair in the White House to my successor, whoever he may be, with the assurance that I am at the same time turning over to him as President a nation intact."

In that statement some interpreters find an unqualified renunciation of a third term.

Not so, says another group, which will accept only some such statement as "I won't be a third-term candidate under any circumstances" as a decisive refusal.

Still another batch of experts takes the view that Mr. Roosevelt meant only that he would stay on the sidelines in the next campaign if his program has been realized in the meantime, or if the Democratic party names a successor committed to that program.

Certainly the President strongly implied that he would not seek another term. But it remains true that he has not to date asserted that he won't if—

Most second-term presidents who have frankly declared themselves out of the race before the last possible moment have generally seen their prestige and political power greatly curtailed.

In leaving the question thus open to argument, therefore, President Roosevelt seems to have acted with his usual canny.

Some showgirls will do anything for publicity. One even went to college.

A Terrible Price

STEVE BRODY took a chance. So did Ray Woods in his dive from San Francisco Bay bridge. But that does not lessen our admiration for his courage, although he was foolish in the extreme and paid a terrible penalty.

There is something to be said for men like Woods, but nothing at all for the commercial exploiters who promoted and cashed in on his stunt.

The Woods attempt might at least have the effect of discouraging others from an effort to cash in by diving from the new bridge.

Woolcott. Then there's Vincent Lopez who suggests a wet seal just swimming up for a fish. Clarence Mackay a chipmunk. And Jules Brulattour, a toga, could pass for Mark Anthony.

They call the old Hammerstein Victoria stand "Horror Corner"—spooky movies. Frank Buck is severed up on most of us for the loud neckties. And Faith Baldwin carries the longest chiffon handkerchiefs in town.

Dresden China come to life: Mrs. Harold Ross. Anyway Jim Farley's cufflink is neat. The Bruce Bartons have joined the eastern desert-living tribes in Arizona.

Surprise: A new cafe with an Arabian name. Burns Mantle looks more like a small town Sunday school teacher than a sophisticated critic of the drama. Deems Taylor smacking a lot of stooges around could pass for Ted Healy. Sign in a snack bar: "No Duke of Windsor puns, please."

Tops in looking dreamy: Eva Le Gallienne. Come the revolution, I'd like to ride to the guillotine in the same tumbler with Brock Pemberton. He looks so calm.

Few of the daisy ad writers are plucked from the literary fields. Such as Kenneth Collins, Obie and Art Kudner. The art is one of condensation and trained writers who have tried their hands are usually too flowery and verbose. Most of the highly successful catch lines have words of not more than two syllables. Those who know say the best training for ad writing is to begin as an office boy in the ad agencies plus a natural flair for brevity and simplicity.

An interior decorator tells me of a bachelor esthete whose East End bedroom is in unrelieved milk white—everything, even to his toilet articles. The only touches of color are his blazing red silk pajamas which he buys by the dozen. The rest of his duplex apartment has a masculine decor. He claims a Viennese specialist suggested the bedroom for insomnia and it clicked. The late Ralph Barton had a Paris bedroom in solid black for insomnia. The ceiling flicked with electrical stars.

Henry Luce, editor and publisher of Fortune, Time and Life, is said to be the most punctilious man of affairs on the local scene. He reaches his office precisely at 9 every morning and will have no one around him who is late more than once without a most excellent excuse.

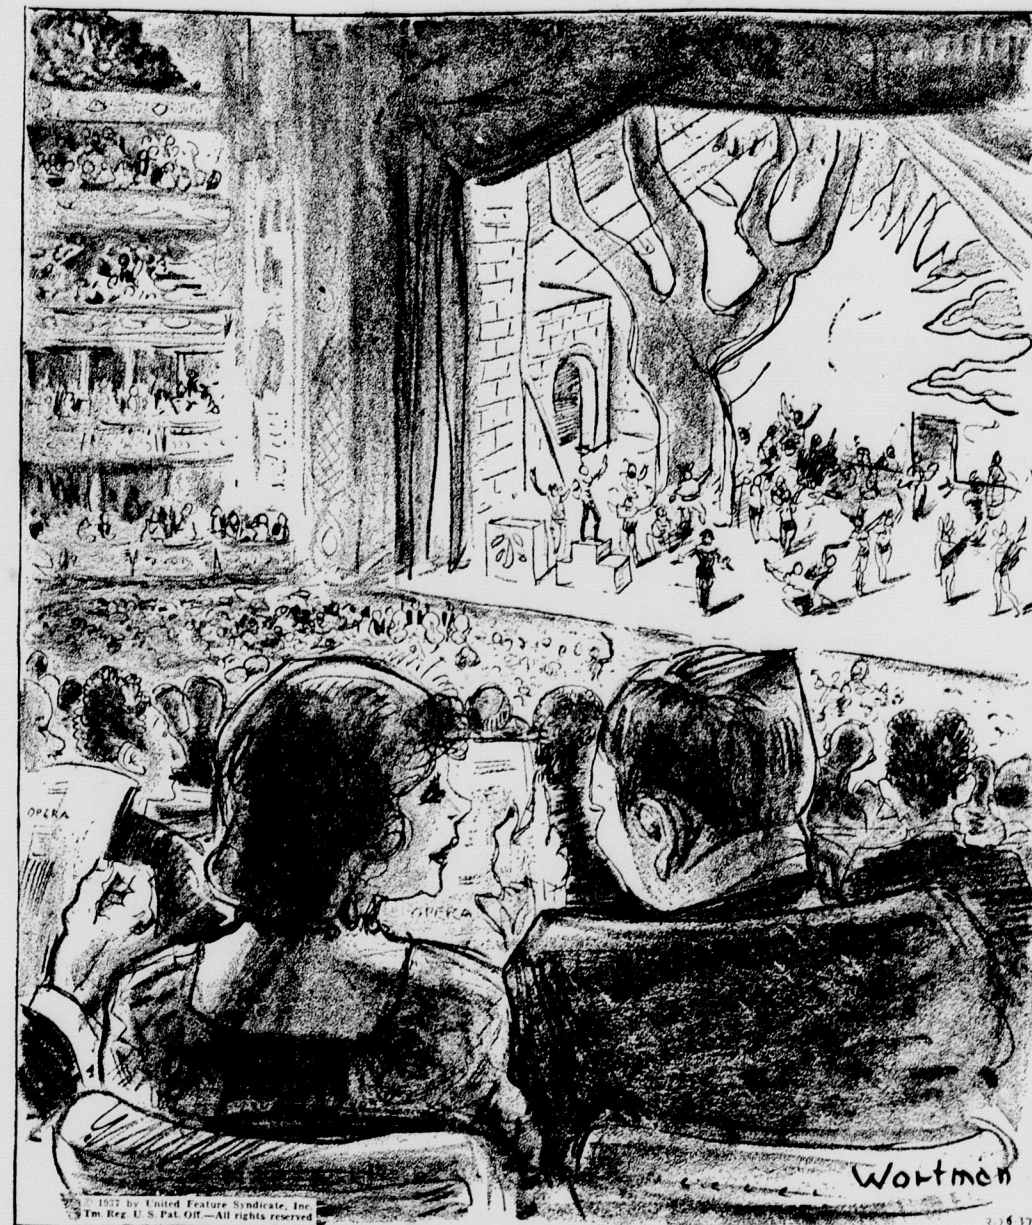

I was once a copy slave under an executive Legree who would brook no excuse for tardiness. On occasions he would go on a bender with the boys but no matter if they left the bistro at sunup, they had to be at their posts at the paper split second. And he was always there ahead as fresh as a rose. Following the usual migrations of the calling, I lost track of him. And then one day I read in Sid Mercer's column that he was a clocker at the Belmont race tracks. Now timing horses instead of humans.

Far from the glitter and hurrah of the uptown restaurants and flashy night clubs is probably the most sedate eating place in the metropolis. It is the venerable France's Tavern, where Washington bade farewell to his troops, and filled with much valuable Washington. Colonial in design with a white periwigged doorman in knee breeches, it serves only luncheon and its clientele is largely visiting historians who enter it with tip-toe reverence. Henry L. Doherty used to lunch there, too, as did the banker George F. Baker. The house specialty is, approximately enough, deep dish cherry pie.

So many silly conventions to which we bow meekly. There's that one when the waiter captain lifts the silver lid off the entree as you are in deep conversation and you must stop, look and beam when you would prefer to shriek: "Take it away, it looks terrible!" But last evening I gazed upon a dining hero. He had just received his order and was preparing to lay to when the head waiter came bristling up to inquire if everything was dandy. "Hell's bells," he roared, "wait at least until I take one bite!"

As one toddles along toward the elderly stage of life one is astounded every little while on receiving an invitation to attend the wedding of some infant in arms who has suddenly grown up.

EVERYDAY MOVIES

"It's only opera, Harry, so don't try to understand it—it'll ruin the whole thing."

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—Opposition leaders are hatching a wily maneuver to put the President on the spot with his supreme court plan. The heart of the administration's argument for power to increase the nine old men to 15 has been that the court needs an infusion of "new blood, young men with a modern outlook and understanding."

The anti's now propose to use this argument as the fulcrum for a flank attack on Roosevelt. At the conclusion of the hearings before the senate judiciary committee, their plan is to issue a statement to this effect:

"You say the court needs younger men with more liberal views. All right, tell the congress and the country who these six young and liberal men are. We have a right to know who you plan to put on the court so that we can more fairly judge the soundness and reasonableness of your proposal and intentions."

A demand of this kind, if made with sufficient vigor and impressiveness, might prove extremely embarrassing to Roosevelt. Interest in the identity of the possible six new men is second only to conjecture over the outcome of the battle on the President's bill. It is unlikely that Roosevelt would reveal whom he intends to appoint, but his foes could give him some hot moments by demanding it.

PIN LEGISLATION

Wisconsin's Senator Ryan Duffy is fathering a bill withdrawing the provisions of the social security act from "pin boys in bowling alleys."

IDEALISM PAYS

A lot of the idealistic young men who romped to the aid of the New Deal during its first enthusiastic days now are cashing in on their idealism.

Several of them have now joined the sugar lobby and are hovering over the new sugar bill.

Chauncey B. Wightman, former economist of the AAA sugar section in charge of the sugar program in Hawaii, now lobbying for the Hawaiian sugar producers.

James A. Dickey, former economist of the AAA sugar section, who went to Puerto Rico to curb the production of its sugar producers, now lobbying for the Puerto Rico Sugar association.

John Dalton, former chief of the AAA sugar section, now lobbying for the big sugar refiners who once caused his section many of its difficulties.

Dudley Brown, former administrative assistant of the AAA sugar section, also lobbying for the refiners.

Myer Linsky, former statistician of the AAA sugar section, also lobbying for the sugar refiners.

Name: Lou Warfield.

Birthplace and date: Texas, November 3, 1909.

Home address: 920 West Chestnut street.

Occupation: Waitress.

Hobby: Swimming.

What civic improvement should Santa Ana have next? City park.

What bit of news interested you most recently? School explosion in Texas.

How do you like The Journal's "Chat While With Betty" radio program? Never listen.

What do you consider the greatest problem ahead of the world today? World peace.

What has been your most embarrassing moment? That's a secret.

BETTER THAN TARIFFS

Chief proposed booty in the new sugar bill is the quota given Cuba. Louisiana cane producers and western beet sugar growers want the Cuban quota curtailed, theirs increased.

They have found the sugar quota far more profitable from their viewpoint than any tariff wall. Previously when Cuba was in the throes of depression she always could slide the price of sugar far below that in the United States and flood the American market, despite the tariff. But the quota is fixed and immovable. It specifies that Cuba can export a definite amount of sugar to the United States and no more.

The state department, however, is having a hard time preventing the domestic sugar lobby from squeezing the Cuban quota to the vanishing point. Agricultural committees of congress are going to see a lot of inside wire-pulling before the quotas finally are fixed.

ITALIAN LOAN

Senatorial wrath over the $3,600,000 credit to Italy, in violation of the spirit of the Johnson act (which bans loans to war debt defaulting countries), has resulted in a promise by the state department that the credit will be cut off at the end of its nine-month period.

Senatorial probing also has disclosed the interesting fact that the President did not know about the credit to Italy. Apparently Corbelli Hull did either.

The credit was approved by Judge Walton Moore, Mr. Hull's assistant secretary who is chairman of the Export-Import Bank. Moore was placed in that key position in order to protect the interests of his friend, during Hull's long and bitter row with George Peek, former president of the bank.

But apparently Moore forgot to tell Hull all about the Italian credit.

The slip-up has put a further damper on Moore's chances of becoming undersecretary of state.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

The housing committee has junked its rule, laid down early in the session, not to entertain state and municipal war claims antedating the Spanish-American war. It has taken under consideration claims by Baltimore of $171,000 and New York of $764,000 for defense expenditures during the Civil war. Also pending before the committee is a California claim of $6,000,000 dating back to the sectional conflict. The treasury is opposed to all such claims, but they have strong backing in Capitol Hill.

Few know it, but Speaker Bankhead was once a member of Tammany Hall. The Alabamian joined the organization during the several years he practiced law in Manhattan. The "means" test for WPA workers has been suspended in the flood areas. The exemption was ordered when local authorities complained that there were not enough workers on relief rolls to meet the demand for clean-up labor.

Senator Millard Tydings is opposing the President's court plan, although his home state, Maryland, has a constitutional ban on state judges over the age of 70.

Allen Ellender, wife of Louisiana's successor to the seat held by the late Huey Long, has kept a scrap book of every speech or public statement made by her husband.

NOSE THUMBERS

To the Editor: Mayor La Guardia vs. Hitler. The mayor leads with his nose and Hitler retaliates with his chin. Our government should stay out of this fuss for we are not responsible for what is said by our great men during a moment of mental unbalance. Even a great river will overflow its banks and run rampant down the dirty gutters of a city's streets. We should have learned our lesson from the Smedley Butler-Mussolini nose thumbing contest.

You know some of those countries over there remind me of a mongrel pup along any street. If you walk along and mind your business, he will go his way, but if you cast a suspicious glance in his direction, he will have you by the pants leg.

THEY OUGHT TO KNOW

(San Francisco News)

Predictions that the assembly will pass and the senate vote down a resolution asking Governor Merriam to pardon Tom Mooney assume that the senate will disregard the judgment of every member of the legislature from the city where the crime charged against Mooney occurred.

The original Mooney resolution, undertaken to pardon Mooney by act of the legislature, received the support of every one of San Francisco's nine assemblymen, including the conservative Republican members.

And in the senate it had the active support of San Francisco's sole representative in that body, Walter McGovern.

If these 10 legislators representing San Francisco are convinced that Mooney should be pardoned, it is no wonder that a large assembly majority votes to pardon him. Wonder will be in order only if the senate disregards the lead of the nine assemblymen and the one senator from San Francisco and refuses to do likewise. For it is these 10 legislators who presumably know most about the Mooney case and whose votes represent public opinion in the city where the Preparedness day bomb outrage was committed.

Superintendent of Insane Asylum—Did you get those five men that escaped?

Guard—Five? We got 12.

SPRING POEM

In the spring a young wife's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of hose, Lingerie and new spring bonnets And other kinds of clothes.

And on his day off, and just to keep in practice, the Chicago racketeer picks up a hitch-hiker and takes him for a ride.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

One thing about being honest is that you will never be bothered by much competition.

Film Actor (to latest wife): What a beautiful necklace! Who gave it to you?

Latest Wife (a cinema actress): My next husband. Pretty, isn't it?

Americanism: Saying that merit, not friendship, counts in getting ahead, letting the boss beat you at golf.

Polite Host—Would you like to sit on my right hand during dinner?

Letter from a friend who has been trying to catch up with me. He says: "When I'm in, you're out; when you're in, I'm out; we're both in and out—in places we should be out of and out of places we should be in. This can't last much longer—soon we'll both be in and out; out of circulation and in one of those 'full couch' cases which our estate has to pay for."

There is some humor in my friend's philosophy, but the grand exit is undeniable.

Jack Lackland limps in to say hello, after nursing a twisted knee for several weeks. My offer for a foot race was refused.

Week-end excursionists into the desert, mountains and valleys are returning with glowing reports of the wild flower display. They thrill at the flora as revealed by nature, and exclaim over the beauties of the landscape adorned in a riot of color. The old reliable yucca, the poplars, the California poppy, the adorable coreopsis, the delicate evening primrose, the familiar Indian paint brush, the wild peony, incienso, tulocane, the lovely lupine, and their friendly companions, make a visit to the home of the wild flowers an impressionable remembrance. The closer fields are the San Bernardino mountains, Palm Springs, Lake Arrowhead and Big Bear. If you want to see God at work visit the flower fields where the Creator makes beauty out of desolation.

WASHINGTON—Transportation rates on lemons from California to Colorado, Utah, and Montana and similarly situated territory must not exceed one dollar per 100 pounds, according to an order issued by the interstate commerce commission today, which decided the $1.15 rate is unreasonable.

One Man's Opinion

A son of the late President Coolidge is quoted publicly as saying that his father once told him he did not feel that he belonged to this particular age.

If President Coolidge had but known it, he was voicing merely a feeling that is experienced at some time or other by every human being who has in his make-up any trace of sensitiveness—and who has not?

In allowing ourselves to luxuriate in any such egotistical thought we are indulging in self-pity. We are telling ourselves, with reverse English, that the world in which we find ourselves is not capable of appreciating us. It's a flattering thought but is, in a million cases out of a million, untrue.

The fact is that the human race in these latter days is quite ready to recognize outstanding merit and to give it the proper appreciation.

This fact excludes partisan antagonisms, which to date have seemed to be as natural a part of human relations as the two poles are to a magnet.

Around and About Town

With C. F. SKIRVIN

An old-time hard-time party is one of the social events scheduled for April 17 by the Eats, and Bill Garvin, after looking me over, said I could qualify, and would I be there? Will I be there. Why I'm ready now without a single change of raiment. Talk about Solomon in all his glory, there won't be any on the arrayed like me. From the beginning I was prepared for hard time parties, and they have been getting harder all the time. Bill said old-time square dances would be a part of the entertainment, and when I suggested he get Uncle Ezra of Natick, Barn Dance fame to call off, he thought it a good idea—and that's all.

Some interesting stories came out of Paducah during the flood. A farmer whose business was raising thoroughbred cattle saved the entire herd by building a raft and then using whiskey barrels for pontoons. What you might call a whiskey float, but it saved the cattle.

Brink and Pirl from somewhere in Pennsylvania have settled on the old location formerly held down by Barney Koster on North Main street. Being from Pennsylvania the affiliation is quite natural. It is the original oil state. Seems to me I have read somewhere something about the Drake well, which has a historic connection with the earlier Standard Oil Co. development.

President Teague of the California Fruit Growers Exchange offers $5,000 for a superior orchard heater or some other heating device which will overcome the objections to the methods now in use—antipathetically the smudge pot. Wish I could generate an idea which would add to my small bank account the substantial sum of $5,000. Well, if I could, there isn't telling what I could or would do with that sum of money.

The aeronautical breakfast during the coming air tournament to be held here sometime in June will be served with your feet on the ground. The breakfast club is to sponsor the food part of the program. There won't be any dips or air pockets. Just ham and eggs, symbols of the breakfast club menu.

And he said let there be light and there was more light. A certain superior court judge in a certain city with which you and I are familiar, dissatisfied with the illumination and the slow motion retail price of getting blinds and bits, issued a court order on a sheriff to supply the requested illumination, and it was done. Of course there was inquiry as "from whom to those as why," but in the final analysis it was discovered that the judge had ordered the sheriff to function 100 per cent in the fulfillment.

Ernest Vincent Wright, who wrote a novel of 50,110 words without a simile or even a married "e" in it, says if you think it's easy try it. I never thought any kind of writing was easy. It is one thing to collect the material and then fabricate the garment. Oftentimes I am able to collect the information which causes a story to get going and confusion getting it properly aligned. But they won't shoot you if you do your best.

Earthquake shock Thursday forenoon failed to disturb my equilibrium. Never even touched me. Was surprised when noticed there had been a firmamental agitation. Just as well pleased to have escaped the shock. My nervous system isn't earthquake proof. But Joe Steele felt the jar.
